EDITORIAL

If you forgot your Uncle Sam yesterday it's just too bad.

The fellow who goes into business on a shoe string, often gets out of it bare-footed.

Some men can move mountains but most of us have difficulty surmounting the mole hills that crowd our pathway through life.

Tired of living on apples, government potatoes and such, the miners have gone back in their holes to get out of the hole. Doesn't sound much like sense but just the same it's true. And one of the things that probably had a lot to do with settling the strike was the fact that they themselves were running out of coal.

YOUR RED CROSS

Where there is calamity from floods, fires, pestilence, famine and storms or war, there you find the world's greatest humanitarian institution at work. In a world where geographical lines, race and color and creed are "screened," this institution cares enough for discrimination. The Red Cross is a mission of mercy and covers its cloak of good works round an ailing globe. Money used by it binds wounds, shelters and feeds. Only through subscriptions is it able to meet the demands upon its services. We never know when we may be calling upon the Red Cross for succor. Let us help relieve another's misery and want as would have others help relieve our own.

TO BE OR NOT

There comes before Congress the issue of statehood for Alaska and Hawaii. Since last March these bills have been waiting a House debate and vote. It was two years ago that the Democrats and Republicans put statehood for Alaska and Hawaii in their political platforms. They were included for admission in the President's Civil Rights program.

Desiring statehood is not a new issue with our two major dependencies. For over ten years have they desired admission. By legislative act and by referendum vote their peoples have expressed their willingness. Why don't we act?

ASK A FARMER

A revolt against the sliding scale of parity payments is being staged by farmers, especially in the mid-west. Polls show they favor the Bramson plan of direct government payment, while reducing the prices to the consumer. The piling up of surpluses by the government, while food prices still remain high on these surpluses, is not only objected to by the farmers. We are affected by it and many here are violently objecting to such a set-up. With a drop of $5 to $6 billion in farm income, farmers fear income will drop even more under this sliding scale parity plan. That is their main concern. To the man who goes to the grocery store and pays eighty cents a pound for butter and there is a surplus, pays nearly 50 cents for 10 pounds of potatoes while the government is selling surplus potatoes back to farmers for a cent a 100 pounds, that concerns the consumer most.

THE FEAR OF SILENCE

Numerous cities have anti-noise campaigns to try to reduce traffic horn honking. Some people take cases to court protesting against noisy neighbors, noisy taverns. Noise seems to be an unavoidable feature of our civilization. As a whole, is in sympathy with those who object to the lack of peace and quiet. Many of us

The Bulletin's Scrapbook!

It Is To Know:

Keep angora sweaters from shedding and to fluff them, by storing in the refrigerator. To pick up broken glass, use a piece of absorbent cotton or a piece of bread. To make kid gloves more pliable, place in a damp towel before wearing them. Make next summer's Panama hat. Use a bleach to whiten, wash thoroughly and while wet, form into desired shape. Line bag and make drawstring through rings sewn to top or sides.

Tip For Spring

A top designer shows numerous dresses sporting aprons as a type of overskirt. The aprons may be pointed, square, pleated and saw-toothed. They can be slim fitting or flaring to fall in ripples on the side. The aprons are used on evening and cocktail dresses, on afternoon and sport dresses. They may be of contrasting color, be decorated or plain.

Inspirational

The shortest and surest way to live with honor in the world is to be in reality what we would appear to be; all human virtues increase and strengthen themselves by the practice, and experience of them.

tend the Lancaster County School Directors' meeting at Millersville Thursday. Announcement was also made that a new roof will be placed on the high school building.

don't realize though, how we surround ourselves with unnecessary noise, contribute to the din. Take a room full of people chatting with a radio going full blast. They aren't listening to the radio but all are trying to talk above it. They are aware of the radio but are not bothered by it, perhaps fearing the quiet. Psychologists might explain all of this as humanity's unrest, its desire to get away from thoughts and selves.

Is it that we don't like silence? Consider the number of people you know, who never like to be alone. There are many of these. They resist the idea of a quiet space, they must have others around them. Or else they must have a radio turned to high and loud. What is it these people fear?

IT'S ABOUT TIME

Around the middle of March, the maple sap starts running, up New England way. It starts later in some sections where milking the maple is done for profit. Maple syrup time is also time for pleasure. To the initiate of "sugaring off" the delectable flavor of the newly made sweet is nectar, the bright fires, clouds of steam, stoking beneath evaporators, frosty nights, hard work and neighborliness, is all a picturesque event.

This industry is an inheritance from the Indians who hacked the hard maples with an ax, collected the sap in a hollow log, destroying and wasting the trees that grow only in North America. Modern methods preserve the trees to help keep the world sweet with that thin, hittersweet flavor which has no substitute for the real thing. The falsely labeled "pure maple syrup" can fool some of the people, but not all of them, whose palate knows of the perfidy.

In maple sugar areas festivals are held to herald the season of "sugaring" and there are hundreds of thousands who attend. The man who brings home from there a can of freshly made maple syrup is bringing home a pearl of great price and the retail cost of the product makes it doubly precious. This crop of sugar and syrup is worth several million dollars. We acclaim the sections which produce it and the Indians for introducing it.

Joiners?
AREN'T WE ALL?

If you're a farmer, you belong to the Grange or the Farmers' Union. Maybe you're a merchant who supports the Chamber of Commerce or one of the service clubs. Or—as a skilled craftsman—you probably pay dues to a labor union.

Bankers, doctors, lawyers, carpenters, druggists, machinists—no matter what profession—they all belong to their own societies or associations.

Because—working together—they can get things done for the betterment of all concerned. Nearly always, that means for the good of the community at large.

For the same reason, veterans should work together for those things that are important to them—not only as veterans—but as taxpayers and citizens.

As an overseas veteran, you'll meet men who talk your language in the Veterans of Foreign Wars. And one of these days you will discover for yourself what other overseas vets have known for a long time—
