

C of C Will Celebrate Centennial During '50 Bulletin To Celebrate Its 50th Anniversary

Nineteen fifty-one will be Centennial Year for the Chamber of Commerce. Not only that, The Mount Joy Bulletin will celebrate its Golden Anniversary along about the same time. The Chamber will celebrate the end of its fiftieth year (under the same personnel and management all those years) June 1st.

The Bulletin has already started, over a year ahead of time, to make great preparations for its anniversary.

One of the things the Chamber is planning to do is use 100th Anniversary labels for use on letterheads and envelopes. These will not doubt sell for one cent a piece and it expects all business places and industries to use them. This is the year they really want to advertise our Borough and Community. More of this will be heard of in the near future.

The 100th Anniversary Committee consists of the following: Lester (Turn to page 6)

The city, all county boroughs and most rural sections are expected to observe the advance. Clock-switching will be general in the heavily industrialized areas of the East and in most of the nation's large cities.

STORE ROOM OF WOLGEMUTH INC. ENTERED BY THIEVES

The store room of Wolgemuth Inc., across the street from The Bulletin, was entered by thieves the other night. They must have been very well acquainted about the premises from the manner in which they gained an entrance. They went in an unlocked cellar door on the Delta street side of the building, then thru the cellar and up the cellar steps into the store room. Loot taken was an electric toaster, box of flashlight batteries, a radio, etc.

Drive For Funds For Memorial Day Now Under Way

The Citizens Memorial Committee are making great plans for our annual Memorial Day celebration.

Naturally to do this, it takes a great deal of money, and the only source of revenue is from you the public. In the near future, you will be solicited, and it is hoped you will give generously for this cause. This is your day, your parade and your entertainment. Give as much as you can.

Judge Guy K. Bard will be the speaker at ceremonies planned for Memorial Day in the Boro Park, it was announced by the Memorial Day Committee headed by Charles Bennett, Jr.

The program for the day will include services at the boro cemetery at 10 a. m. conducted by the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars; a parade at 2 p. m. with prizes totaling $1,225; housing of two new fire trucks at the fire house at 5 p. m.; Judge Bard's speech at 7 p. m.; and fireworks in the Boro Park at 9 p. m.

Local Rotarians At Dist. Confer. Held At Hershey

Delegates Wilbur Beahm and Ray Wiley gave a report of the District Conference, at Hershey, April 16 to 18th, at the regular Rotary Club meeting on Tuesday. Highlights of the conference were Sunday evening worship service in the Hershey Theatre. The sermon was delivered by Rev. H. Lewis Clark, Llanelly, Wales, a Rotary Foundation student, studying in New York City. Special music was rendered by the Lebanon Valley College Glee Club.

On Tuesday the Conference banquet was held at the Hershey Park (Turn to page 6)

Excitement Over Game Played 85 Miles Away

Talk about excitement, we had it here good and plenty Saturday afternoon at Shatto's Barber Shop. The three barbers as well as most of the patrons, are base ball fans and it is very seldom that you can't hear a game there over the radio.

The scene here was a tie game between Connie Mack's Athletics and the Boston Red Sox. They were in the last half of the 15th inning. Mack put in Paul Lehner as a pinch hitter and he smacked the first pitch into the stands for a home run, the A's winning 6 to 5.

The barbers were all busy but that smash was too much for Charlie Roth. They tell me he let out a yell, almost jumped over the customer on the chair and came (Turn to page 5)

IN STATE CHORUS FESTIVAL

Fourteen student singers from Lancaster City and County were chosen Sunday to sing in the All-State Chorus festival to be held in Harrisburg at the William Penn High School May 18, 19 and 20.

Officials of the Walter S. Ebersole Post 185, American Legion, have announced that delegates to the Co. Council meeting at Elizabethtown on Friday, April 28, will present an issue to start action on the care of mentally ill and to eliminate their being placed in county prison.

During a recent meeting of the post, the group voted to donate $200 to the Memorial Day Committee. It was also announced that bids will be received for the erection of a neon sign along the Harrisburg Pike to designate the location of the post home.

The group also accepted an invitation of the Salunga Fire Company to parade in Salunga on May 27. The parade is being held to house Salunga's new fire engine.

Safety Patrol Rally At Lanc. Free To Public

Five acts from the Pennsylvania State Police Rodeo, including the trained dogs, will be featured in the big program to be staged at Williamson Field of Franklin and Marshall College following the Annual Safety Patrol Parade in Lancaster on Saturday morning, May 6th. Eighteen school bands will march in the parade and will have part in the outdoor rally.

The Lancaster Automobile Club, sponsor of the parade and rally has announced that the Williamson Field program, which will start as soon as the final division of the parade enters the field, will be open to the public without charge. The West stands will be reserved for the marchers and the East stands will be available to the general public.

In addition to the trained dogs, the State Police rodeo acts will include a clown and donkey comedy sketch, trained horses, a colorful Indian drill and a balloon shooting act—all by officers from the State Police Training School at Hershey.

The parade, in which more than 3,000 Safety Patrol members and their bands will march, will start at 9:30 a. m. daylight time from Ann and East Chestnut streets. The route will be west on Chestnut St. to College Avenue, thence along College Avenue to Williamson Field.

HENRY W. GARBER

Henry W. Garber, who celebrated his seventy-ninth milestone on Saturday, is a native of our boro. He is a baker by trade and for many years was employed in local bakeries. He also worked at baking in Reedsville, Pa. for some time.

When the small local bakers were compelled to give way to large city bakeries, Mr. Garber took over a bread route here which he conducted for forty-two years.

Mr. Garber's wife, who died several years ago, was a Miss Buch, of Manheim. To this union two sons were born, Carl and Lloyd, both living with their father on West Main street. The latter is married. "Henry" is quite a baseball fan and his younger days played on local teams, pitching them to victory on numerous occasions.

MAN AND TRUCK COLLIDE LATTER GETS THE DAMAGE

It is rather difficult to believe but just the same it's true, Mr. Ragner Hallgren, one of our local hairymen, who tips the scales at over 200 and stands over six feet, was crossing the street at Harrisburg Saturday evening. Suddenly he was bumped on the shoulder but not even thrown off his stride.

Ragner at first thought a friend was saluting him but turning around discovered he was struck by a truck. A large rear vision mirror on an iron arm extending from the truck struck Mr. Hallgren as the truck passed. The mirror was completely demolished and the rod bent.

Ragner brushed off his shoulder and went about his business. And was that truck driver's face red?
