He's not worrying about security

And it's right that he shouldn't be . . . in fact he shouldn't have to worry about security for the rest of his life.

Of course it'll take some planning to banish security worries, planning you have to take care of now, that he'll have to shoulder later on. But planning can give him security.

He can be assured now of a good start in life if your insurance program includes provision for his college education. He can be assured, too, of income for the family after you have passed your best earning days, or in case anything were to happen that would leave him fatherless.

Adequate insurance protection for those close to you gives so much for so little that it's every man's duty to make sure his and his family's insurance coverage is fully sufficient.

"I AM AN AMERICAN DAY", 1950

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS our country, built by people of many races, creeds, and national origins, has become a preeminent force in the furtherance of the cause of human freedom; and

WHEREAS our Nation now needs, more than ever before, citizens who know and understand our great heritage of democracy, which stresses the creed of the good neighbor, equality of justice, and equality of opportunity; and

WHEREAS it is vitally essential that each citizen, naturalized or native-born, reaffirms his faith in the basic principles that mold our way of life by forthrightly assuming and carrying out the obligations of citizenship:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HARRY S. TRUMAN, President of the United States of America, under and by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Congress through Public Resolution 67, approved May 3, 1940, do hereby designate Sunday, May 21, 1950, as "I Am an American Day", and do set aside that day as a public occasion for the special recognition of those of our youth who have become of age and of those foreign-born who have been naturalized during the past year. And I urge all Americans at that time to reaffirm their devotion to the ideals that have shaped our Nation's destiny and to faithfully resolve that they will discharge the obligations of United States citizenship.

I call upon Federal, State, and local officials, as well as patriotic, civic, educational and other appropriate organizations and groups to arrange for suitable ceremonies on or about May 21, in which all our people may join with those who have newly assumed the responsibilities of American citizenship, with a view to promoting among all our citizens, old and new, a consciousness of their privileges and duties as Americans.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE in the City of Washington this 17th day of February in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and fifty, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and seventy-fourth

SEAL

By the President: HARRY S. TRUMAN
