EDITORIAL

Too many self-made men quit the job too early.

The man who really saves money today isn't a miser—he's a magician.

SUMMER DRIVING

Will the summer vacation be a pleasure, a carefree trip, a happy occasion, or will it be a calamity? Many summer vacations have tragic endings. The American Automobile Association states that last year set a record for vacation motor trips. This summer's record may exceed that. Highway accidents are the most frequent tragedy to end a vacation. Strange roads, new scenery, congested highways, make driving a hazard, because sight-seeing makes us careless in watching traffic that is ahead, behind and beside us. Often auto accidents are caused, not due to improper operation of our own car, but of what the OTHER driver is doing. As a man says, you have to be a mind reader to be safe on the highway. At least we can observe good driving habits and keep an eye on the other fellow. Caution shouldn't dampen your vacation enthusiasm.

MEMORIAL DAY

Memorial Day may be observed by some with puer spirit, afraid to face today's issues squarely, fearing that international dispute is a step closer to open warfare, that even a casual glance, not a complete, careful study, is needed to provide fresh proof of disorder and hot-heads, that simple, human problems are in the minority, that all has been for naught with our present safety endangered. In memory we relieve the past wars, the armistices, reparations, death rolls. There are hearts that still ache over lost ones who served for a cause that today looks like a lost cause. What a waste, you say.

In keeping with the recent conflict, plans are announced by the Defense Department for the selection of an unidentified service man of World War II on May 26, 1951, who subsequently will be buried in Arlington National Cemetery, a companion in death with the Unknown Soldier of World War I. Six unidentified bodies from five overseas theatres and the Alaskan Service Command, will be brought to the U. S. All branches of the Armed Services will be represented. The idea of interring an unknown soldier originated at the end of the First World War. England has its "Unknown Warrior", France its "soldat inconnu", buried beneath the Arc de Triomphe. The tomb is guarded by a perpetual flame which was not even extinguished during the German occupation. Other European capitals have these reminders of a war that was to end all wars. We too must not extinguish the flames that guard these unknown dead, in every land. We do not want to place a third unknown soldier, though in honored glory, beside the other two, in Arlington. This is our Memorial Day prayer.

A FINE KETTLE OF FISH

Where there is smoke there is fire and the smoldering odor coming from the mess of State Department infiltration of personnel sympathetic to Communism, grows stronger daily. Though no conclusive evidence has been drawn from recent testimony against some of the accused, it has developed that certain representatives of our government have been closely associated with known Communists or suspected Soviet agents. Is it not possible to find men for trusted posts who support their government loyally, who have no taint of being fellow travelers of questionable

Week's Best Recipe:

Chicken Cacciatore: One 4-lb. chicken, 1/2 c flour, 1 t salt, 1/2 c fat, 1/4 c chopped onion, 1 clove finely chopped garlic, 1/4 c chopped carrot, few sprigs of parsley, 1 basil, or bay leaf, 1 can tomato paste, 1/4 c water, 1 t salt, 1 t pepper, 1/4 c sherry or white wine, 1 package cooked noodles. Cut chicken into serving pieces. Sift together flour and 1 t salt. Dredge chicken and saute in fat until brown and remove. Saute onion, garlic, carrot, parsley and basil or bay leaf in same fat. Add tomato paste, water, 1 salt and pepper. Bring to a boil. Add chicken and wine and simmer 30 minutes. Pour sauce over cooked noodles and toss lightly. Arrange chicken on top. Yields 4-6 servings.

Decorate the Platter:
Platters of food, especially meats, can be decorated to add an attractive touch to an otherwise plain dish. Be it meat loaf or ham garnished with pineapple slices, you can dress up the dish with little effort. Make carrot curls by shaving the vegetable into very thin slices. Form them into a flower design, insert a bit of ripe olive in the center, fasten together with toothpicks and you have a black-eyed susan. You can take small cuts of almost any kind of vegetable and fruits, to make all sorts of flowers. Use parsley for the leaves.

A Crisp Summer

Organdy is the popular, crisp note for the summer wardrobe. It comes in such luscious colors and beautiful patterns. Some of the most expensive frocks made of organdy have wide pleatings as collars, capes, bustles. Others have organdy leaves or petals cut from a harmonizing shade, tucked by fine stitches in the center in order to give the appearance of dropped on the dress. Chiffon dresses have organdy jackets or redingotes. Crepe or cotton frocks have organdy collars, cuffs, bows and sashes.

The new fire truck was assembled by Robert H. Brubaker, Salunga mechanical engineer, and members of the fire company.

It has a seven-man enclosed cab that features a control panel warning system against doors not closed securely, and a signal system which permits communication with men elsewhere on the truck.

Other equipment includes a 600-gallon pump, booster tank, portable pump, and special lighting apparatus. Salunga firemen especially value their modern and speedy vacuum creator, they said, which gives them more fire-fighting power at rural fires.

Charles R. Myers will serve as parade marshal, Rev. John Ebersole will deliver the invocation at the outdoor program, Walter Eshelman will give the address of welcome, Simon H. Hiestand will review the company's history, and the East Hempfield High School Band will provide the music. Wilbur C. Hiestand, fire chief, is chairman of the arrangements committee.

Preparations have been made for a chicken corn soup supper following the parade.

They are provided for third and fourth class school districts by a State law passed in 1947.

With the growth of trailer camps, suburban and rural areas have been faced with the problem of giving schooling to trailer camp children whose parents do not ordinarily pay school taxes. The land on which trailers stand is subject to regular property tax but the trailer dwellers themselves are not.

John M. Swarr, secretary of the E. Hempfield board, estimated the tax will yield the school board between $1,000 and $1,500 a year. Failure to pay the tax, according to the proposed resolution, would provide penalties up to $3,000 fine and imprisonment of 10 days.

AMERICAN BANKING IN ACTION

YOUR HOUSEHOLD EQUIPMENT

It is estimated that by 1960, the replacement market for refrigerators alone will be 2.7 million. You can add another million for new homes and apartments. To supply the growing demand for refrigerators, washing machines, vacuum cleaners, food freezers, air conditioning units, radios and television sets, banks supply American industry with credit for materials, tools, payrolls and other essential needs. In addition, consumer credit at low cost helps you buy the equipment you need. For loans to finance modern household appliances, come see us.

ing. Financing of the trip was done through selling a line of gold and silver costume jewelry, sponsoring a semi-formal dance in the local high school; holding a food stand the three nights of the Lions Club Minstrel show, and Saturday, June 3, they will hold a food sale in front of Titus Rutt's Insurance office, on East Main Street. Since the trip entails a large sum of money, the girls are holding the sale the Saturday before they depart. To prepare for the trip, the girls studied menus, planned a route and made their own clothes. The entire group will be attired in green searsucker outfits.

June 5, 3:00 a.m. the group will leave Mt. Joy and head toward Rome, New York where they will eat lunch in Mrs. Albert's uncle's back yard and proceed to Thousand Islands, New York where they will take a boat trip of the islands and St. Lawrence River, and camp in the state park for the night. Tuesday, they will leave for Canada and camp in Trois Riviers, Quebec where they will visit a girl guide troop in that city. Wednesday, they will tour the city of Quebec and visit the St. Anne de Beaupre shrine and Montmorency Falls which are 107 feet higher than Niagara Falls.

Thursday the group will head back to the states via New England, visit the White Mountains of New Hampshire and camp in the heart of them in Lafayette Park. They'll visit the Flume, Old Man of the Mountain and ride to the top of the White Mountains in the aerial transway. Fridy they will go through Vermont, Massachusetts, and Connecticut, camp in Connecticut and arrive home Saturday.

The group will cook all meals out over the open fire and will sleep in sleeping bags and pup tents each night. Since the "Trip Camp" tour was introduced into the national Girl Scout program, troop No. 108 is the second troop in Lancaster County to take such a trip. Last year, a senior troop from Lancaster took a 2,000 miles trip to Canada and Illinois. Troop No. 108's trip will cover over 1600 miles.

When Poppies Pass

By Helen Harrington

Remember the men who can't forget the shattered earth, the bursting sky, the smoking waves, the flame-fired jet, and silent graves where buddies lie.

Remember the men whose wounds run deep in heart and mind and flesh, the men who carry pain, a bone, to sleep and wake to lonely pain again.

Remember the men who must recall the landing barge, the rotting beach, and Danger looming gun-barrel tall and Peace, a knife-point out of reach.

Remember the men who cannot speak or, speaking, cry from blades of grass, "For us the suns of spring are bleak . . . Remember us . . . when poppies pass."
