

NATIONAL ASSO. OF COST ACCOUNTANTS CONFERENCE
 Twenty-one members of the Lancaster Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants left Lancaster Sunday to attend the 31st International Cost Conference at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City from June 18th thru 22nd.

More than 3000 members of N.A.C.A., representing 103 chapters in the United States, Hawaii and Cuba and guests from fifty foreign countries are attending the conference. The general theme of the conference will be New Frontiers for the Industrial Account and will be developed by ten outstanding speakers at the five technical sessions. Numerous social events are scheduled in conjunction with the conference, including plant visitations, baseball games, a golf tournament and fashion displays for the wives of members who are attending. The social events was highlighted by the President's ball on Wednesday evening.

Local members of the Association are Harry S. Stark and Henry S. Kulp of the Bachman Chocolate Co. and Alvin B. Bigler of Armstrong Cork Co.

Prune Raspberries
 For a good crop of black raspberries next year, prune the tips of the new shoots when they are about 20 inches high this season, suggests C. S. Bitter, extension fruit specialist of the Pennsylvania State College. More side branches result.

IT'S FREEZING WEATHER NOW

on Progressive Farms!

Now is the time to buy a food freezer for your farm. Have a fresh fruit, vegetable and meat "market" at your finger tips the whole year 'round. It's a cinch with an electric farm-size food freezer. Thousands of Central Eastern Pennsylvania farm families are doing it.

Now's the time to plan your freezing schedule...to start with your first vegetable and fruit crops. As you freeze, you save. Follow simple freezing instructions (they come with every freezer) for each type of vegetable, fruit or meat. Package and mark them for easy selection. Store them in the freezer...and you've a food supply...home-grown, home-cooked, home-stored... from now till next season.

You'll eat all year long for only little more than the cost of your crop-gathering and butchery labors. And convenient! Think of meals stocked in the freezer for a busy fall harvest season. Whole meals can be prepared ahead of time...then out-of-the-freezer, on-to-the-stove, on-to-the-table and hungry hands are fed in record time. And every meal as tasty as today's pickings.

Your electric farm freezer is a versatile, year 'round store at your finger tips! See your local electrical appliance retailer today about the size freezer you need for your family and farm.
