erty to the state. Then came the hitch. State authorities decided that some additional land was needed to provide a well-balanced park. Land owners, it was learned, promptly boosted prices to $1000 an acre and then dropped to $500 an acre. Even that, state authorities said, is more than the state is willing to pay.

The Commonwealth, it was pointed out, could condemn the land and pay a price fixed by the board of viewers. However, at Harrisburg it was explained that the State Authority is in no frame of mind to force the gift of a park on the county if the people don't want to cooperate in obtaining it.

Col. James H. Wickersham, Lancaster contractor, chosen to plan and direct the building of the park, has completed much of the survey work, but with the state lacking possession of the land he can go no further.

Maybe has been one of the most enthusiastic backers of the proposed park.

The State Authority planned to rebuild the White Oak dam, swept away by a flood several years ago, and later partially rebuilt. It proposed to build a two-lane road across the dam and create a lake in which swimming and fishing would have been possible.

Along the shores, plans called for facilities for picnics and outings.

State Senator G. Graybill Diehm was interested in the park and did much towards having the Authority approve the project.

What happens next no person in authority would guess. One high state official said merely, "At those land prices I guess the project will fall through."

Harvesting Grain

mately three acres in an hour. If grain were put away today the same way it was done 50 years ago, we'd all starve. Bixler commented at that time it took 25 men to do the same job that two can handle today.

Newest harvesting equipment to make the job go more quickly and more easily is the self-propelled wheat combine which is becoming a more common sight on many county farms. This piece of equipment, as its name indicates, comes equipped with its own driving apparatus and is not attached to a tractor. The grower simply goes over the field of ripe grain with his combine—a cylinder knocks out the grain and a shaker separates the grain from the straw. Grain may automatically be deposited into a bin or bagged on the combine and if the farmer has a truck or two he can load directly out of his bin without bothering with bags.

Another trip over the field with a baler, collects the straw, bales it and, if a wagon is attached, the straw bales can be stacked onto the wagon and hauled directly into the barn.

SALUNGA MAN INJURED TRYING OUT NEW TRUCK

The new Lancaster Speedway has had its first casualty, although the half-mile dirt track in Pequea Valley isn't scheduled to open until Saturday night.

While trying out the track in a pleasure car, Earl Way Jr., twenty, Salunga, lost control on a turn and, crashing through a guard rail, overturned in a field, about 8 p.m. Tuesday night, it was reported.

Taken to St. Joseph's Hospital by automobile, he was treated for a possible fractured collarbone and later discharged.

Way is a son of J. Earl Way, Salunga.

OPPORTUNITY FOR WOMEN TO MAKE A CAREER

There is an all-out effort being exerted by Army and Air Force leaders to make a career for women in the service both attractive and rewarding.

Every new recruit is given scientific aptitude tests and interviewed by skilled classification specialists. This new vocational guidance program adopted by the Army and the Air Force eliminates any possibilities of malassignment. All girls entering the service are schooled after their basic training to adequately prepare them for their ultimate assignments.

4400 FARMERS KILLED 300,000 INJURED

DON'T "CULTIVATE" ACCIDENTS ON YOUR FARM

A field half plowed—a furrow left unturned—work stopped by accident!

To the farmer, working against time and weather, delay can mean the difference between a crop and no crop, a good year or a lean one. So accidents have no place in his schedule; they cost money, delay production—and the growing season keeps rolling along.

Yet, farming ranks third most hazardous in eight major industries. Think of it, while the death rate for all industry is 29 per 100,000 workers, in agriculture it is 55 per 100,000! One farmer in every 15 is injured on the job! Total—4400 killed, 300,000 disabled by injury every year.

The wise farmer knows where his hazards are—and avoids them. Falls, machinery and animals account for most accidents down on the farm. Their annual cost—$25,000,000. Yet, they're so easy to prevent. Just a little caution is all it takes.

Don't "cultivate" accidents and losses! Instead, "cultivate" safety and success!
