EDITORIAL

Families here are already fussing over their favorite picnic sites.

We haven't seen one robin with a sun tan thus far. They must have had a severe winter in Florida too.

We sincerely hope that the crime investigation won't wind up as a waste-paper campaign.

The State Supreme Court has before it the question whether a $5 head tax on employees levied by the school district of York is legal and equitable.

This decision will certainly be of interest to many.

YOUR "HEART-POWER"

We give you from "Your Blood Pressure and Your Arteries", a Public Affairs pamphlet: The heart is a hollow, muscular organ about the size of a grapefruit but infinitely tougher. Compared with mechanical motors, the heart seems weak: it is rated as only one-two hundred fortieth horsepower. But the average heart pumps nine or ten tons of blood every day, handling the body's entire stock of blood about once a minute. If the heart's labor over 48 years could be concentrated in a single moment, it would be enough to lift both the Queen Elizabeth and the Queen Mary out of the water.

CONTINUED DIGGING

Washington probes are digging into big deals in U. S. surplus material abroad, while the Kefauver group corners racketeers and the Fulbright committee protests the lending policies and practices of the Reconstruction Finance Compensation. The influence peddlers, the "five percenters" of old, have given cause for an investigation. The disposal of surplus war material abroad involves as much as $100 million in these influenced transactions. Having an "in" has built many a fortune for individuals who buy, lease and sell government surplus. Honest citizens want these names and facts publicized.

A-PLANNING WE WILL GO

The apartment dwellers begin to plan for his window box, the city gardener makes plans for a 4x4 plot. The spot may be one where tomato plants and marigolds vie for space, onions challenging nasturtiums. Perhaps you do it on a big scale where you till the soil with machinery and extra manpower. Your flower beds may be a glorious expanse of bloom that invites tours by the garden club. Whatever your lot be it window box or acres, there is effort expended in growing food for the table, flowers for the vase. But in this growing, whether it is snipping off the dead leaves of the potted geraniums or spraying an orchard, the satisfaction we derive from our gardening exploits, is worthy of our time and money. Many a green thumb in Mount Joy is already busy at work. May the weather favor us.

NOT AS CHILDREN, AS MEN

Indiana University isn't the only college where fraternities are turning from the senseless, juvenile custom of hazing pledges, but we would like to give you a few of the many ways the men of this university are working for community service. Instead of hazing, pledges of one fraternity painted a community building which provided educational and recreational facilities for children of working mothers. Another supplied a family of 14 with heating, repaired the roof of the home, repaired a used stove and installed it. Another painted the city band shell, mowed park lawns, landscaped city property.

Pledges have shovelled snow, cut wood, carried water and coal for the assistance of the needy. They have colored 400 dozen eggs for their Easter party for the city's young, have had Halloween and Christmas parties for undernourished children, adopted a war orphan. They have built tables, benches, swings, a picnic fireplace for a nursery school in a trailer court for married students. Have arisen at 5 A.M. to shovel leaves on trucks to remove a fire hazard over the city, since the city itself had neither the manpower or machinery available. There is more and more, all humanitarian work, training men for community service. It is far wiser than hazing of pledges and teaches true brotherhood, which is fraternity.

LET US GO ON FROM HERE

The big story of crime, the presentation to a vast audience of hoodlums and mugs of the underworld, has aroused the American people to fever pitch, during the Kefauver committee's investigation. The feigning-in of mobsters with local politicians and officers, the far-reaching effects of these criminals, has astounded and disgusted the country. It is a lesson to remember, that illicit money corrupts. Such may bring power but this kind of power is shabby and will not last long. Salary boosts for city offices through "hush" money, money to further political aspirations from gamblers, murderers, thieves, leaves a stench that permeates the entire nation. The end is not in sight for further odiferous revelations are to come.

There are some among us who say "they will never do anything with these crooks". There are others who believe this investigation is going to cause citizens to lose respect for their local government officials, to question any one who aspires for public office. Perhaps we need such a "jolt". It may do no more than cause the voters to be more cautious, more discriminating, more inquisitive about candidates from here on out, whether local, county, state or national. But, is not this alone a good thing? We believe that this government crime committee is not playing a game of "cops and robbers", that they are sincere and will benefit the nation through their investigation.

Your Assistance

to the less fortunate. For that we are sincerely grateful.

The local drive was one of hundreds of such drives throughout the 48 states held under the direction of the National Society of Crippled Children and Adults and its 2,000 affiliates.

Local funds will be utilized for local services, with only 8.3 per cent of the total raised going to the National Society to maintain its three-point program of research, education, and service.

Services provided locally and financed by Easter Seal contributions include: Orthopedic clinics held weekly, corrective shoes and braces purchased, physical therapy treatments given, transportation to and from clinics, and speech therapy for those who cannot talk.

RECEPTION FOR NEW MEMBERS

The members of St. Mark's Evangelical United Brethren Church who joined the church during the past year will be honored at a reception to be held in the church on Tuesday evening, April 17 at 7:30 p. m. The chief feature of the program will be the showing of pictures of the Holy Land, by Dr. C. E. Hershey, Evangelist, from Marion, Ohio. Dr. Hershey has traveled in many different countries. His most recent trip was made to the Holy Land, and the pictures he will show were taken on this trip. They are organized under the theme, "From Egypt To Calvary." Members of the church and friends are cordially invited to attend. A social period in the social rooms of the church will follow the program in the church sanctuary.
