Orange and Semi-Sweet Chocolate Make Novel Flavor Combination

Newest of dessert treats combine the flavors of fresh orange and semi-sweet chocolate. A delightful way to enjoy this flavor harmony is in a home-made orange cake that can be iced with a delicious chocolate frosting made with semi-sweet chocolate morsels, or the cake can be topped with ice cream and sauced with chocolate. Also included is a simple Chocolate Duet recipe that makes either frosting or sauce, depending on the amount of milk added.

Orange Cake

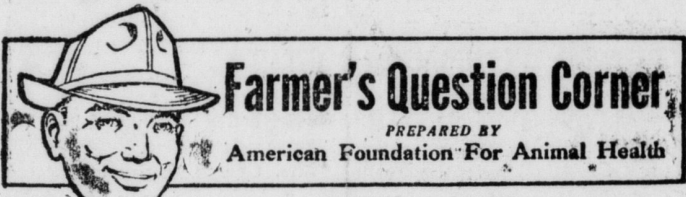

3 cups sifted cake flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
3 eggs
1/2 cup orange marmalade
2 tablespoons grated orange rind
1 cup orange juice

Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, blending together until light and fluffy. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Stir in marmalade and orange rind. Add flour alternately with orange juice, mixing well, ending with flour. Turn batter into well greased pan (10"x13"x3"). Bake in a moderate oven (350 F.) 30 minutes. Cut cake into squares, top with slice of ice cream, and serve with chocolate sauce, or frost cake with chocolate frosting. If desired, top with whole or chopped nuts. YIELD: 24 squares.

Chocolate Duet (Frosting or Sauce)

1 package semi-sweet chocolate
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
3 to 4 tablespoons hot milk, for frosting
1/2 cup hot milk, for sauce
1 teaspoon vanilla

In top of double boiler put semi-sweet chocolate and butter. Heat until melted and mix until smooth. Remove from heat. For frosting add milk and sugar alternately, adding enough milk to make a spreadable consistency. Stir in vanilla. For sauce, increase milk to 1/2 cup. YIELD: Frosting for top of 10x15 inch cake, or 1 1/2 cups chocolate sauce.

What About Acetonemia of Dairy Cows?

Q: What causes this dairy cow disease?

A: The exact cause is unknown. The sickness is somehow related to faulty intake or utilization of carbohydrate foods.

Q: What types of cows are most susceptible?

A: Usually the best producing cows and the good feeders seem most prone to acetonemia or, "ketosis," as it is sometimes called.

Q: How does the disease act?

A: The cows go off feed rather quickly. Some are highly nervous and lick themselves. There is quick loss in weight; radical drop in milk production. The breath may have a sour-vinegar odor. The cow may scour and even go down.

Q: Can the disease be cured?

A: When treatment is started early by a skilled veterinarian most of death losses can be avoided. However, recovery is often slow and requires careful nursing to bring milk production back to normal.

Q: Is acetonemia easily confused with other diseases?

A: Yes, it may look like plant or forage poisoning, or milk fever, when it hits cows that recently calved. Veterinarians usually run a chemical test for sure diagnosis.

Q: What precautions can one take to avoid this trouble?

A: Talk over feeding schedules with the veterinarian to correct errors. Be sure that cows have plenty of green hay during the winter. If a cow goes off feed, don't guess; get a diagnosis. Prompt action may save a valuable animal.

STOCK LOSSES DUE TO WOUNDS

Remember the old saying: "For want of a nail the horse is lost." Equally true is another adage reason is that nail punctures of that "because of nails thousands of horses and mules are lost". The horses' feet bring grave danger of fatal lockjaw, unless proper preventive measures are taken. No wound on an animal should be considered a trivial matter. For one thing, animal skins are invariably contaminated with germs capable of causing blood poisoning, gas gangrene or lockjaw. And in many sections, larvae of screw worm flies may cause fatal damage in neglected wounds.

Proper care may save lockjaw losses.

Simple small wounds can be washed with soap and water and dusted or dabbed with an antiseptic dressing. Sometimes livestock owners seek to promote healing by plastering wounds with mud or a spider web. Such measures increase the danger of infection and should never be used.

Deep or extensive wounds, or those of the puncture type, should always be handled by a veterinarian, for preparation of the wound area, drainage and suturing are essential to proper recovery and function.

The 81st Annual Landisville Camp July 20th to 29th

The 81st Annual Landisville Camp Meeting will be held July 20 to 29th, in the beautiful grove at Landisville, located on the Harrisburg Pike, eight miles west of Lancaster.

The Rev. Dr. Luther H. Ketels, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Lancaster, will again serve as the Spiritual Director, and the Rev. James H. Bailey, pastor of the Broad Street Methodist Church, Lancaster, Director of Music. The camp is under the auspices of the Methodist Church, but is conducted on an inter-denominational basis. The Rev. Joseph Brookshire, of Lexington, Kentucky, will be the evangelist throughout the week, beginning Sunday afternoon July 22 and continuing through the closing Sunday, July 29th.

Music will be provided each night by outstanding choirs and choruses, and the following instrumentalists: Kathleen B. Stetler and Anna Mary Herr, pianos; Wayne W. Winters, William E. Portner, and Jack Stetler, trumpets; Robert E. Laushey, trombone; Richard R. Trimble, clarinet; and Lois Trimble Laushey, marimba. Cooperating choirs include the Millersville Methodist Church; First Methodist Church, of Columbia; Broad Street Methodist Church, First Methodist Church, St. Paul's Methodist Church, Otterbein Evangelical United Brethren Church, all of Lancaster; First Church of God, Landisville, and the East Petersburg Male Accappella Chorus.

The Camp Meeting will open with the Sacrament of the Holy Communion on Friday, July 20th, 7:45 o'clock, administered by the Spiritual Director, assisted by the Methodist pastors and visiting ministers. A communion meditation will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. Leon T. Moore, newly-appointed superintendent of the West District of the Philadelphia Conference of the Methodist Church. The choir of the First Methodist Church, Lancaster, will sing. A full-length sound film entitled "Second Chance", will be shown by the Rev. Mervis V. Fridinger, on Saturday, July 21st at 7:45 o'clock.

On Sunday, July 22nd, the Rev. Dr. Levi H. Zerr, Administrative Director of the Methodist Church Home at Cornwall, will preach the memorial sermon at 11:00 A. M. The Rev. Robert C. Pike, pastor of the Mount Joy and Salunga Methodist Churches, will preside. Music will be provided by a mixed quartet from the Mount Joy Church; also, Nelda B. Sutton, soprano.

Evangelist Brookshire will deliver his first message in the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and will preach again at the 7:45 o'clock service. In the afternoon the choir of the First Methodist Church, Columbia, will sing, and in the evening, the choir of the St. Paul's Methodist Church, Lancaster.

On Thursday afternoon, July 26, at 2:30 o'clock, Mrs. Charles E. Workman will review the book, "The Valley of Vision", by Vardis Fisher.

On Sunday, July 29th, the morning service will be held at 11:00 o'clock with the Rev. Dr. Byron K. Horne, president of Linden Hall Junior College, preaching, and the Rev. Pike presiding. The choir of the First Church of God, Landisville, will sing. The East Petersburg Male Accappella Chorus, under the direction of Willis S. Nolt, will provide the music at the afternoon service.

The closing service of the Camp Meeting will be held at 7:45 P. M., with Evangelist Brookshire preaching. The choir of the First Methodist Church, Lancaster, will sing. The usual closing ceremony of the Camp Meeting will be conducted by Dr. Ketels.

A Vacation Bible School is held daily on the Camp Ground from 9:30 to 11:30 A. M., beginning on Saturday morning, July 21st. It is under the direction of Miss Kathleen B. Stetler, assisted by Miss Mary Jane Zimmerman.

There is no admission charge to the Camp Ground during the Camp Meeting and ample free parking space is available. The Camp Grove is open to both family and church groups and affords excellent opportunity for a day's outing.

Following the Camp Meeting, Community Vesper Services will be held in the tabernacle each Sunday evening during August. The entire community is cordially invited to join in these services.
