

OWL LAFFS

A WISE OWL

A newly married couple here decided to take up hunting as a hobby—he hunts golf balls and rabbits and she hunts bargains.

Here's a clipping somebody mailed in to us this morning:

A kiss is a peculiar proposition; of no use to ONE; absolute bliss for TWO; the small boys gets it for NOTHING; the young man has to STEAL it; and the old man has to BUY it; it is the baby's RIGHT, the lover's PRIVILEGE; and the hypocrite's MASK. To a young girl it means FAITH, to a married woman, HOPE, and to the old maid CHARITY.

A group of local men were discussing women's talkativeness. Finally one man said, "No woman could talk as much as my Aunt Bella. She was married to my Uncle Henry for thirty years before she found out he was deaf and dumb."

"Love," said Fanny, the red-headed office girl, "is the funny feeling that you have when you feel that you have a feeling that you never felt before."

The time may come when Uncle Sam will be spoken of as a great guy while he had it.

These are the kind of conversations that throw me for a loss. It's one I overheard while waiting to go through the checkers at the Acme on Saturday.

First lady: "Athena told me you told her that bit of gossip I told you not to tell anybody."

Second female: "I'll tell her off; I told her not to tell you I told."

First lady: "Well, I told her I wouldn't tell her that she told me so don't tell her I told you."

I've found that the best way to entertain people is to sit down and let them talk.

A man was applying for a job. "Are you a clock watcher?" asked our interviewer.

No, answered the man. "I don't think much of inside work. But I'm a whistle listener."

Here's a right smart classified advertisement we got yesterday—2 Silex Steam Irons at 9.95 each. Will steam open your pores as you iron. Save money on facials, have more time for your housework. The iron is guaranteed to hold together for one year. Your face is your own business. Iron was 15.70. --- fact is no bargain, either.

Walked in on quite a family row on Donegal St. Monday. As I stood at the door trying to decide whether to stick it out or leave quietly before they started to throw things, this was what I heard:

Husband (to nagging wife): Shut up, willya?
Wife: I will not! Patrick Henry fought to give me the right to speak.
Husband: Why don't you go talk to him then?

Shorty Engle says now he's heard everything. Last week a recent bride came into the shop and Shorty asked: And what can I do for you?
She answered: I want a pound of mince meat and will you please cut it from a nice tender, young mince?

If you haven't seen Charlie Bennett's butterfly shirt he brought back from Bermuda, you haven't lived. Just a word of warning - wear sun glasses.

A GI and his war bride became friends of an Australian lady. On the arrival of her fourth child, they sent her a play pen as a gift from America. The thank-you note left them somewhat astonished: Thank you so much for the pen. It is a perfect godsend; I sit in it every

Those In Service

With the 7th Inf. Div. in Korea—Pvt. John A. Fletcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Fletcher of Rt. 2, Mount Joy, is serving with the 7th Infantry Division in the front lines of Korea.

The division now attacking Communist positions in rugged terrain above the 38th parallel, is a veteran unit of the war and has been in Korea more than a year.

It participated in the initial liberation of Seoul and the drive to the Manchurian border.

He recently joined the 7th Division's 15th Field Artillery Battalion in Korea. He has six months of service in the Army and joined the 7th Division in September 1951.

TWO LOCAL MEN LED E-TOWN TO A 5 TO 4 VICTORY

A pair of former Mount Joy High School soccer stars put on a rousing finish at Wilkesbarre Saturday to lead Elizabethtown College to a 5-4 win over Wilkes college. It was the Flown booters third win in four games. The former Mount Joy ace, George McCue and Bill Beaton booted home three goals between them in the last period to overcome a 4-2 Blue Jay deficit.

Wilke held a 3-2 margin at half time and upped it to 4-2 going into the last period when the duo went to work. Beaton kicked in two of the goals and McCue tallied the other.
