

OWL LAFFS

— BY — A WISE OWL

Met a fellow from Florin going down Main street the other day wearing three flashy neckties. I asked him how come, and he said that probably the family will take the hint this Christmas.

"Hap" Mateer was up in Perry County last week hunting deer. He is very fond of toast so he took his electric toaster along. Imagine his disappointment when he learned there was no electric current. Of course "Hap" did like the rest—stuck the bread on a long handled fork and held it over the logs in an open fire place.

We know he was only kidding, but when one of our womenfolk went to Krall's today, she asked "Shorty" if he had a "nice round steak", and Shorty remarked: "What do you care about the shape as long as it's tender!"

While up deer hunting Pete Zerphery was sure he was coming down with something. He had been out tramping and came back to camp wet sweated. He told his wife he was sure he had a fever, he's burning up and she answered: "No wonder you're hot! It's like summer outside and you've got long, wool underwear on plus a Woolrich hunting suit." — He had buck fever.

While Christmas shopping I was in an elevator with a young Marine and his wife, and she was reading him the rules because he had been eyeing a striking blonde. She scolded: "No good Marine would even look at another man's wife."

He retorted: "You wouldn't want me to be a no good Marine, would you?"

I understand the fellows that go deer hunting with "Kelly" says he must either use a automatic rifle the next trip or stay at home. "Fat" Wertz says: "when 'Kelly' saw a 'buck,' he shot at the deer once and missed, then in the excitement he pumped the rest of the loaded shells from his rifle to the ground while trying to get more shots at the animal."

Lupold, the proprietor of the place, where these fellows stayed, is trying to get a bed that will stretch, for Bob Frey's benefit, he says he may have to make one out of rubber.

"Jetter" Grove, a member of the same crowd, told me that Capt. Fitzkee is quite improved from their last trip. This year he led all the drivers in the direction of the watchers. — Last year he drove them in the opposite direction of the watchers.

I don't know how it happens, but every now and then a bit of poetry sneaks into the column. Such as this — "My holdup days are over, I'll hang round these joints no more."

Thus spoke the worn out garter Collapsing on the floor! And this — "Folks saw a garden wedding The day Sue married Pete. She was an old tomato And he was a dead beat."

SALUNGA

Officers for the ensuing year were elected Wednesday night during a meeting of the Salunga Fire Company.

They are: Walter Eshleman, president; Harold Myers, first vice-president; Ray Wiley, second vice-president; Emanuel Bomberger, secretary; Robert Brubaker, treasurer; Wilbur Heistand, fire chief; Charles Myers, first assistant; Phares Stehman, second assistant; Robert Brubaker, chief engineer; Christ Keller, John Kendig, Stanley Hossler, Walter Eshleman and Charles Ament, drivers; Benjamin Hess and Phares Stehman, trustees for three years.

It was announced that the local fire police card party netted $155 which was turned over to the company's building fund.

Two firemen, Phares Stehman and Ray Wiley, were named to represent the company with a group of local residents who are planning the erection of a community Christmas tree in front of the fire hall.

Tentative plans also were made for the Father and Son banquet to be held early next year. This committee was named to make the arrangements: George McFarland, Christ Keller and John Kendig.

A RECRUITING DRIVE IS NOW UNDERWAY

Lt. Colonel S. D. Kaufman, of Strasburg, Commanding Officer of the 330th Engineer Combat Battalion, Lancaster County Reserve Unit, announced that enlistments are being accepted in the Unit and that an "all-out" recruiting drive is now under way.

Kaufman said that "although we do not contemplate being called to active duty in the foreseeable future we are bringing our battalion up to authorized strength and have need of new recruits to fill the shoes of men who will be discharged after their current enlistment expires."

Any Veteran of the Armed Forces who was honorably discharged can enlist within ninety days after discharge, in the grade held at the time of discharge or possibly at a higher grade if he possesses certain skills there is an opening for that grade in the Unit. Enlistments are for a period of three years.
