SALUNGA

Young People's Group Rendered A One-Act Play

The Young People's group of Salunga Methodist Church presented a one-act Christmas play, "The Candle in the Window." The children's choir assisted. The Rev. Robert Pike, pastor, was in charge. The cast included: Loretta Schweitzer, James Entertine, Barbara Blessing, Doris Entertine, Patsy Schweitzer, James Newcomer, Duane Wagner, Betty Lou Wagner, Dick Peifer, James Wagner and Mrs. Robert Pike.

The Junior Choir of the Methodist Church had a Christmas party Saturday at the home of Martha Ann and Jean Ellen Pettit. There were 15 present including the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Pike. Gifts were exchanged and games played.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Salunga Fire Company held their Christmas party on Monday evening with twenty-six persons present. Hostesses were Mrs. Walter Eshleman, Mrs. Albert Hiestand, Mrs. Henry Hiestand, Mrs. Wilbur Hiestand and Mrs. Benjamin Hess.

Mrs. Benjamin Witmer and son, Ben, and daughter, Patsy spent Christmas with Theo. Walters and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Walters are spending the holidays at Orlando, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. David Sterringer and son, John David and Mrs. Lillian Sterringer of Lancaster spent Christmas day with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peifer.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hiestand entertained at a family dinner on Christmas day. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Druceker and son, Jimmie and daughter, Joyce, of Lancaster 88, Mr. and Mrs. Lovorne Hiestand and sons, Rogers and Leslie, of Mannheim; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cogley and son, Dickey, of Ortanna and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McFarland and sons Dennis and Douglas.

Fertilizing Important In Balanced Farm Plan

Farmers in every part of the nation are realizing more and more the importance of well-balanced fertilizing programs to build production and soil structure.

Ben Vossen, who farms near Watkins, Minn., believes his investments in lime and fertilizer have done more for his farm than anything in his career.

The results of one of his investments are shown in the above picture. At the right is a run-down field of bluegrass overgrown with buck grass. At the left is a field of oats after the buck grass was sprayed to kill it, grubbed and plowed under.

Farmer Vossen inspects his field of oats. At the right is the field of bluegrass overgrown with buck grass. Fertilizing has turned the oat field into a high producer.

Vossen limed and fertilized the oat field with plant food carrying nitrogen, phosphate and potash before he seeded it. He keeps the field in oats two years, then seeds down to an alfalfa crop. He takes hay and pasture off as long as the stand is productive. He helps lengthen its life by top-dressing regularly with manure.

The use of lime and fertilizer pays off in much bigger hay yields, Vossen reports. He harvested eight tons of hay on two acres that used to produce about one-half ton of timothy.

Total Feed Supply Will Be Higher Than Last Year

With the approach of the 1951-52 feeding season, livestock feeders will be interested to know that the expected total supply of feed grains and concentrates will be greater than last year, according to the bureau of agricultural economics.

The available supply of feed will permit livestock to be fed at about the same rate per unit as last season. The number of animals to be fed, however, is also expected to be greater. An estimated 174 million animals will be on hand as compared with last year's 168 million.

A larger acreage and a fair carry-over is expected to provide a larger corn supply. About 4 billion bushels is expected to be available for the 1951-52 season.

The total supply of corn, oats, grain sorghums, and barley for the coming season is estimated to be 127.1 million tons. This compares with last season's total of 125 million tons of grain.

The department reported total crop production may be the second highest in history in 1951.

Tractor Drawbar

A heavy piece of angle iron bolted to the rear of a tractor and extending well beyond the wheels makes harrowing easier (fastening the harrow with a long chain hitch, especially when making turns at the ends of the field. Bolted to the drawbar it can be removed when not in use.

Iowa Tests Show Value Of Alfalfa for Swine

Everyone knows that alfalfa pasture is good for hogs. But just how good? The Iowa experiment station thought that one way to find out would be to feed one batch of hogs on dry lot; and another on alfalfa.

They found that the biggest value in alfalfa comes from a swing in high-cost protein and mineral supplement. Hogs gained faster on alfalfa.

Careless Users—Not Matches Real Cause of Unwanted Fires

If a common match could speak, it might well warn:—"I have a head, but no brains—so use your head when using mine!"

Considering that Americans light 500 billion matches a year—nearly a million every minute—it's advice worth keeping in mind; also, is the fact that matches don't cause unwanted fires—only careless users do.

To assure safety and quality of matches, American manufacturers subject them to a total of 37 research and control tests. Wood and paper are carefully selected so the splints have proper strength and stiffness; the splints are impregnated to prevent "afterglow" and the hazard of falling embers; match heads are watched for "over" and "under" sensitivity—so on striking they don't ignite too easily or require too much pressure; to ignite American matches, at least 300 degrees F is required—heat hot enough to bake cookies; no poisonous ingredients are used in U. S. matches; and, tests by independent laboratories prove that the chemicals in present day matches are distasteful to rats and mice—that even when starving these rodents will not gnaw matches and so start fires.

Most common violations of match safety by users, according to authorities, are the following: Discarding a match after lighting without making sure the flame is extinguished; permitting young children easy access to matches; storing matches on the kitchen range, or other "hot spot"; failure to heed the 40-year-old warning on book matches—"Close cover before striking match"; and the habit of some smokers who hold the top of the book close to the flame of a match when lighting a cigarette, cigar, or pipe, thus making a fue which might ignite the whole book.

So... "Play safe! Always respect fire!"

It is always an easy proposition to stand on the sidelines and criticize the players.

Door Stop for Garage or Barn
AN easy way of controlling an open garage or barn door is illustrated. Bend one side of a strap hinge, attaching the bent half to the door with screws so that the straight end touches the ground at 45 degrees.

Fasten a short piece of coil spring to the door and loose end of the hinge. The spring will hold the door stop in place on the ground. It also will cause it to snap back after the hinge has been flipped up to move the door.

This is strictly a "do it yourself" device which is cheap and always works.

"I CERTAINLY WOULD NOT BE WITHOUT IT," says Berks County dairyman Martin Wolfskill of his electric milk house heater.

Dairyman Wolfskill has eliminated many winter-time worries in managing his 30-head herd on RD #1 in Robesonia, Pa. He says, "This electric milk house heater keeps the water pipes from freezing, the milk house warm, equipment working better and the floors dry."

For a slight investment in a compact, milk house heater such as the one shown in Mr. Wolfskill's milk house above, more and more Central Eastern Pennsylvania dairymen are enjoying greater winter time comfort and convenience.

See your local farm equipment dealer today. Install your electric heater and work in a comfortable dry milk house this winter.
