

OWL LAFFS BASKETBALL

A WISE OWL

Talk about a dirty dig, here's one that would not only stop a clock but a truck.

A lady living up town met an East Main street woman she has known for years but never really liked, at the Post office. The uptown woman said "Why - - - You look like a million."

The down town lady thanked her very kindly but couldn't understand the courtesy and remarked: "Just what do you mean, dollars or years?"

When you get one on our good friend Jim Krall you must arise early and keep your wits.

Jim was making the usual rounds when a lady on his route started to bawl him out because, as she claimed she found a piece of an auto tire in the hamburger.

But Jim was right there with the answer when he remarked: "My dear lady, that is just another illustration of how the automobile is replacing the horse."

When I was a kid my mother insisted that I carry an onion in my pocket to keep the snakes away. We have a cook who carries an onion around in her coat pocket but it must be for another reason—no snakes out now.

Judge to Joshua (who had been picked up on suspicion): "Are you the Joshua who made the sun stand still?"

Joshua: "No sah, yer honah, ah is the Joshua who made the moon shine still."

A tobacco farmer was asked why he refused to allow his daughter to enroll at College.

"Wal," he replied, "I started git-in' mad when they told her to go to the Registrar's office to matriculate, but by cracky, I shees put my foot down when they said she had to use the same curriculum as the men!"

Kersey Frank says its pretty tough to save for a rainy day the way it keeps on raining.

No folks that broken window on the second floor down at Bill Zesmer's is not the result of a cyclone. Bill was counting his day's receipts the other night when out of nowhere came a teeny weeny little mouse, ran up his pant leg and he was so badly frightened he went right thru the window. Get him to tell you about it.

Two West Donegal street women were discussing their husbands in front of our office the other day when one said: "Well my hubby is lucky. Seems that everything he touches turns to gold."

The other lady replied: "Gosh then you must be worth a million."

They tell me that Reno is the only place in the world that the cream of the crop goes thru the separator.

Harry Darrenkamp told a customer, "never put off a hard job till tomorrow. Put it off for good."

A chap from Florin told me you can have a swell time by drinking a gallon of gasoline, mixed with hot sauce and dish-water.

A hobo asked a lady for food and she said: "Sure I'll give you something but first, do you see that pile of wood over there?"

He said: "Yes lady, you saw me see it but you won't see me saw it."

You know, this column would be a little longer this week - - - but kin I help I can't spell so good - - - Anyway, Greiner can't make me believe that "Hunc" Shatz thinks a Shuffleboard is something good to eat.

THE LOW DOWN

HICKORY GROVE

Well, nice people, at this time of year, and trying to deduct what to do next, is not too difficult, if we will tune-out the rattle and clatter talk—relax—be ourselves.

Our nation in a 150 years has grown into quite some punkins. With more ice boxes, telephones, automobiles, ye Olde Beauty Shoppes, darkened night spots, and killings on our highways, than enjoyed by any other nation, we are feeling our oats. And to wait out and examine an old tried and true saying, "chestnut goeth before a fall," it is time, almost, to call the ambulance.

Nobody likes a wise guy, a braggart. With biggity, free spending type Govt., we have made many friends, world-wide—fair weather type, that is—but to the very ones that we imagine we are impressing with our superior and lavish grandness, we are garden variety suckers.

We know as well as we know 2 and 2 that Washington, and Jefferson, and Franklin knew what they were talking about. They said we should mind our own business—their method was as simple as that—it worked. Look at us now—our tail over the dash-board—an income tax agent around every corner—still acting half pizlated—and in debt up to our collar but-tens.

Yours with the low down,
JIMMIE.
