

OWL LAFFS

A WISE OWL

Only a three day trip to New York could make a class of Seniors all smiles at 5 o'clock in the morning. — Imagine those faces at 5 A. M. getting up to go to work. — I'm only kidding students! Have a swell time.

An out-of-town car salesman was trying to persuade one of our rural men to buy a new car. He argued: Of course you can afford to buy a new car, sir. Tell me one reason why not.

Well, it's like this, son. I'm still paying installments on the car I swapped for the car I traded in as a down payment on the car I own now. — Reason enough.

"Junior, when I went shopping this morning there were 2 pieces of cake in the pantry. Now there is only one. How do you account for that?" asked a Columbia Avenue mama.

Junior answered: "Poor light in there, I guess."

Even the automotive engineers admit that horsepower was much safer when only the horse had it.

A prisoner was brought before the Judge charged with beating his wife. The Judge, being in a sympathetic mood, said, "Do you admit that you would beat your own wife?" "Why sure, said the prisoner, Whose wife do you beat?"

We took the womenfolk's fur coats into storage Monday and the clerk told us this amusing incident that happened during the summer, concerning a lady from this community.

"The young lady who was behind in her payments on her fur coat received a letter from the personal loan department of her bank asking, "What would your neighbors think if we found it necessary to come and repossess your fur coat?"

Several days later the finance company received the following from the young lady — "I have taken the matter up with my neighbors as you suggested, and they think it would be a lousy trick."

Just remember: Keeping your chin up also keeps your mouth shut.

Myrtle Normhold thinks we should put Officer Neiss in this column about an embarrassing situation he had last week, but certain things that we may not print, prevent us from doing so. — The next time you go into Bennets, ask Myrtle, she can tell you all about it.

Don't any of you business men fool around with our Senior boys if they come looking for a job. They're too much "on the ball" too kid. If you doubt my word here's an interview that took place Tuesday when one of them applied for a job at the close of school.

Is there any chance of a job, sir? the student asked.

What can you do? queried the foreman.

Anything, sir, was the confident reply.

Can you file smoke? the foreman inquired, testing the lad's sharpness.

Yes, sir, Tommy replied, if you will screw it in the vice. — That boy I'd hire.

Most women can keep a secret but the only trouble is - the women they tell it to can't.

The story in the papers the other day about an extravagant mess sergeant using coffee grounds for floorsweep was a big surprise to a lot of soldiers and ex-GIs. Some of them say it would have sounded more plausible if the report had been that he was using the floorsweep to brew coffee.

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

Of all the things that this U.S.A. is over-stocked with, it is "problems"—we bulge at the seams. We don't solve one until we are handed a newer one. We elect gents who say, listen, folks, I'm your pal, soon as I get settled in my swivel chair I will smooth your path. So we say, you are our huckleberry—we believe every word you say—here is our vote. And in all this nation's 177 year history never before were we so over-run with unsolved problems.

We are the world's sucker de luxe. And as we build taller and wider and more lavish schools, the problems increase. We cram our off-shoots on the campus with education—but for wisdom, and how to judge as to what is true and what is hokey, that goes by the board. No school that I can discover anywhere in this land includes "Aescop" in its curriculum.

The labor temple puts its pickets on the march. For a sad sight, there is none sadder or more pitiful-looking than a picket treadin' his beat. First we have a "problem" then we have a "racket"—that is the mode. One group cooks up a scheme to "homogenize" the races, another says let's have municipal ownership—we been electin' all of them. That is us all over—we are suckers de luxe for problems.

Yours with the low down,
JIMMIE

Carl Rohm Won Marble Champs' p

Carl Rohm was crowned the Mt. Joy Marble champion after defeating Earl Shearer in the VFW final play-off held on the Grade school play ground on Monday evening.

Approximately one hundred boys and girls in the first through eighth grade competed in the tournament that began on Friday evening, continued through Saturday and ended on Monday evening.

The grade champions are as follows: Tom Meckley, first grade; Mike Halter, second grade; Roger Packer, third grade; Ronnie Pennell, fourth grade; Earl Shearer, fifth grade; Bill Ditzler, sixth grade; Carl Rohm, seventh grade. The eighth grade was not represented.

Rohm and his runner-up, Shearer, will represent Mt. Joy's Post 5752 in the Ninth District VFW tournament that will be held in the near future.

First, second and third place medals will be awarded to Rohm, Shearer and Packer, while individual prizes will be awarded to each grade champion.

"CHEVY" PASSENGER CARS ARE REDUCED IN PRICE

Reductions in the retail prices of all Chevrolet passenger cars, announced recently in Detroit, have been placed into effect by Newcomers Motors, Inc., of Mount Joy. The price cuts average $15 per car, depending upon the model and style, it was explained by C. S. Newcomer, the local dealer.

"In view of the lower prices, we believe there will be a greater demand for our automobiles and will do everything possible to meet our customers' requirements promptly," he added. "We are glad to pass along these savings to our Chevrolet customers."

POISON CAMPAIGN ENDED

The State Game Commission has concluded its fox poisoning activities, claiming the rabid menace has been "confined". Noah's Ark was built of gopher wood.

Farmer's Question Corner
PREPARED BY American Foundation For Animal Health

WHAT ABOUT RABIES?

Q: How is rabies spread?
A: It is spread by the bite of an animal that has the disease. It can also be spread if saliva from a rabies victim comes in contact with open scratches or with surface of the eye. Rabid dogs are the most common sources of infection.

Q: Is this disease dangerous to both human beings and animals?
A: Yes. It can kill people, as well as any type of animal. Wolves, foxes, coyotes, skunks and skunks are spreaders of the disease in some areas.

Q: Is rabies fatal?
A: Yes, it is one of the most dreaded of all diseases. However, it can generally be prevented by protective vaccination.

Q: How successful is vaccination?
A: Very dependable. Authorities now recommend this control program: All dogs in an area should be vaccinated. Stray dogs should be impounded. Any dogs being shipped from one area to another should be required to have a rabies vaccination certificate. This plan has brought rabies under effective control in many communities.

Q: How does one recognize rabies?
A: Suspect rabies when dogs or livestock behave abnormally. Gentle animals become nervous and irritable. Dogs may have dumb rabies, in which their jaws are paralyzed and their mouths hang open; or the furious type where they want to bite anything within reach.

Q: If rabies is suspected, what should one do?
A: Contact a veterinarian immediately. Confine any suspect dog or farm animal. Do not kill the animal. If a person is bitten, call a physician immediately.
