OWL LAFFS

BY A WISE OWL

Here it is. Farm Show time again! This is the week I fill up on hamburgs, hot dogs and taffy apples. I got a punkin' entered. Had a handful of good old fashioned chestnuts but I had to eat those. Remember the good old days when we used to go for chestnuts as soon as the frost had opened the burrs? But getting back to the Exhibit, drop around to the Remembrance Committee stand, drop a coin in the donation box. Dimes and quarters still add up to dollars no matter what.

On Wednesday, during the air raid alert, a local hubby was chasing around the house like mad, while the rest of the family took shelter. His wife cried: "Hurry up!" "I can't find my false teeth," called the husband.

"False teeth!" returned the exasperated wife. "What do you think they're gonna drop, sandwiches?"

Food for thought

It takes girls longer to dress because they have to slow down for the curves.

Seven days in a jeep makes one weak.

There are several good five-cent cigars on the market today, but they sell at a higher price.

Reno is a great dairy center—the cream of society goes there to be separated.

"Well, dear," sighed the head of a Landisville home after viewing the crumpled fender. "did the officer scold you for hitting one of Lancaster's trees?"

"No, he was just lovely, John," explained the new driver. "He said the city planted them just to keep lady drivers from getting upon people's porches."

William (Honey) Enck said: "Did you ever stop to think that more noses are red from sticking them into other people's business than from hitting the bottle?"

Up at Newcomer's garage today while waiting for our car, I noticed a mechanic pick a piece of paper from the seat of another automobile. He glanced at it and began to chuckle, then he handed me the paper. It was a long list of repairs the owner wanted done. Pencil across the bottom was, this note: "Please stop when you reach $15.00."

While I was there several of the mechanics were arguing as to who could guess weight the best, when Roy Carroll asked young Dewey what Jim Krall weighs. . . . Dewey being on the ball exclaimed, meat! . . . Roy's chin was close to the floor the rest of the day.

Joann Funk told me she just loves charge accounts because they go farther than money. I often wondered what a double ring ceremony really meant. Now I know. A young bride told me it merely consists of washing two rings out of the bath tub instead of one. . . .

Bob Metzler told me a gentleman is a man who holds the door open for his wife while she carries in a load of groceries.

All I get to say is we either need wider highways or longer weekends. The way things are it takes three or four hours for city folks to get into the country and two days to get back.

 In fact, just a few "full term" subscriptions now from unexpected sources might be the very ones needed to take the lead for the coveted first prize. This is your opportunity to amass a vote total that will be hard for anyone to overcome.
 Enter Personal Prize
 A striking feature of the past few days is the personal pride angle that is becoming so noticeable. One contestant says that to accept defeat would be everlasting disappointment and she doesn't want that to happen to her. Another declares that they owe it to their friends who have responded so promptly and wholeheartedly, thus far, to put forth their best efforts hereafter and call upon every resource from now until the end.

Shop At Home!
 Last week we walked up and down Main Street, we ran up to Florin, even took a quick jaunt down to Selunga - and what did we find? We found that your local merchant is offering the best in modern merchandise at prices from 10 to 30 per cent lower than in Harrisburg or Lancaster!

Add to that the cost of transportation, which is not taken seriously these days but yet is one of the costs of living, and you find that you save even more by giving the local merchant a chance first before you begin to look elsewhere.

Our stores here have everything you could want. The whole trouble is they have not been shouting about it loudly enough. And so, we made our little junket into many stores as we could cover in a couple of days, just to prove to ourselves that we were right - and to enable us to start shouting!

Yep, consider your local businessman first! He's your neighbor, he's your friend, and his volume of business will help build up your community. And that makes your interest in your community much more valuable.

The Community Exhibit
 It is only fitting that the Community Exhibit open with a Pennsylvania Week parade for the very things Pennsylvania is famous for are the very things we here are so proud of. For ours is a far-above-average community typical of a far-above-average state. All you have to do is travel around the country to realize that. We compliment the Community Exhibit for a fine show and we for one intend to enjoy it thoroughly. See you there tonight!

Who's Going To Win?
 In less than three weeks, the question of who is to be the next president of the United States will have been decided. And the campaign, which has been a hot one for the past several weeks, probably will get hotter and hotter—as far as the candidates are concerned.

There are several things which have impressed this gullible weekly editor, who has guessed wrong for the past four elections. One is that among those we find sitting beside us sipping our mid-morning cup of coffee, few feel the need to put up heated arguments such as marked previous campaigns.

Sure, everybody is interested but more folks than ever before are quietly discussing both sides and the middle. More people we meet are seeking more facts than ever before.

Add to this the fact that registration of voters everywhere is larger than at any time in the past. And say what they will, none of these so-called experts can tell any of us where this huge slice of new voters is going to go.

If General Eisenhower wins, it will be this vast army of past non-voters who will overcome the labor-farm bloc. Labor, we feel, isn't going to budge away from the Democratic column this year. Where the farmer goes, is something else.

Nope, we're not going to make any predictions. We're just going to be glued to our TV set election night so that we can find out as soon as possible.

Public Card Party For Terry's Benefit
 A public card party sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary will be held Monday evening at 8:15 p. m. in the Legion home. Pinochle, 500 and Bridge will be played. Two door prizes will be awarded. Proceeds will be used for the Terry Young Fund.

Mrs. Charles Hostess To Kings Daughters
 Mrs. C. R. Charles, this morn, was hostess Tuesday evening to the Kings Daughters Bible class of the Church of God.

Devotions and business was transacted then followed by games and a delicious luncheon was served. The class decided to have a rummage sale Oct. 24 and 25 at the parsonage of the church on Henry Street. The following were present.
 Mrs. C. F. Helwig, Mrs. Lillie Saunders, Miss Mae Shreiner, Mrs. Stella Sweigart, Mrs. Ellen

100 Attend Reception Held For The Helwigs
 The Church of God of Mount Joy held a reception for their Pastor the Rev. C. F. Helwig last evening, Wednesday in the Sunday School Room. The Program was in charge of the Ladies Aid and included Special Piano Music by Mrs. George Broske, Tria. "In a Monastery Garden", Trombone Solo by Jay Barnhart, two readings by Chas. Hershey, Duet by Ruth and David Weidman.

Greeting of welcome to Rev. and Mrs. Helwig for their return were brought by the following: Mrs. Harvey Hawthorne for the Missionary Society, Mrs. Hazel Shenk for the Ladies Aid, who also presented Mrs. Helwig with a lovely chair for her writing desk. Lester Eshelman spoke for the Sunday School, and Harvey Stoner for the Church Council. There were about 100 present.

Birthday Party For Mrs. James Neal
 Mr. and Mrs. James Neal entertained guests at their home on New street on Sunday in honor of Mrs. Neal's birthday.
