Lowdown From Hickory Grove

Now and then I thumb my way through a Canadian paper—and you know, those Maple Leafers, independent, and workers that they are, they sometimes find themselves in a jam like we do over here on our side of the border—after the horse is gone. And it comes from listening to the medicine men who sell new ideas on reaching the millenium quick—short cut.

I just been reading about their "Hydro" over there in Ontario. Hydro is what they call their State owned power system that for 20 years has promised so much—but which now has started to mire down under a debt of over a billion bucks—a threatening power shortage—a boosting of rates. And Hydro has been exempt from taxes of 9 dollars a horsepower for years while the private outfits left there pay full taxes.

Hydro is a "Sacred Cow of Ontario politics"—as a Toronto paper calls it. Now, don't look superior-like or snicker or say what kind of hombraes are these Canucks, listening to such weird and wispy political palaver of letting the "people have the profit." Down Memphis and Chattanooga way we have the same kind of mistake to clean up—TVA. And the thing to do is, dust off our vest—admit we been a sucker—gulp a couple times—get Sambo out from behind the switchboard, and pronto.

Yours with the low-down,
JO CERRA
