Let the great men, Abraham Lincoln and George Washington, whose birthdays we celebrate this month, serve as an inspiration for bigger and finer achievements in our Democracy. Let us follow their examples with action as well as speech to perpetuate the freedom of the Democratic way of living they worked so hard to create.

The Dutch Philosopher
(AS OVERHEARD BY JOHN BOYD)

Well, Mrs. Weiss II began to think still you would never get over. I heard you had a spell of this here now flu epidemic.

Yes, that's what they call it. To me it was chust like an old-fashioned cold. Chake acted like sort of a nurse for me and chust when I got better and got up, he got it himself and I had to stand down and nurse him. I would chust as leave have had that myself all over again as nurse him. Men is mean when they is chust sick enough to lay in bed and not be in any real dauncher. But he got over it finally. I understand a lot of people in town was down with it... How about you and Chorch?

Well, we ain't had it yet although I had best knock on something wooden as the saying goes. What all did you do for Chake?

Well now, you will laugh. Chake got the doctor for me when I had it first and then when he got it he says we don't need no doctor for him but chust to do like the doctor said we was to do for me. He says if it was the same disease it ought to take the same treatment.

Well, now, if I or Chorch get it you can chust come over and tell us what to do. There's nothing like saving money wherever a body can.

Our doctor said the main thing was to keep the person in bed and keep him drinking fruit chooses and such like stuff. The hard chop was to keep Chake in bed.

Do you remember when we was little and got such colds how they used to put red flannel rags around our throats and rub us good with goose grease?

That I do and if you got real bad you got a mustard plaster on your chest.

Did your mother ever make you drink boneset tea for a cold?

My land—yes! I will never forget boneset tea. I guess children of today don't even know what it tastes like.

It did the work though. I guess it tasted so bad a body decided to get well quick so as not to have to take any more of it. Do you remember how we used to take a thing called Brown's mixture? It tasted like licorish.

Yes, I remember that too. And then a body always used to get started off with something that was supposed to give you a good cleaning out like a dose of salts. But the one thing I hated worse than anything was that citrate of magnesium—or whatever it was called. Come on, my mother used to say, drink it down—it tastes chust like lemonade. I used to gag and carry on terrible 'til I got it down.

Yes, that was awful stuff. It wonders me whether they still make it.

Well, with it all most children got well in the end unless they got diphtheria or scarlet fever or something worse. A body don't hear much about them old children's diseases any more. I remember some people used to say that it was a good thing for a child to have them and get them over with. It made them strong and hearty—that is if they didn't die of them.

Yes—there was diphtheria and scarlet fever and tyford and measles and chicken pox and whooping cough—and what was that disease that used to show such a pimply rash that went around a person's middle. If the pimples met each other in the back it was supposed to be fatal.

It was called the mumps. I had it once and I remember how I used to stand in front of a mirror and see if I could see my back and if the pimples was getting closer together.

Yes well, a body don't hear about them diseases much any more—or maybe they got more stylish names for them nowadays—like arthritis instead of rheumatism.

No doubt. Well, now I got to get over home and squeeze about half a dozen oranges for Chake's supper. Let me know if you or Chorch gets sick and I will come over and tell you what to do. Good bye for now. Good bye.

Lowdown From Hickory Grove

You know folks, us fair, fat, forty, and frisky, and young or old citizens who elected Ike-old-boy, have gotta lend a hand now—help him do what he said he would do his best to do. We can't leave him alone there—there are wolves still roaming the land—the ones who have had a big hand in throwing our U. S. A. for a loss. They gotta be sorted out and put in the ash can.

Gentlemen Ike said at Abilene he wanted less Govt. in our diet. But here comes Uncle Harry's new budget with more and more Govt. in it. There is more dinero than ever in it for more dams to impound more water for more irrigated land and bigger crops. And there is heap dinero on another page in the same budget to encourage smaller crops on our present farms in other sections of this broad and more or less addled land. If Uncle Ike don't need help, then I am addled myself and clean off-the-beam.

It is not hard to deduct that Uncle Ike is up to his chin. Tell him via postcard, carried pigeon or whatever is handy that you want Smbo to be himself again—just upire the game—get his hand out of your loose change pocket. Cockeyed notions about Big Govt. have been with us so long that they are now chronic, deep seated—will take stout medicine to save the patient—such patient being you and yours truly sure as we are knee-high to a couple grass-hoppers.
