

Harold Etsell Takes Over Duties Of Scout Master Of Local Boy Scout Troop

When Earl V. Shelley announced his resignation as the Scout Master of the Mount Joy Boy Scout Troop, the troop lost a leader who has an enviable record as a Scout Master. Although Shelley has found it necessary to resign as Scout Master, he will continue as a member of the Troop Committee.

Safe Driving Demonstration At E. Donegal

Students of East Donegal High School will pit their skill against time in a series of driving test at 9 a. m. next Tuesday. Doctor J. W. Bingham, Principal, said today.

The test, part of a safe-driving demonstration under the direction of Geo. M. Tewksbury Jr., safety engineer, Farm Bureau Insurance Co., will be held on the street directly in front of the school.

The session will start with a

movie and a talk on safety in the High School auditorium. In the demonstration that follows, students and faculty will take turns driving a specially equipped automobile with three .38 caliber revolvers mounted on the front bumper. The revolvers fire yellow paint bullets. A red light mounted on the radiator will signal the driver to stop. At that instant, the first of the revolvers will automatically fire into the pavement. When the driver's foot hits the brake, the second round is discharged. The third goes when the car comes to a complete stop.

The distance between the first two paint spots will show the driver's "reaction distance", the distance traveled between the time an "emergency" arises and the brakes are applied. The second and third paint spots measure the distance required to stop the car after the brakes have been hit.

Tests will be conducted at 20, 30 and 40 miles per hour. Police officers will act as drivers in the high speed tests.

The Farm Bureau Insurance Companies have presented the safety program before students of more than 3,600 high schools and colleges in 13 states as part of a long-range traffic safety project.

Rotarians Hear Talk On "Accidents On High Speed Highways"

Mr. O. D. Shiple of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association, spoke to the Rotarians on "Accidents On High Speed Highways" at the regular Tuesday dinner meetings of the Rotary Club held at Hostetter's.

Shiple stated that of the twenty persons killed on the Pennsylvania Super Highway so far this year, 80 percent of those killed crossed the center stripe of the highway out of control. At 70 miles per hour only a miracle will keep a car under control should an emergency arise, he said.

Many lives would be saved on all high speed highways, Shiple said, if a deflector rail were put in the center stripe and built to the height of the hub cap of a car. He said that it was his opinion that if a rail of this type had been erected on the Penna. Super Highway, over 75 of those killed so far would be living today.

Shiple closed his talk with the assertion that the motorist is inviting death by not realizing that the phone is needed in case of a fire.

Pre-Easter Services At Trinity E. C.

Rev. Deck Is Only Active One Left Out Of 110 Pastors

A Pre-Easter series of sermons beginning March 20 to 23 have been announced by Rev. Q. A. Deck, pastor of the Trinity E. C. Church, which will mark his 51st year of Gospel Ministry.

At a request of the Official Board and members of the Church, Reverend Deck is serving as Evangelist as well as their pastor. His theme for the series is "Ten Great Nights with Old Testament Characters" and each evening, beginning with Adam, will bring forth messages from Old Testament. (Further details read the advertisement on Page 5.)

Rev. Deck, who was honored recently for his 50 years of uninterrupted service in the ministry, made a check of the Conference Roll and Directory of the Ministers for 1903, of the East. Pa. Conference of the E. C. Churches (which was then known as United Evangelical Church) to discover that of the 110 ministers who comprised the Conference, all but ten have passed to their reward; and nine of the remaining ten have been placed on the retired list of ministers by action of the Conference. This discovery was quite a surprise to Rev. Deck to find he was the only remaining pastor of that Conference of

Please Don't Use Fire Co. Phone

The telephone located between Brook's Barber Shop and Smith's Store in Florin is to be used for the sole purpose of calling the Fire Company. It seems that some people are using this special telephone for making personal calls.

For the protection of the community and public interest, the Florin Fire Company asks those using the phone to please stop. It could create a hazard should the phone be needed in case of a fire.

One Man Crusade Against Unjust State Inheritance Tax Gathers Momentum

Clarence Schock of Mt. Joy, President of the Sico Company, has started a "oneman" campaign in an endeavor to have the unjust state tax on bequests to hospitals, public schools and charitable organizations amended.

The present Law of Pennsylvania imposes a state tax of 15 percent on bequests to charity, religion and education. On bequests of $1000 the tax is $150; on bequests of $5000, the tax is $750; on bequests of $10,000, the tax is $1,500 and on $100,000, the tax is $15,000.

It seems absurd, stated Mr. Schock, to impose a tax on bequests to a hospital or public school when the pressure of public opinion makes it necessary for our lawmakers to appropriate state funds to aid these worthy organizations.
