OWL LAFFS

BY A WISE OWL

Bill "So What" Enck has read so much about the bad effects of liquor that he has decided to give up reading.

While visiting a Salanga home Monday night someone suggested a friendly game of cards. What's a "friendly" game of cards, I inquired. My hostess explained: "That's where you cheat—but not for money." — We watched television.

Speaking of Salanga, a fellow from down that-a-way wanted to buy a candy cream egg, and asked if they would break a two cent egg in half, and sell him the one half for a penny.

The great big beautiful convertible drew up to the curb in front of Sloan's where the cute little Senor girl was waiting for the bus. A gentleman stuck his head out and said, "Hello, I'm driving west."

"How wonderful," said our Senor, "bring me back an orange." — On the ball, huh?

We overheard this at "Emerson's" the last time we were in Perry County. "I wish I had my wife back." "Where is she?" "I swapped her for a bottle of whiskey." "And now you realize how much you loved her?" "No, I'm thirsting again."

With April 15th not too far off I've been going through my fishing magazines and I saw something mighty interesting. Seems special attention has been paid to the man who goes fishing directly from the office. The trousers are reversible and waterproof, with bait pockets built into the cuffs. A bright flannel tie can be torn into strips for a lure, and a briefcase is part reel, with one side for important papers, and the other for trout, etc.

You can't exactly blame a guy for griping these days with crime as easy as it is. One guy called my attention to the thugs that looted an armored car of $400,000 just by jimmying the door of the armored car and driving off. They're still free men, but my friend says he got hauled in to police court that same day for trying to get his nickel back out of a phone box that didn't work.

Then to add to his misery bank robbers made off with a half million in cash with such ease it's a breeze and they're still going, while my friend on that same day got a ticket for illegal parking—his front bumper was 2 inches beyond the No Parking Here sign. — Can't say as I blame him for crying a complaint.

Here's a poem a local hubby donned—The thing that causes me dismay, That makes me pop my dome— Is what's taken out of my take-home pay After I take it home.

Not to be cheated of his laurels, Ronnie gave us this— A doctor fell in a deep well And broke his collarbone. The Moral: Doctor, mind the sick And leave the well alone.

My spouse was a passenger in a local woman's Auto today and when a string of cars lined up behind them this woman put out her arm and signalled a left turn, then immediately signalled a stop and right after that a right turn. Puzzled my wife asked her what her idea was in all the signals and the woman explained: "Now the drivers in back of us will be careful. They haven't the slightest idea what I'm going to do."

A Florin fellow went into a millinery store at Lancaster and demanded "a big Satan hat" for his wife. "Yea, me, a satin," the clerk corrected. "Satin is something that looks like the devil!" "Did you ever see my wife?" inquired the customer.

Carl Germer says a wife is attractive at twenty, attractive at thirty, and adhesive at forty.

A fellow updown was fishing. He had a big handsome rod and reel, but the hook was dangling in a small and quite empty fishbowl. A visitor walked up to him goodhumoredly and asked, "How many have you caught?" "You," said the fellow, "are the fourth."

FOR SALE: ONE 12-INCH SKILLET, LARGE ENOUGH TO FRY ONE CHICKEN egg. Call Gwennie Kramer, Mt. Joy.

Hey you fellows, don't forget today (Thursday) is Myrtle's birthday, the better the present, the better the coffee. — "Happy Birthday Myrtle."

Hand Signaling An Important Safety Measure

Hand-signaling still is an important safety measure for all automobile drivers despite the fact that the great majority of cars now on the road are equipped with flashing directional indicators.

That point was made yesterday by Edward P. Curran, Safety Director of Keystone Automobile Club, following analysis of recent statistics which showed that rear-end collisions and sideswiping still were among leading causes of highway accidents.

"Often," he declared, "flashing directional lights can be wrongly set or incorrectly interpreted by other drivers. For instance, a motorist intending to make a right turn might unthinkingly set the indicator for a left turn merely by pushing the lever down instead of up. Or the indicator lever might stay in position and cause the signal to keep flashing for miles, confusing motorists ahead and behind. Then again, the bright sun falling upon the red glass of the indicators produces reflected light that can be quite confusing. Or worst of all, perhaps, the indicator lights might not be working because of burned out bulbs or broken wires."

"Absolute dependence, therefore, should not be placed upon direction indicators at all times by motorists. The hand-signal has its important place in safer driving practices. Motorists should use hand-signals along with the electrical indicators as a double precaution."

"On-the-road observance of motoring tendencies recently showed that very few drivers used hand-signals at anytime and that many gave no indication whatever of intention to turn right or left, to slow down, or stop. Obviously, this is a vital practice that should be a personal safety obligation of everyone behind the wheel, day or night."

Choir To Render Cantata Mar. 22nd

The Senior Choir of St. Mark's Evangelical U. B. church will render the Cantata, "From Olivet to Calvary", by J. H. Maunder, on Sunday, Mar. 22, at 4:00 p. m. Mr. Clifford M. Schmid, Lancaster, is the director; Miss Luella Witter, of town, is the organist.

The cantata depicts in striking fashion such scenes from the last week of the life of Christ as the Triumphal Entry, the Trial before Pilate, the Way to Calvary, and the Crucifixion. The musical setting of these scenes is especially appropriate and descriptive.

Soloists will be Mrs. Warren Bentzel, Mrs. Clifford Schmid, Mrs. Gerald Hostetter, Henry S. Weber, Jr., Joseph Buchenauer, Lester Mumma, and Warren Bentzel. Miss Lucella H. Witter is organist, and Clifford H. Schmidt is choir director. Rev. E. H. Ranck is pastor. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend this service.

C. over the weekend and visited Mrs. Wood's brother, Irvin L. Gerber, who is a student at Bob Jones University, where he is studying for the ministry.

The group enjoyed the beautiful scenery enroute through seven States, including the Old Smoky Mountain. In South Carolina they found the flowers and trees all in blossom. All are employees at R. C. A.

Lowdown From Hickory Grove

You know, it is beginning to look as if we are commencing to catch on as to what has been ailing us for so many a moon. We been figuring it was jake—and even good for us — to let Sambo amble careless-like in the U. S. Treasury where dinero hung thickest. He would spend the money where it was for us — he said — and simple and trustful as we were, he took us to town. He poured our mazzuma into every kind of perpetual motion machine that anybody lugged in—we now pay for our suckerishness down there at the despised income tax man's hangout.

We now find ourselves with billions invested in places where the Govt. has no business to be and where Sambo don't know beans. Just TVA alone has used up billions—flood control, the Govt. checkered vest man said—we nodded, O. K. And now this same over-grown chesty TVA says it wants another 5 more tax free billions for power machinery. It drops the false front of flood control. From Buffalo to Mobile to Sacramento we are paying the fiddler. Tax free Govt. ventures are eating us out of house and home.

HEISTAND ESTATE SOLD

C. S. Frank, auctioneer, sold the two and one-half story frame dwelling at 225 Marietta Avenue to Mr. Henry Mellinger, of near the Iron Bridge, for the Emma Heistand Estate at a consideration of $9,020.00.

We are a little more inclined recent-like to listen to such brave souls as Congressman Coudert of N. Y. State, and Mr. Electric Wilson who say sell our collection of gadgets and what-have-you to the best bidder—dust off our vest, say never again, and buckle down to paying up for our yokel-like behavior.

Yours with the low down, JO SERRA

Tra, La! Tra, La!

The urge to get rid of the ol' topcoat, to get away from this durned typewriter and feel the warmth of the outdoor sun, tells us convincingly that Spring arrives this week-end!

Tiny snow-drops have been out for weeks and there probably are plenty of arbutus, violets and other of nature's early Spring wonders, if we could only get far enough away from the office to find them.

But, we must caution to warn, don't get too enthusiastic—and don't put the ol' topcoat in moth-balls just yet. Remember, we haven't had the onion snow!

Those "Long" Week-ends

Not that anything will come of it, but one imaginative member of the state legislature, none other than Senator Edward Kessler, has introduced a bill which would cause all holidays excepting Christmas, to fall on Mondays.

Instead of observing Washington's Birthday on February 22 and Lincoln's on February 12, we would observe President's Day on a convenient Monday in February. And rather than plan to observe "The Glorious Fourth of July" we'd probably have to start talking about the "Glorious Third" or the "Glorious Fifth." Of course with the whole town closing up the first week in July anyway, this particular holiday would not have to be shifted around so much.

Having all holidays fall on Mondays would be a good thing in the weekly newspaper business, alright, alright, for there's nothing more disconcerting than to figure how to get the paper out the first thing Thursday morning when the help has had all day Wednesday off.

Stick by your guns, Senator Kessler, we're with you!

Up Goes Coffee

For the past two weeks we've read article after article on just how much higher coffee is going to go, now that controls have been taken off. All of us remember how for years the South Americans had to burn whole ship loads of coffee beans just to keep the surplus down.

And so from a huge surplus we have reached the point where folks right here have to pay a dollar a pound for coffee. Boy, if tea wasn't such horrible tasting stuff, I'll bet we could find a solution for a situation such as this. But tea being what couple of hours for our usual cup of java.

Eat All You Want

Imagine a diet in which you eat all the fat meat you want! Elizabeth Woody, of the DuPont medical staff, writing in Holiday Magazine, gives this as a typical diet: crisp pork chops and fresh fruit for breakfast; meat stew with vegetables for lunch; roast beef and a potato for dinner. But—you are NOT allowed a grain or trace of salt and you must NOT use sugar or flour. You MUST drink six glasses of water every day before five o'clock and you MUST take a leisurely thirty-minute walk before breakfast. You must get eight hours of sleep regularly, no more nor less. Clear coffee with meals, none between, and no gum! Do this, she says, and you'll lose a good 35 pounds in 17 weeks.

There—that ought to be worth the cost of a year's subscription in itself!

Taxes Must Come Down

If you heard a loud moaning along Main Street last Saturday afternoon, you heard us as we completed that income tax form for good ol' Uncle Sam. Fifteen years ago if we had had as much money regularly left over as we now pay in income tax, social security and unemployment insurance, we could have had the best equipped printing plant this side of New York City! Yep, taxes gotta come down!

Old Hat?

Republican leaders are expecting President Eisenhower to set aside, by executive order, all recent examinations for postmaster, thus (they hope) providing about 3,000 jobs for the faithful.

It seems that only Democrats have been taking the tests lately, so there are few if any Republicans on the eligible list. But they'll be waiting to take the new exams that will be set up.

We suppose this is a matter of "political rights" rather than civil rights. But somehow we can't see any more morality in segregation of Democrats and Republicans than of blacks and whites.
