Simon Garber Tells Of His Year In Germany Under Student Exchange System

Simon K. Garber, 17 year-old, returned Saturday from Germany where he spent a year as an exchange student attending the German high school, Erica Schule, Hamburg.

Garber, a Haverford High School senior, was one of two students selected in the nation for schooling abroad by the World-Wide Workshop, a unit of the American Friends Service Committee. He left for Germany last April and at that time his family were then residing at Haverford. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Garber, who live now on Mt. Joy R2.

Garber learned the language so well and after speaking only German for a year finds it difficult to express himself in English. He lived at the home of five German families and found them very much like the folks back home. Garber said the main diet was potatoes and bread, which was plentiful, also turnips and cabbage. Very little fresh meat is eaten due to lack of refrigeration or ways of keeping it from spoiling. What meat is used is mostly smoked, such as sausage and bolognas. Garber said it took him awhile to get use to their daily fare.

While in Germany the youth lived in the British Zone but traveled extensively over Western Germany. The visits were

Don't Blame It On Your Bifocales

If Mount Joy husbands come home from a hard days work and find that their spouses hair has changed to a grey, or a blue color, don't blame it on the bifocales or that night out or think you need a psychiatrist. Husbands, it's not as bad as that. A local beauty parlor has decided that Main Street should look like Times Square and has imported a spray that will give the wife a different hair color for every day in the week if she so desires. That's all, . . . or is it?

Could Not Have Done This Alone

JOAN BROSEY HESS

Joan proudly puts her crutches aside and shows you that she can walk without them. That was not always the case. In July, 1947, she was flat on her back. Slowly but surely she won the hard struggle to walk alone again—she still needs the support of braces—and she tires too easily to discard the crutches entirely.

Joan has made progress. She has come long way from the time when she first started with: Someone moving her legs for her in bed—someone moving her legs with help from her in bed—moving them by herself—putting braces on and taking them off—pulling herself to a standing position in her walker
