

Rev. Deck Appointed To Serve 4th Year Here

At the close of the Annual Conference of the Evangelical Congregational Church held at Lebanon, Monday, April 27, of the 15 E. C. churches in Lancaster County, six received new pastoral assignments, most of them in the Eastern part of the County. The Rev. Q. A. Deck, who for the past three years served Trinity E.C. Church, Mt. Joy, was reappointed to serve his fourth year, and will fill the pulpit Sunday, both morning and evening. One of the important changes made by the Conference was the removal of the time limit in which a pastor could serve a charge, which has been heretofore 8 years. The itinerant system of appointing all ministers for one year at a time was not changed.

(From Page 1)

St., this boy, who was headed east on Wood St. He said he was driving slowly but could not stop in time to avoid striking the boy who ran from between two parked trucks. The one parked truck was unloading a steam shovel and the other was loading stone, according to police, who also learned youngsters in the area had been warned by residents to stay out of the street while playing in the area.

His condition is reported satisfactory.

TO BE INDUCTED

Among the names Board 83 listed for induction May 6th were: Richard W. Williams and John J. Boyer, Mt. Joy.

IN CASE OF FIRE FARM POND SHOULD BE 30 FT. FOR FIRE EQUIPMENT

Farmers who contemplate building a farm pond should make sure that fire apparatus can get to it in case of fire, according to L. E. Shingledecker of the Farm Bureau Insurance Company. Most apparatus have to get within 30 feet of a pond to draw water. Shingledecker declared in a speech before the recent Pennsylvania Farm Safety Institute at Penna. State College. The Institute was sponsored by the Pennsylvania Rural Safety Council, cooperating with the Division of Farm and Home Safety Education. State Department of Public Instruction.

In giving the results of a recent farm survey conducted by the company, he concluded, "You'd be surprised at the number of ponds you couldn't reach with fire-fighting equipment."

From LOOK Magazine's DREAM KITCHEN

If Your Family is anything like ours, the best getter-upper in the world is that heavenly fragrance of fresh coffee drifting through the house early in the morning. It never misses . . . and whether you make coffee with a percolator, use the drip method . . . or that old-fashioned coffee-egg and cold water in the kettle, there is nothing quite as effective or as stimulating. LOOK'S sixteen different ways to prepare coffee are included in the current issue story on America's favorite drink.

And While The Coffee for the family is brewing, take advantage of instant coffee made right in the cup—quick as a flash. You'll be one up on the others and be feeling perky too while getting breakfast. Incidentally, prune juice is good to start.

Along About Four In The Afternoon, when someone drops in to compare shopping notes, it is gracious and easy to put the coffee pot to work, open a box of crackers and enjoy a lift before preparing dinner. And, if the day is warm, my refrigerator always has a supply of iced cola drinks . . . so easy to sip through a straw.

I've Had A Lot Of Fun . . . and you will too, when you make coffee in other ways—and believe me, they are legion. You probably know the delightful aroma and flavor which comes from putting a stick of cinnamon in after dinner coffee. And what's more, the old Russian way of blending pulverized coffee with powdered chocolate gives an old-world flavor which is most novel . . . a twist of lemon peel is also refreshing. Try it.
