OWL LAFFS
BY A WISE OWL

There's only one trouble with my wife's meals. She can dish it out but she can't cook it.

Ronny says: "A tomahawk is what if you go to sleep suddenly and wake without hair there is an Indian with."

Went along down to the hospital yesterday to visit a new mother. When the delighted father saw the baby he asked his wife: "What will we call it?" She promptly answered: "Quits."

Did you hear about the new perfume that drives women mad?—It smells like money.

A fiery-tempered southern gentleman now doing business in our locale wrote the following letter:
"Sir—My stenographer, being a lady, cannot type what I think of you.
"I being a gentleman, cannot think it.
"You, being neither, will understand what I mean."

Always remember: One good way to save face is to keep the lower half of it shut.

A family crisis was precipitated when a teen-age daughter from town insisted on an off-the-shoulder dress for her first dance at a resort hotel. Her mother felt such a dress was too sophisticated for her, and quite a discussion ensued.
Finally the father in a vacation mood settled the matter. "Let her try one on," he suggested. "If it stays up, she's old enough to wear it."

The trouble with being a leader today is that you can't be sure whether the people are following or chasing you.

Bob says there are three kinds of marriage—trial, companionate and fight-to-the-finish.

A Mount Joy Street Pop told me he got a novel Fathers' Day present. His wife let him win an argument.

My spouse is plenty burned up. She went to an antique show on Saturday and someone tried to buy her.

A Florin boy sure was tender-hearted. He wouldn't even swat a mosquito which had been biting him all night. He said it seemed like that would be striking his own flesh and blood.

I know a fellow who never bothers to invent any story or alibi when he gets home late at night. Says he: "If she's asleep, I don't need one; and if she's awake I don't get a chance to talk."

My son-in-law tried the new discovery of chlorophyll and aspirin rolled in one pill—it gets one rid of a stinking headache.

I heard this conversation over at the fire house last night:
"I haven't touched a drink in over two months."
"Neither have I, pal, but don't you think we had better knock on wood?"
"Absolutely, let's go pound on a bar."

"Do the people next door borrow much from you?" I asked a resident of Salunga.
"Borrow! Why, I feel more at home in their house than in my own!" was his reply.

Milty Demmy tells of the fellow who found the racetrack closed. He didn't want the entire day to be wasted — so he tore up his money.

Sen. Derr says: "Opportunity knocks but once. Trouble is more persistent."

Every time a new phonograph comes out it turns around slower. I'm going to invent one that doesn't turn at all. It's for people who don't like music.

The jovial but inebriated fellow burst into the Lancaster office for the registration of births and deaths.
"Gentlemen," he said, "I want to register the births of twins."
"Why do you say 'Gentlemen'?" said the registrar. "Can't you see I'm alone here?"
"The deuce you are!" said the parent. "I'd better go home and have another look!"

Darvie Shelly says the most popular labor-saving device for women is still a husband with money.
