President Eisenhower To Be Honored At Huge Birthday Party At Hershey

Celebration Oct. 13
Expected To Draw
Crowd Of 20,000

HERSHEY.—The biggest old fashioned country birthday party in history will be held in Hershey on Tuesday, Oct. 13, to honor President Eisenhower on the eve of his first birthday in the White House. He will be 63 the next day.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower plan to leave Washington by automobile in time to greet the 20,000 men, women and children who are expected to bring their box suppers to the twilight birthday picnic in the Hershey football stadium, beginning at 5 p. m. The President will speak briefly to the stadium gathering and enjoy part of the outside birthday show with them. There will be no charge for stadium seats.

Adjoining the stadium, on one of Hershey's many sports practice fields, the giant 386-foot-long canvas "big top" that housed the Ringling Brothers-Barnum & Bailey circus last year will be pitched—put up by amateur "rubes" for the first time in circus history. Erection of the fireproof canvas will be supervised on the spot by Captain Billy Curtis, retired tent chief of the Ringling Brothers-Barnum & Bailey Circus.

Under the big tent, its top decorated with 63 huge electric "candles" and a 180-foot-long tent-length banner bearing the legend "Happy Birthday, Mr. President" in glowing letters so that the circus tent itself will resemble a giant birthday cake from the air, about 6,000 $100 contributors, including cabinet members, governors, senators, and other notables, will sit down to a self-served full-course roast beef buffet.

While dining under the circus "big top" is going on, the stadium will be the scene of a mammoth outdoor entertainment planned and supervised by Pennsylvania's Fred Waring. The outside birthday show will feature Pennsylvania orchestras and bands and volunteer entertainers. It will run until about 8 o'clock.

The evening birthday party itself will get under way at 8 o'clock in the nearby Hershey Arena, a roofed ice-hockey and indoor sports structure, the 5000 seats in the arena will be occupied by the "big top" diners. On entering the arena the 6,000 celebrants will be greeted by the music of Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians. The orchestra and glee club will have taken their places on a giant stage constructed for the occasion and decorated in the birthday motif.

Present plans call for the President and Mrs. Eisenhower to make their entry into the arena in a horse-drawn Pennsylvania Dutch buggy, with the President holding the reins as he drives through a decorated archway to the left of the huge stage and makes the circuit of the arena on a 15-foot-wide white-painted "driveway" between the tiered seats and potted hedgerows separating the "driveway" from the seats on the main floor.

As the President brings his vehicle to a stop and, with Mrs. Eisenhower, mounts the stage-width steps to the main platform, a multi-layer birthday cake seven feet in diameter will rise through a trapdoor. As its 63 candles are lighted on stage, the party-givers will be served a piece of cake and ice cream by 700 Pennsylvania girls, each carrying a cake baked by a different Pennsylvania housewife. Each guest will then light an individual candle, and join in singing a birthday greeting to the President.

The cakes will be baked by Pennsylvania women from all of the 67 counties.

She was milked two times daily and was 6 years, 4 months of age when she began her testing period. Her record averaged approximately 22 quarts of milk daily for the period covered by her test.

Testing was supervised by Penna. State College, in cooperation with The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Community Chest Services Reach Many Here

Mount Joy's stake in the Lancaster county Red Feather campaign was keynoted by Dr. John Moss, professor of psychology at Franklin and Marshall college, as he addressed the Rotary club at its weekly luncheon Tuesday.

Four hundred 25 persons were served directly the past year by agencies for which the Community Chest drive is being conducted this month, Dr. Moss stated.

Describing the Red Feather organization as both "human and humane," the speaker pointed out that it provides "help where help is most needed." He reminded the Rotarians that the Community Chest has made it possible for agencies participating to seek out ways and means of serving the communities in which they operate—that there is no longer anything "hit or miss" about their functions.

In the past year the Crippled Children's Society has given treatment to 15 in the borough and two in the township and had 350 office and follow-up visits for borough residents and 26 for township residents.

The Visiting Nurses Association made 439 visits to serve 38 patients in the borough and 14 in the township.

Five Mount Joy residents and one township resident received assistance from the Association for the Blind, requiring a total of 64 visits.

One Mount Joy resident received 162 days' care at Rossmore Sanatorium, while 13 from the borough and five from the township had 178 days' care at St. Joseph Hospital. Lancaster Osteopathic Hospital handled 15 cases from the borough and 11 from the township.

Caseworkers for the Family and Children's Service made a total of 209 visits in Mount Joy and 82 in Mount Joy township. The Guidance was called upon 45 times in the borough and 76 times in the township.

Two Boy Scout troops, serving 73 boys, and eight Girl Scout troops, with 115 girls, benefitted from the Community Chest. The Y. W. C. A. served 12 homes in the area. The Salvation Army and the Jewish Community Center also performed services for the community.

Dr. Moss made special mention of the USO. He pointed out that Lancaster county has 4815 young folks in uniform, and that the USO is functioning in all corners of the world in their behalf.

In closing, the speaker urged contributions based upon a spirit of "unselfish love" with no thought of direct benefits on the part of the giver.

SPONSOR, COACH HONORED—Robert Kunkle, sponsor, and George Houck, coach, as they were honored by Midget-Midgets at recent weiner and marshmallow roast arranged by mothers of the young baseball stars.

Midget-Midgets Honor Sponsor And Coach

Through the efforts of Mrs. Irvin Hostetter and Mrs. Jane Lipert, together with the financial aid of all the mothers of the local Midget-Midgets, two beautiful plaques were presented to Robert Kunkle, sponsor & manager, and George Houck, coach.

The presentations were made at a weenie and marshmallow roast given by Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Hostetter, at their cottage. This is the first time in all the years Mr. Kunkle sponsored the team that any appreciation was shown for his efforts.

Captain Joe Hostetter presented the plaques which read as follows: "To Bob—In appreciation for your efforts in promoting fellowship through baseball. Your Midget-Midgets of 1953."

"Coach Houck—To whom we'll be forever grateful for his time, patience and understanding. The Mt. Joy Midget-Midgets of 1953."

Neither man was aware of this award as it was kept secret by the players. Mr. Kunkle and Mr. Houck showed surprise and an emotional appreciation during the presentation.

The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hostetter, Mr. and Mrs. John Lichty, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pennell, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Hostetter, Mr. and Mrs. John Lipert, Mrs. Doris Houck, Mr. Chris Zeiter and the following players, Bill Ditzler, Jim Brown, Mike Mumma, Jim Nissley, John Dick, Jim Bennett, Kenny Watkins, Larry Watkins, John Harnish, Jim Collins, Harold Etsell, Mike Kunkle, Ronald Kear, Jay Kaylor, Rickey Divet and Bill Bogel.
