DONEGAL JOINT SCHOOL BOARD MEETS TONIGHT

The regular meeting of the Donegal Joint School Board will be held this evening, 7:30 p.m. in the Mount Joy High School. George Morris, president, will be in charge of the meeting.

An oil painting exhibit depicting local scenes as well as paintings of historical interest will highlight the accomplishments of this year's work of Lineus W. Longenecker during the Mount Joy Community Exhibit. This showing represents many hours of brushing and dabbling and will include about twenty-five pieces of work. His work will again be located, as in the past several years, in the display window of the Sico garages in the west building.

The picture was taken of a recent oil painting depicting the Erisman's Mennonite Church and adjoining Lincoln School situated in Rapho Township along the Manheim Pike, three miles east of Mount Joy. The land was purchased from an early Mennonite settler, Abraham Erisman in 1798. The building then erected was used for nearly 100 years. In 1891, a new and larger building was erected. The adjoining school, also erected by the early Mennonite settlers, was built and completely maintained by these early Christian people. This same situation took place in many other settlements such as the Risser's Mennonite Church, and Chiques Church of the Brethren. In 1871, all such schools were turned over to the State.

In the year 1950, the Mennonite farmers of the Erisman area purchased the adjoining school building for $4,000 from the Rapho township with a plan agreed upon with officials of the township school board that they will use this building themselves rather than be asked to be included in the consolidation of schools. This meant that not only would they pay their regular taxes but in addition, they agreed to maintain the expenses of conducting this school. This situation is somewhat similar to the Mennonite school at Kraybill's as well as Hernley's and Sauderton's.

This Lincoln building was used one year and it was discovered that due to the large attendance of pupils, a better efficiency could be achieved by merging with Hernley's in the erection of a new modern school building where provisions could be possible for the needs of the many pupils at both areas. There are now about 28 schools of this type in eastern Penna. The purpose behind this school plan is to better meet the needs of the oncoming generations in the importance of effective Christian instruction.

Also included in the exhibit are local farm and home settings, studies painted in art class demonstration work and other favorite local and foreign scenes. During the evenings of the farm show, Mr. Longenecker will be present. At all other times, he will have an attendant.

Legion Auxiliary Committees Are Appointed

Committees were appointed for 1954 by the new president, Mrs. Ruth Rineer, at the regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, Post 185. Mrs. Wallace Zerphey was appointed membership chairman; Mrs. Lee Ellis, entertainment; Mrs. Laura Hoffmaster, sick; Mrs. John Cooper, coupons; Mrs. Estie Bender, child welfare; Mrs. Howard Brown, poppies; Mrs. Robert Rose, Pan American; Mrs. Lee Ellis, Americanism; Mrs. Joseph Germer, historian; Miss Maude Schneider, rehabilitation; and Mrs. Howard Brown, Mrs. Burton Shupp, Miss Maude Schneider and Mrs. Edward Brown, Girl Scout and Brownie troop committees.

The group made final plans for the monthly card party to be held at the Legion home Monday evening, Oct. 19, 8:15 p. m. The proceeds from the card party will go toward Christmas projects for veterans. They also discussed a rummage sale which will be held in the near future; the date and place to be announced.

Since the auxiliary decided to sponsor a new Brownie troop at the last month's meeting, it was decided to give the new troop $20 toward the purchase of Brownie pins and hats.

It was decided that the group would go to Coatesville Veterans Hospital April 1 to give a ward party for patients there. It was announced that the child welfare chairman sent Jeffrey Hinkle, the adopted boy of the group at the Scotland Orphanage, games for his birthday.

Letter To Dr. Newcomer Explains Deer Permits

In reply to an inquiry sent to the Pennsylvania Game Commission, Harrisburg, about the manner in which the antlerless deer permits have been distributed, the following answer was received by Dr. J. N. Newcomer:

In establishing antlerless deer seasons, it is the objective of the Game Commission to scientifically regulate the deer herd by harvesting only such surplus deer as may be deemed necessary for the good of the range. Unfortunately, this procedure fails to provide licenses insufficiently members for all those persons who may wish to enjoy this special privilege.

Although it may be difficult for sportsmen to obtain the coveted special licenses because of the limited number available, certain modifications in the regulations which apply to the regular two-week male deer season should make this sport more attractive to persons desiring to kill a deer. This season, for the first time in many years, in addition to legalizing male deer with two or more points to an antler, spike bucks with an antler, or antlers, measuring three or more inches from the base of the skull, are also specified as legal during that period.

The full quota of Antlerless Deer licenses allocated for each county was delivered to the County Treasurer, who is the only agent authorized by law to issue them. Therefore, the Game Commission has no surplus at Harrisburg.

When in need of Printing, (anything) kindly remember the Bulletin

At the present time the Game Commission has no jurisdiction over County Treasurers. However, means have been determined how a situation such as you describe can be avoided next year.

Please be assured that we appreciate your interest in calling this subject to our attention.
