Hi-School Corner

By S. A. S.

The main event that has been on everybody's mind this last week was the Farm Show. The Fair was opened Wednesday night by a big parade, in which the Mount Joy High School Band, as well as many others, participated. Miss Pennsylvania of Mount Joy was Julia Risser, a sophomore, with Nancy Jo Detwiler, a junior, and Pat Franz, a senior, as attendants. They really looked beautiful.

Miss Lois Rutt was the representative of Mount Joy in the Corn Queen Contest, in which Miss Jean Longenecker, of Landisville, was crowned as this year's queen. Monday, Oct. 19, an assembly was held. It was presented by Art

Jennings, otherwise known as "Happy Dayze." He told some of the history of clowning and also put makeup of the clown on before our eyes. Besides that he did numerous tricks that of course always make people laugh and have a good time.

An exhibition by the Traphagen School of Fashion in New York was presented for the benefit and interest of the students. This exhibit aimed to give an accurate picture of work accomplished in pen and ink and wash drawings, illustrations, fashion layouts, black and white and color fashion drawings in various techniques for reproduction, costume designs, 1-3th civilian and theatrical, stressing modern and period silhouettes. It also showed how inspiration is obtained and originality achieved through the study of international taste and fashions of the past and future.

The exhibition was revealing to those who look forward to making art and fashion their profession.
