

OWL LAFFS

BY A WISE OWL

Here's a question we heard a young chap ask his parents last night . . .

"Dad, what's the latest possible date a boy can start being good for Xmas?"

The man who is always boasting about his family tree is generally the sap.

"Do you think I have a beautiful nose?" a Sophomore girl asked her date.

He replied: "Oh, it's all right as noses run."

The average woman would rather be two-faced than double-chinned.

It's bad enough when a fellow owes you $20.00. But when he won't even worry about it, that's down right disgusting.

Charles S. Rovenolt says stomp your neighbor with this one:

"If oak wood is from Oak trees; and maple wood is from Maple trees, what is Basswood from?"

A divorcee from Columbia has a novel necklace. It's made of old wedding rings.

John Citizen: Just come from the income tax bureau . . . great service there . . .

Sam Citizen: Something new? John Citizen: I'll say . . . after you pay your tax, they hand you a mirror on the way out . . . so you can watch yourself starve to death.

Even if you say you don't know or have the wrong answer they hand you a hunk of money or a set of silver. It's quite a revolt!

Friday night during the blizzard, Sammy Dock made the remark that "It should be a good television night, cause all the 'snow' was outside."

Last week I called an exterminator's office and the secretary answered. I asked: "How can I get rid of pests?" She answered: "Just don't answer the doorbell."

There's a stenographer from E-town who rides the bus to work at Lancaster and about twice a week she wears the darndest looking hat. The other morning I sat with a friend of hers and when I saw her wearing the hat, I asked her friend if she didn't think it was unusual. She laughed and said: "It's original, too. Every morning she gets a terrific hangover, so she put a feather on an ice pack and wears it as a hat. By the time she gets to work her head feels pretty good."

Then there's the Scotchman who was told by the doctor that his sick wife needed sea air . . . so he fanned her with a herring for two weeks.

This came out of a booth of Freshmen in the Lincoln—

Question: "What would a pig do who wished to build himself a habitation?"

Answer: "Tie a knot in his tail and call it a pig's tie."

"Dad," said the small boy, "why isn't a man allowed to have more than one wife?"

"My son," replied his dad, "when you are older you will understand that the law protects those who are incapable of protecting themselves."

You know, it's a good thing for some people that a mirror can't laugh.

When a dentist asked Joe if he uses toothpaste, he answered: "Why should I? None of my teeth are loose."

My spouse was complaining of feeling punk all week and I thought she was putting on an Approximately 850,000 additional business firms must come into existence to help provide the goods and services which America's growing population will require by 1975. This would mean there would be 17,708 in Pennsylvania if the number were divided equally among the 48 states.

This would mean 281 per county in Pennsylvania. Would Mount Joy and Florin be able to bid for the new industries needed for America's increased population? New industries will develop only in communities which provide sewerage disposal.

This estimate was based in part on U. S. Department of Commerce figures and in part on a study of the National Association of Manufacturers Research Department which showed that over the years, business enterprises increased in number about as fast as the country's non-farm population.

PENNA GOT 13 IN OCTOBER
Thirteen new industries began operation in Pennsylvania in October. Of these 13, 275 persons were employed and the payroll at the present time is $687,500.

These 13 new industries brings Pennsylvania's total to 160 new industries since Jan., 1953.

More and more communities are organizing to attract new industries to their community. Are we?

SUSQUEHANNA SHOULD BE USED

At the present time, the Sanitary Water Board of the state is working and has practically completed the cleaning out of the Schuylkill River. This might be done to the Susquehanna. At the present time, communities which send their sewage into the Susquehanna are building disposal plants. Those who have started are Williamsport, South Williamsport, Loysock Twp, Danville, Lock Haven State Teachers College and Bloomsburg. If the state were to follow through on the Susquehanna as on the Schuylkill, the river could be clean enough for it to provide the water supply for towns near it.

Therefore, the river could provide necessary water that small streams might not be able to provide if new industries were to move into the vicinity and demand more water.

act so I'd buy her a new fur coat for Xmas. Finally I took her to see a doctor. As soon as we entered she lamented: "Oh Doctor, I feel so ill!"

Doctor: Your pulse is normal and so is your temperature.

My spouse: Well, is my tongue coated?

Doctor: No Madam, no never finds moss on a racetrack.

She stormed out of the office, madder than a wet hen.

I saw Bill's new girl friend Sunday night. Her father is a railroad engineer. — She looks like his first wreck.
