USDA Accepts New Soil Insecticide

Described as Effective Against Rootworms

Growers of corn, peanuts, sugar beets, sugar cane, small grains and similar crops may get economical control of soil insects with Aldrin, a new insecticide.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture recently accepted the new chemical for registration for use against soil insects, grubs, harmful worms and other burrowing pests, following proof of its effectiveness by many experiment stations.

It is described as being particularly effective against rootworms, wireworms, and white grubs—and in far smaller doses than those needed in previously known treatments. Damage to crops by above-ground insects is easily seen, and until recently has been the primary concern of the farmer. But damage to plant roots by soil insects, while not so readily recognized, is often more widespread and serious.

The new insecticide may be applied by any method available to the average farmer; by mixing with starter fertilizer, with manure, or by broadcasting a mixture on the surface and then discing it in. Treatments vary from a few ounces up to three pounds or so per acre, depending on what pests are being fought, and on other factors. Farmers should obtain competent advice from their dealers before using the new product.

While Aldrin's approval as a soil insecticide is new, it has been known for several years as a highly efficient and inexpensive surface insecticide.

Specialists Predict Egg Prices to Remain High

Poultry specialists predict egg prices will remain high during the winter of 1953 and outline a few pointers for increased production.

They urge use of an all-pullet flock. Pullets lay more eggs than old hens and a good pullet flock coming into production this fall will give you the advantage of usual good fall egg prices.

Dry quarters will mean more eggs and will prevent waste of feed, so good insulation and ventilation are important. A balanced ration will save feed. Prompt removal of birds that are not producing will save feed and increase profits. Control lice, mites and rats to improve the health of birds.

Using light to provide a 13 to 14 hour working day for the hens is a cheap way to increase production. Keep nests clean, provide plenty of nests and gather eggs three times a day to avoid broken and dirty eggs and, thus, market a better product.

Walk Through Gate

Here is the answer for a walk through gate for a barbed wire fence. Three extra posts, a few boards and two hours of your time are the essentials. The 2x4 nailed across the top takes the place of two braces. Located at convenient points on your farm this type of gate will save time and prevent that business of getting down on the ground and rolling under barbed wire.

Marietta School

Four student teachers from Elizabethtown College are teaching in the Marietta schools. Miss Nancy Stucky will teach in kindergarten; Miss Dorothy Shear, grade 3; Miss Catherine Moyer, commercial; and Paul Bashore, social studies.

The third group of Lancaster County Books have arrived in the High School library. These books are supplied by the Lancaster Free Public Library Bookmobile. Each shipment contains about sixty books which are loaned to students for the six-weeks period.

The kindergarten children and first graders under the supervision of Miss Pat Kelly and Miss Naomi Myers baked pumpkin pies. The children were divided into committees. Some measured and mixed the crust; others mixed and rolled the crust. All the children learned the importance of cleanliness as they scrubbed their hands before they worked and kept their hair tied back with towels. Each faculty member was given a written invitation to eat the results.

The Junior Red Cross Collection resulted in $28.04.

The second meeting of the Marietta P. T. A. will be held December 14 with the Junior class in charge of the entertainment.

The Junior Tri-Hi-Y was organized under the direction of Miss Clara Blackburn, faculty adviser. Thirty members have joined from grades seven and eight. Paula Weien was elected president; Mary Baughman, vice president; Janice Hoffman, secretary; and Naomi Singer, treasurer.
