Hi-School Corner

On November 13, in conjunction with Safety week, Sergeant Reese of the Penna. State Police presented an assembly on safety. They showed films of the Safety Patrol parade which was held last Spring. Included in the films was a portion of the State Police Rodeo, of this year, held at Hershey. Sgt. Reese spoke to us, reminding us how careful everybody, pedestrians or driver, should be during this seige of fog we've had. This is a time during which we should be extra careful.

This past week was Book Week. In celebration of this week the library held a contest. It consisted of unscrambling book titles. About 150 tried it and about 25 completed it. The first person doing so by getting them all right, got first prize. Asher Halbleib was the first prize winner. On display in the library this week were the book jackets made by the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior English classes. They added a very festive note to the library besides being interesting.

November 19, a Square dance was held, sponsored by the senior class. It really was loads of fun for everybody, even tho' it did leave everybody just a little tired. The caller was Burt Wittenburg.

4-H Club Play Planned For November 28th

"Rise and Shine", a three-act comedy by Samuel French will be presented in the Manheim Township High School, Neffsville, Saturday, Nov. 28, at 8 p.m. The play will be directed by Miss Grace Nolt, Columbia, R1 and will be put on by the county 4-H groups.

The cast will include two local people, Miss Jeanette Breneman, Mount Joy R2 and Miss Miriam Roland, Mount Joy R1. Others in the cast are David Sweigart, Elizabethtown R3; Jerry Hess, Elizabethtown R3; Nancy Newcomer, Lititz R2; Arlene Stehman, Lancaster R3; John Neff, Lancaster R7; Kenneth Kreider, Quarryville R1; Clyde Brubaker, Ephrata R1; James Martin, New Holland R2; Rose Marie Koehler, Eberville and Sylvia Sellar, Silver Spring. Prompters are Mary Metzger of New Holland R2; Dorothy Stehman, Lancaster R3 and Ada Louise Kreider, Lititz R4.

Between acts music will be furnished by Dorothy Stehman, trumpet solo and Clyde Brubaker, vocal soloist.

Business managers are the presidents of the councils, Thelma Sangrey, Lititz R2 and Melvin Good, Lititz R3.

Under The Basket

With the opening of Basketball season for the local high school just around the corner, the Rams are going all out this week in preparing for the coming games next week with West Lampeter (Tuesday), Patton (Wednesday) and Wrightville (Friday). The last two mentioned games are away.

The results of the scrimmages with Upper Leacock met with fair approval. The first scrimmage dealt primarily with a man-to-man defense. The second found the Rams deploying a zone. Coach Houck believes in being able to vary the defense in order to meet different type offenses.

This week more scrimmages are in store for the varsity. Dillsburg was here this afternoon for a long scrimmage. This team is coached by Bucky Walters, former Elizabethtown college star of a few years ago. Walters was a member of the Biglerville high school team of 1946 which Coach Houck coached upon his return from the Marine Corps.

Friday evening the locals will journey to Middletown to scrimmage. This scrimmage will do a lot in deciding the starting line-up for the opening game. It will also tell the coach who is in shape and who isn't.

No curfew has been set this year since it is the policy of the local coach to impress upon the boys that it is their responsibility to the school, the town, themselves and the coach to conduct themselves properly in preparing for the coming season.

Joe Weber and Peter Nissley are fighting for a starting position. Nissley has improved vastly and with his height, he should be a decided asset to the team. Weber has an excellent jump shot, but he has been working on an outside shot during the past week. Bill Eley, who played here on the junior varsity his sophomore year, moved to Manheim last year, but returned this year and stands 6 foot, two inches, and has greatly improved. He has a fine attitude, good jump shot and is a tough man on the boards. Irvin Nauman has improved this year on the board. He is 6 feet tall. He, too, is developing a jump shot since he will be used under the basket.

PROTECT

your water system from WINTER WEATHER

Electric heating cable automatically protects your water lines from freeze-ups. The moment the temperature drops to the danger zone, thermostatic controls send electric heat flowing into the cable and along the pipes... keeping water ready to flow at the turn of the tap. With electric heating cable automatically controlled, you'll have ready water for poultry house, dairy barn, milkhouse and kitchen... without work or worry... even through the most severe freezing weather of the entire winter.

Ask your PP&L Farm Representative, or your local farm equipment dealer for the facts on electric heating cable now. Install it now and forget freeze-up worries this winter.
