Under The Basket

The local Rams came through with flying colors as they defeated a fine Newton-Ransom team 70-59 for the Eastern Regional championship. This game was played at Wilkes College, located in Wilkes-Barre.

It was a thrilling game every minute as both teams traded point for point during the first period. Weber "hit" for three goals to lead the team during this quarter. Metzler and Klugh each made 2 goals while Zeller had one goal and a foul. The Rams led 18-14 at the end of the first quarter.

There was a lull in the scoring during the second period as both teams were rather slow in moving the ball and getting good shots. Nauman, Metzler, Weber and Zeller "canned" goals to keep the Rams in front at the half by the score of 30 to 24.

During the latter part of the second period Klugh and Zeller were out due to fouls. Nauman and Nissley proved themselves capable substitutes as they played inspired ball.

It was a high-scoring third quarter as the two teams scored 37 points during this period. Mount Joy scored 19 of these.

Klugh and Zeller had to be relieved during this period because of fouls but again Nissley and Nauman proved worthy of being Rams. Nissley caged two goals while Nauman was rebounding as he is capable of doing.

As both teams swung into the final period, the Rams were still out in front 49-42. Since Klugh and Zeller had 4 fouls apiece, Coach Houck decided to play possession ball in order to have the time run out. The Rams maintained possession of the ball during the first 55 seconds of this period before Newton-Ransom obtained possession on a rebound and promptly drove to a score. It was this moment when Klugh and Zeller were inserted into the lineup. It wasn't long before the Rams had a lead of 14 points.

Newton-Ransom refused to quit and went down to defeat fighting every inch of the way.

It is difficult to pick any single player as the outstanding player. Captain Klugh played his usual fine game. He "canned" 17 points and 6 rebounds plus 2 assists. Metzler was terrific on the boards. He came up with 25 rebounds during the game. This is a new high for any game this season. In addition to blocking shots he threw in 20 points.

Weber came through with 11 points. With strict orders to shoot, Joe did just that. He made 5 for 13 goal attempts. He also had 5 rebounds and three assists.

Ashenfelter failed to score any field goals during the first half but he came through with 4 during the second half. In addition, he had 4 rebounds and 6 assists.

Zeller came up with 7 points. In addition to this, he had two assists and rebounded 2 times.

Nissley had a nice 2 hand jump from the foul line and a "peep" while Nauman caged 1 jump shot and garnered 4 rebounds.

Eby didn't play as long as the other boys but made his presence known by blocking one shot and rebounding twice.

Penna. Game Commission Weekly Letter

Pennsylvania dog owners and trainers are reminded that except in defense of person or property they may not lawfully permit dogs that are their property or dogs they control to chase or train upon wild game between the 1st day of April and the 31st day of July.

There is one exception to this provision. When the Game Commission receives and approves a petition signed by 250 or more residents of a county, who held hunting licenses of the previous year or who are farmers or sheep raisers, whether licensed to hunt or not, foxes may be lawfully hunted in such county with dogs, day or night, throughout the entire year except for the 60-day period designated by the Commission. That closed period is April 1 to May 30, inclusive.

Pennsylvania Second In Hunting License Sales
Recently, the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service published the names of the ten states ranking at the top in numbers of hunting license sales during the 12-month period ending June 30, 1953.

Michigan took first place in the Nation with hunting license sales of 1,166,720; Pennsylvania ran a close second with 1,095,266.

The figure for the Keystone State does not reflect the number of hunters who go afield annually in the Commonwealth, quoted by game authorities at near one million persons. Special archery and antlerless deer licenses are included with the "regular" resident and nonresident licenses in Pennsylvania's grand total of the period covered. The figures do indicate, however, the tremendous hunting pressure exerted on the wildlife of our state.

Bucks Carry Racks Late
Paul A. Ranck, a game protector living at Williamsport, reported buck deer in his area carrying their antlers much longer than usual. This was true in other parts of the state, also.

Said Ranck: "Three male deer were killed on the highways in my district in February. Each still carried its last year's rack. Several farmers told me they had seen buck with antlers early this month."

Rabbits Born In February
"I had several reports of nests of young rabbits found during the month of February, some as early as the 15th," says Game Protector Raymond E. Holtzapfel, of Snyder County.

Sportsmen Cut Browse For Deer
Recognition has been given sportsmen and Game Commission personnel, in the northern counties of the state particularly, for the excellence and scope of their winter wild turkey feeding program. There, the supply of natural foods for winter wildlife needs was dangerously scant.

Now comes word of organized winter feeding and browse cutting parties in the northwestern part of the state where, in some counties, deer were observed in dire need of sustenance.

There were four browse cutting expeditions, averaging 50 men each time, on State Game Lands No. 86 in Warren County, north of Tidioute. The parties were sponsored by the Tidioute Bucktails and led by Game Protector George H. Burdick.

In the same county, on State Game Lands No. 29, southwest of Warren, Game Protector David R. Titus supervised cutting of brush species of no commercial value as deer food. The Warren County Field and Stream Club promoted this activity. The presence of some sportsmen from Pittsburgh swelled this party to nearly 50 persons.

In Venango County, the Seneca Sportsmen turned out in large numbers to cut deer browse under the direction of Game Protector Leo E. Milford. This was on State Game Lands No. 45, southeast of Franklin.

These are but a few of the many cooperative game feeding projects of one kind or another carried on over the state during the winter. Coupled with the generosity of many farmers, they testify there are many Pennsylvanians interested in caring for the perpetuating wild life during emergencies, as well as harvesting it in hunting seasons.
