THE BULLETIN, Mount Joy, Pa. Thursday, May 6,

Poultry Queen To Be Chosen
Lancaster County's sprawling 25 million dollar poultry industry begins searching this week for its prettiest and most personable daughter.
The lucky young lady will reign as the 1954-55 Lancaster County Poultry Queen. She will be selected Saturday, June 5, at the fourth annual Lancaster County Broiler Barbecue, at Lititz Springs Park.
The nation's leading poultry county has given Pennsylvanians their state poultry queen the past two years. Miss Shirley Brubaker, Manheim R2, was the 1952 winner, and Miss Helen Anne Graybill, Manheim R3, is the reigning queen.
This year's Garden Spot winner will have the same opportunity to seek the state title. She will compete at Hershey on August 28, during the Pennsylvania Dutch Days festival.
Contestants need be only 17 years or older, single and directly associated with the poultry industry. The queen should have some knowledge of poultry and, therefore, should live on a poultry farm or work in some related business, Lowell Blass, contest chairman, explained.
Ten young ladies who survive an initial screening will appear before the public at the chicken barbecue on June 5th, Blass said.
Girls interested in the contest should contact Carroll Barton, at Consolidated Products Co., 1299 Harrisburg Ave., Lancaster.
This year's feast is expected to bring 5,000 persons to Lititz for a taste of mouth-watering chicken barbecued over open pits. Lititz Springs Park was selected to eliminate the crowding experienced when 3,200 turned out last year at the Guernsey Sales Pavilion.
Additional barbecue pits, and the new site insure a comfortable Saturday outing for the hundreds of families who attend each year, Roy B. Herr, Lempeter, and Donald Good, Lancaster, explain.

Rettew's 10-Cow Herd Completes Year Test
Brattleboro, Vt., April 30th—With an average of 11,144 lbs. of milk and 418 pound of butterfat, the 10-cow herd of registered Holstein-Friesians owned by Harvey Rettew, Manheim R2, completed its test year recently. The production averaged approximately 18 quarts daily for each cow in the herd for the year. Testing was carried on under the official Herd Improvement Registry program of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.
Milking was done two times daily and testing was supervised by Penna. State University, in cooperation with the national Holstein headquarters.
RUMMAGE SALE
The ladies of the St. Mary's church, Mount Joy, will hold a rummage sale Friday and Saturday, May 7 and 8 in the Bernhart Building, next to the A&P Store, East Main Street. Anyone wishing to give rummage may contact Mrs. F. M. Lauver and Mrs. Frances Frank.

Farm Calendar
Choose Right Time—Vaccination for hog cholera, or any other preventive vaccination, must be done at the proper time, says Dwight Younkin, Penn State extension animal husbandry specialist. Pigs properly started healthy, and well nourished, usually will be ready to vaccinate at 5 to 8 weeks of age.
Clean Pipeline Milker — A pipeline milker at the Penna. State University has been in operation since July 1953 and has not been taken down. Cleaning is done by flushing, circulation of an acid or alkaline cleaning solution, and flushing again. Washing compounds must be compatible to the water supply and temperature right.
Stop Mosquitoes—There will be fewer mosquitoes, reminds Lloyd Adams, Penn State extension entomologist, if water is not allowed to stand in tin cans, old tires, bottles, and urns. He suggests opening tin cans at both ends. Water holes should be drained and filled or treated to prevent mosquito breeding.
Treat Sheep — The most convenient time to treat sheep for external parasites is in spring after shearing, says Frank Kreuzberger, Penn State extension livestock specialist. Wait ten days or two weeks after shearing to give cuts time to heal.
Continue Feeding — because pasture grass is high in water and a laxative type of feed, continue barn feeding after cows are turned out to pasture, reminds Robert Olmstead, Penn State extension dairy specialist. Feed hay and some grain.
Spray for Rust — To control hollyhock leaf rust, spray at weekly intervals with ferbam plus wettable sulfur, or dust with sulfur or a ferbam-sulfur dust, suggests Allen Bauer, Penn State extension plant pathologist.

BIRTHS
Mr. and Mrs. Richard Marsh, Alameda, California, a daughter on May 1. Mrs. Marsh is the former Corrine Markley, Mount Joy. The baby was named Londa Lee.

Three Cows Pass Production Tests

Averaging 19 quarts daily, Alcartra Snow Model, a registered Holstein owned by J. A. Hook and H. G. Ginder, Jr., Mt. Joy, recently completed an official Herd Improvement Registry production record totalling 11,513 pounds of milk and 516 pounds of butterfat in 287 days.
Testing was supervised by the Penna. State University in cooperation with the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.
Milking twice daily, Alcartra Snow Model was 1 year and 11 months of age when her test began. Her total was about 2¼ times the production of the average U. S. cow.
Harvey Rettew, Locustcroft Farm, Manheim R. D., is the owner of Arjo Woodbine Maid, a cow 5 years of age. She produced 555 pounds of butterfat and 15,545 pounds of milk in 306 days. Milking twice a day, she averaged 24 quarts daily. Her total was 3 times the production of the average U. S. cow.
Lovelace Leader Roma, aged 2 years and 4 months is owned by A. W. Wickenheiser, Mount Joy. She produced 418 pounds of butterfat and 11,793 pounds of milk in 328 days. Milking twice daily, she averaged 17 quarts daily. Her production is 2¼ times the average U. S. cow.
