

OWL LAFFS

BY A WISE OWL

Just ahead of me at the meat counter up at Krall's Saturday a new West Main St. bride was confiding to an older friend...

A young girl on Delta St. wonders where mothers learn all the things they tell their daughters not to do.

Two new members of the fire company were sitting in front of the fire house Monday night talking about their girl friends.

The second fellow, a bit older, pondered the question for a moment, then said: "Now, you've done enough for her already."

"Cappy" Mumma says, The one who should put any faith in a rabbit's foot is a rabbit.

A story goes about a farmer who planted potatoes for a living and at planting time got a 30 day sentence in the klink.

He wrote back: "Don't you dare dig up that field. That's where I hid all my money and guns."

She answered: "Somebody from the jail is reading your mail. The cops were here and dug up the field. What do I do now?"

He who thinks by the inch and talks by the yard ought to be dealt with by the foot.

"Bud" Berrier, is sorry he didn't take up a little botany before he graduated from good old M.J.H.S. - - - He sure is in dutch with his mother - - - Last week while his mother was at the hospital, Bud decided to mow the grass and do a little weeding - - - Mamma not being there to tell him the difference between a weed and flowers, and grass, he cut down practically everything.

East Main Street lady: "Little Boy, I need a loaf of bread from the grocery store. Do you suppose you could go for me?"

Don't get a big dog if you get a hankering to have a dog for a pet. I once knew a man from town who got to be a dog fancier. - - - He got himself a Great Dane. - - - The dog had the house broken before he was.

I overheard an ex-serviceman tell a local Pfc. now stationed at Camp Lejeune, "When arguing with your first sergeant, be sure you are right - - - then let the matter drop."

Here's one for you lucky vacationers: Whenever we plan a vacation a thing that I greatly deplore My wife wants to go to the mountains And I want to go to the shore. But whether we're up in the mountains Or watching the sea's foamy crest, From there we agree where
