opportunity for all local citizens to express their feelings about whether or not to have a community building, whether or not to complete the renovations of the Boy Scout building or what else could be done with the grade school plot Members of the school board have asked the townspeople for the past year for their suggestions as to what should be done with the plot.

The situation has now come to a head. The decision must be made Monday night. If we do want a community building on that plot of land we must make many decisions. Will a community building work? Who will be responsible for it? Can we raise enough money for its erection? What room and how many floors should it have?

In order to decide and vote Monday night between completing the Boy Scout building or erecting a community building, all these questions must be answered.

Don't talk over the situation with your neighbor that night, bring your criticisms and suggestions to the open public meeting on Monday, August 30, in the present grade school building.

Public Asked To Give Views At Meeting

Increasing interest among various people in Mount Joy has prompted the calling of a public meeting to discuss the possibility of erecting a community building on the site of the old grade school.

The meeting will be held on Monday at 8 p. m. at the old high school building. Civic organizations are invited to be represented and any interested individuals will be welcome.

In view of this development, the Boy Scout troop committee called off its scheduled houseto-house canvass for funds Tuesday evening to await further developments. Purpose of the drive, which to date has netted over $1,000, was to provide funds for renovation of the Greider building, which was donated for Boy Scout use.

Several persons recently have pointed out that the Greider building would provide facilities for the Boy Scouts only, while a community building would be available to serve other needs.

Some workers had covered their areas on Tuesday before they could be informed of the cancellation. Miss Christine Weidman canvassed both sides of Main street from Barbara street east, and Warren Hayman and Bernard Grissinger had covered North Barbara street.

The troop committee emphasized that these sections would
