

OWL LAFFS

BY A WISE OWL

It really doesn't matter if this column smells or not this week - - - the "Boss" won't be here to read it.

"Bus" Kramer and Henry G. haven't been on speaking terms since the School and Home Association festival - - - It all came about a 85c piece of ice. Sam Dock's little speech didn't help things any either - - - by this time a treaty may have been signed - - - Myrtle Nornhold says if the outlook isn't any better by Saturday, she will have Mr. Gainer put partitions between the counter stools and the booths in the restaurant.

"Les" Kaylor took several friends to the races at Brandywine, Delaware last week one evening - - - with the guidance of Arion Shelly, "Dyke" Garber and Jack Shultz, they took a short cut home - - - by the way of Philadelphia.

"Dyke" says they won't get lost the next time - - - he was down last Friday evening and has found several good markers to guide them home - - - the "202" and "302" Inns.

If you were about town last Friday night you would have noticed that Fall is right around the corner - - - "Philosopher" Enck is starting to frequent his old haunts - - -

Watch out for those folding chairs at the fire house "Bill"!

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Miller, North High Street, Mount Joy, (That much I am sure of) will leave, or have left for somewhere or someplace. They expect to return sometime.

Did you see Clyde Nissly, and his wife since they started their weekly hikes? Clyde wants to reduce, and he sure is fading away! I believe he lost at least eighteen ounces - - - Keep walking Clyde.

Up at Newcomer's Garage, one of the mechanics was explaining: "A bride wears white, as a symbol of happiness, for her wedding day is the most joyful in her life."

Then "Funkie" had to spoil everything by asking "Why do men wear black?"

Bob Divet, Sr., said he'll never forget the day he was born. He said he cried like a baby.

A Main Street man had his nose in the newspaper and the wife was feeling unusually neglected. "You never speak to me as affectionately as you used to, - - - she complained. "Have you stopped loving me?"

"There you go again!" growled the husband. "Stopped loving you! Listen, woman: I worship you. I adore you. I love you more than life itself. Now shut your big mouth and let me read my paper."

Old men are fond of giving good advice, to console themselves for being no longer in a position to give bad examples.

Some people don't believe that Washington actually threw a silver dollar across the Rappahannock.

They should - "I heard that he pitched his camp across the Delaware!"

"Aren't people funny?"

"If you tell a man that there are 230,492,850,284 stars in the universe he'll believe you—but if a sign says 'Fresh Paint', that same man has to make a personal investigation."

EDITORIAL:

INSULTING AMERICA INTELLIGENCE

"Give-away" has become a favorite word of self-styled liberals in their adamant opposition to the participation of private citizens or private enterprise in the development of atomic energy and expansion of electric power resources. The extremity of their tirade sounds almost as ridiculous as the ranting of communist party line followers. The suggestion that managements of present day utility companies operating within the confines of stringent state and federal regulation might be "given" anything at the expense of taxpayers is an insult to the intelligence of the American people. The same may be said of the debate over amendments to the Atomic Energy Act wherein the same "give-away" side show tactics obstructed serious discussion and blocked needed action for months.

The Washington D. C. Evening Star points out that "... it is of utmost importance for the United States to do everything possible to achieve world leadership as soon as it can in harnessing the atom in a way that will enable nuclear power to compete on a relatively equal footing with the conventional sources of energy. . . . But this is something that cannot be obtained by the AEC working alone behind the walls of secrecy with private enterprise frozen out of the picture. . . ."

"Accordingly. . . this completely specious 'give-away' charge in effect called for a continuing Government monopoly that would result. . . in deplorable and perhaps very dangerous delays in the development of American nuclear power for peacetime purposes."

Attempting to block legitimate industrial development by private enterprise is not a mark of liberalism. It is simple demagoguery.

YOU'RE WORKING FOR THE GOVERNMENT
Citizens Public Expenditure Survey defines a taxpayer as "one who doesn't have to pass a civil service exam to work for the government."

The average man in the $4500 bracket works one day in every three to earn tax money alone! If he is employed on the usual 40-hour, five-day week basis, he works more hours to pay taxes than he does to meet both his housing and clothing needs.

That's a bleak picture. But a ray of sunshine is found in the fact that the new federal budget marks a reduction from its predecessors—and that the tax cuts proposed by the Administration and authorized by Congress have provided us with some measure of relief.

Now the hope is that larger cuts in both spending and taxes will be possible in the future. Practically everyone, in and out of government, wants that. But the goal will be impossible of attainment unless it is honestly supported by the public at large. That means we must do much more than just advocate economy as a vague general principle. We must be willing to approve economy moves when they directly affect us—not the other fellow only. Long ago it was said that the people get the kind of government they deserve, and that goes for fiscal affairs as well as everything else.

LIKE A SCHOOL WITHOUT A TEACHER!
A small town without a newspaper would be like a school without a teacher or a church without a pastor!

That striking opinion comes from Professor John H. Casey of the Department of Journalism of the University of Oklahoma. He went on to say this: "In the aggregate, the country newspaper determines the outcome of more elections, exerts a greater influence for constructive community progress, is read longer by more members of the family, and constitutes, with its millions of circulation and quadrupled millions of readers, a better advertising medium than any other group of newspapers or periodical publications.

"Through service to its community, the country newspaper will not merely survive; it will continue to flourish. . . ."

Among the speakers to appear during the three days of events are: Dr. E. Fay Campbell, executive director of the Division of Higher Education of the Presbyterian Church; Dean G. D. Simmons, of Temple University School of Dentistry; Dr. William Coleman, Dean of Bucknell University; Dr. Wilbur McKee, director of the Office of Special Services to Business and Industry, New York University; Dr. Ralph Cooper Hutchinson, president, Lafayette College; Dr. Elmer Homeighausen, Professor of Practical Theology, Princeton Theological Seminary.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

As we zoom along toward autumn and with Congress home—and summing up how we stand—means the time is ripe for checking up on just what is to be done about our cleaning up the prodigal goings-on the past 20 years. It is time to go to the mat—find out how come the ceiling still cramps our style—Govt. style that is. Ask our great man—senator or congressman—what he has been doing the past year to earn his seat.

It is easy to get into debt—getting out is the tedious and tiresome trick, but a 100 percent necessary task or somebody will foreclose on the mortgage. Split milk is spilt milk, and putting a finger on the gents and culprits of the past who pulled the wool over our eyes, is alright as history but the question is how are we going to calk up the old boat and keep afloat—and a jump ahead of the sheriff.

We gotta pull ourselves together—use our noggin—get the Govt. out of 100 places where it is gumming up the machinery. Hire a good auctioneer—sell all the misfits—apply the cash to our mile high debt—let the new owners pay taxes which Sambo don't do—or America won't be America one of these mornings. End of essay.

Yours with the low down,
JO CERRA

When the new tank goes into service, both the present cemetery reservoir and the present steel standpipe, located on Donegal Street will be abandoned. The Engineer warned that because the water now will come from a different location, the pipe flows throughout the Borough will change and, therefore, the sediment in the distribution mains will be stirred up and discolored water may be experienced for some time. This, however, will not affect the safety of the water because it has been previously chlorinated and filtered.
