1955 Farm Show Dedicated to State University

More than half a million people will visit the 39th Pennsylvania Farm Show January 10-14 and pay tribute to The Pennsylvania State University for its 100 years of service to agriculture. Upper left inset shows the single building of the Pennsylvania Farmers' High School chartered in 1855. It grew into the State University symbolized by the view of the rebuilt "Old Main" at upper right. Below is main entrance to Farm Show building in Harrisburg.
