Safety Hints Offered For Spring Gardening Activities

"With the sun rising higher in the sky these crisp spring days bring on the irresistible urge to be outside to spade the garden, or tidy up the lawn, or spruce up the flower beds. These activities are lots of fun, as long as the urge does not lead to over-exertion," declared Miss Mary Elizabeth Yost, Home Economics Education, State Department of Public Instruction. The home economist is cooperating with the Penna. Rural Safety Council in an effort to reduce rural accidents.

Miss Yost urged the following safe practices:

1. Store tools neatly in garage or tool shop.
2. Be doubly careful with younger children around. Rakes should be laid with prongs down and shovels or spades pushed in to the ground upright as a protection to children.
3. Sharpen the garden tools. Dull tools double the work.
4. Give clothes poles and lines a wide berth when swinging tools.
5. Store poisons and insecticides out of reach of children.

Hi-School Corner

By MARY SMITH
Class of '58

On April 1 and 2 the Juniors of Donegal High School presented their play "The Call of the Banshee" in the high school auditorium.

Two assemblies were held on Tuesday, April 5. The morning assembly was presented by Ray Mayer, a magician. Mr. Mayer's show followed a humorous scale and was very much enjoyed by the student body.

The afternoon assembly was a special Easter assembly. Slides were shown of the arrest and trial of Jesus, of His Judgment and Crucifixion, and of the Resurrection. Peter Nissley was the narrator.

Mr. Houck sang a solo of "The Holy City". The Senior quartet, composed of the voices of Ken Good, John Heistand, David Weidman and George Frank, sang "The Old Rugged Cross." They were accompanied by Barbara Martin.

The girls trio composed of the voices of Alma Smith, Ruth Drescher and Barbara Martin sang "When Christ Arose."

School was then dismissed and will convene at the regular time Tuesday, April 12.

The Freshmen Academic English Literature class was assigned to write poems. Paula Wien, Marietta wrote the following poem having to do with our basketball team.

"THE TEAM"

At school early last fall
To the boys came the call,
Come one, come all, to play basketball
For your school, Donegal.

Out came Ashenfelter, Metzler, and Grove
With Kugle and Heistand willing to rove.
There were others who came by the drove Eager and anxious, their skill to prove.

Away the team went to a good start Around the players they would dart.
Never from the ball would they part Until another score was put on the chart.

Always they were followed by a crowd of schoolmates, cheering long and loud.
These boys didn't need a shroud
They won, and Donegal was proud.

As a Rule..Most Everyone Attends Church

Easter Sunday

BUT WHAT about the other 51 Sundays of the year? How many of us make it a point to attend church consistently throughout the year? Of course your pastor will be pleased to see you at church on Easter Sunday, and then why not be there every Sunday, and make him realize that you are not just a "once-a-year" attendant.

Your presence at church will help swell the increased attendance which has been in evidence during the Back-to-Church campaign, and will be gratifying to those who have endeavored to make this moment a success.
