

OWL LAFFS

BY A WISE OWL

George Houck, music instructor at Donegal High School recently kept an engagement at a church in Lancaster. Upon his arrival at the church, Geo. introduced himself, and announced that he was there to lead the singing - - - which he did, and very capably - - - but, after the affair, George, by chance picked up a program that was lying on one of the tables and glancing over it casually, discovered - - - that's right, he was in the wrong church.

When a woman driver sticks her hand out you can be sure of one thing - the car window is open.

Overheard a Park Street hubby tell his wife that she was a very pretty girl.

She quickly replied: "Now, now, you'd say so even if you didn't think so."

Hubby: "Sure. And you'd think so even if I didn't say so."

If you haven't anything to do some evening, come over town and watch Len Saffko water his newly planted lawn - - - I dare not print what "Spook" Kaylor says about it.

A little Frank Street boy was crying bitterly last Tuesday evening. His mother asked him what was the matter. "My new shoes hurt me." "No wonder" His mother said "You have them on the wrong feet."

The lad kept on bawling. "I haven't any other feet," he said.

One day, an old man from Florin, who lived in the same house for 30 years, surprised his neighbors by moving into the house next door. Reporters were sent to see why he had moved. When they asked him, he replied, "I guess it's just the gypsy in me."

Last Friday night I met an old friend of mine who I owed some money. He told me he'll meet me half way, and that he's willing to forget half the money I owe him.

I told him: "Okay, I'm willing to forget the other half."

Over at the fire house one of the fellows asked another - if when he was a little boy did he try to follow in his father's footsteps?

Bill: "Yes, I did - But those swinging doors kept knocking my hat off!"

Last week our boss was having the office equipment insured against theft. As the insurance agent made a note of each article to be insured, he said:

"How about that clock on the wall?"

"Oh, that's safe, replied the boss. "The help always keeps an eye on that."

Two fellows down at the Richfield Gas Station were discussing women in general, their good and bad points.

After some discussion George said, "There are two things women like to push around."

Frank: "What?"

George: "Men and furniture."

Then after a little more discussion, they agreed that "Marriage is the cause of all divorces."

An East Main Street spouse, complained to her husband: "Before we were married you swore that you loved me, and would go through - - - for me."

Husband: "Well, what have you got to grumble over; Ever since we did get married I've kept my promise, haven't I?"

Two Receive Awards At School Of Nursing Graduation

Two local girls were the recipients of two of the fourteen awards given at the fifty-first annual graduation exercises of the Lancaster General Hospital School of Nursing last Thursday evening in the McCaskey High School auditorium. The class of 60 was the largest in the school's history.

Miss Mary Jane Starr, North Barbara Street, Mount Joy, received the ethical and professional award for the ethical and professional manner in which she conducted herself. Miss Patricia B. Brooks, Main Street, Florin, won the obstetrical award for outstanding maternity technique, good nursing, care of the patient, efficient manner, scholastic standing and excellent case study.

The class was presented for diplomas and school pins by Mrs. Edythe G. Kistler, R.N., B. S., director of the school of nursing. Leslie S. Hubbard, president of the board of directors, presented the diplomas and Dr. Joseph Appleyard, president of the medical staff, awarded the prizes. Miss Eva Alexander, R.N., class adviser, pinned on the pins.
