

OWL LAFFS

BY A WISE OWL

Al Huck was telling the customers at the barber shop that when as a kid he was smarter than Abraham Lincoln. He said he could recite Lincoln's Gettysburg Address when he was only 13 years old while Lincoln was 50 years old before he did it.

There is no such thing as a dangerous woman; there are only susceptible men.

Two moonshiners from back the Blue Ridge mountains were discussing operations.

"When I take my stuff into town," one of them said, "ah always drives mighty slow — about 20 miles per hour."

"Skereed of the law?" the other asked.

"No," answered the first. "Gotta age the stuff."

An expert is when you know something nobody else cares about.

Sunday night at a family gathering, while discussing chickens, "Toots" Mateer was telling the folks that the best fowl was the "Red Island Rhode."

Joe, the Barber: "Look, mister, was your tie red when you came in here?"

Victim: "Heck, no, it was black."

Joe: "Oops, sorry, then. I've just cut your throat."

Everybody 'is? willing to forget the past when it catches up with him.

The customer at a local lunch counter was struggling valiantly with his not-so-choice steak and said to the proprietor: "It's a shame to fry a tire that still has that much tread on it."

When a married man tells you that when he talks his wife sis up and takes notice, he probably meant that he talks in his sleep.

"Pop" Ebersole says they should print pari-mutuel tickets on hard tack. Even if you lose you won't go hungry.

Figures may not lie, but girdles keep a lot of them from telling the truth.

If a woman's intuition is so wonderful, how come they ask so many questions?
