often as they desire during this three-hour period with the purchase of one $1.00 ticket. These rides include the ferris wheel, roller coaster, fun house, cude-up, merry-go-round, whip, miniature railroad, auto scooter and airplane.

The supper period will be from 5 to 6:30 p.m. and gate prizes will be awarded at 6:30. The Free return buses will leave the park at 8:45 p. m.

The $1.00 tickets are now on sale at Sloan's and Tyndall's or from any JayCee member. The committee of JayCeers in charge of the event also announced that Rocky Springs is now under new management. The group also inspected the park prior to making plans for the picnic to be held there.

Persons who do not wish to go on the 9:00 a. m. bus and who do not drive autos to the park may also board any CTC bus into Lancaster City and then take a Rocky Springs bus to the park.

Arrangements have also been made with park officials in case of inclement weather. Both the ballroom and the roller skating rink will be open to the public in case of rain.

The "Club Room" located near the entrance of the park will be for the use of Mothers with small children. Cots and television will be provided in the room for the day. The new bowling alleys recently built on the park grounds will also be open for the day.

Rancks Are Guests Of Honor At Program

Dr. and Ezra H. Ranck were the guests of honor at a surprise program in honor of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary following the annual picnic of the St. Mark's E. U. B. Sunday School Wednesday evening.

Following a devotional period during which David Risser, Warren Bentzel and Mrs. Warren Neff had charge, a "Pageant of the Brides" was presented. Mrs. Bernerd Grisinger modeled the oldest gown, that worn by Mrs. Vesta Grisinger's mother in 1879. Miss Joyce McMillan modeled the dress of Mrs. John Booth's mother worn in 1883; Miss Carol Buchenauer modeled the gown of John Booth's mother of 1896; Miss Jean Miller modeled that of Mrs. Robert Brubaker's mother of 1899.

The gown of Miss Alice Marie Nissley's mother worn in 1903 was worn by Mrs. Frank Aument and the going away outfit was modeled by Mrs. Minnie Bates. Mrs. Robert Brubaker modeled the gown of Mrs. Daniel Will's mother of 1906 and Mrs. Ralph Berrier modeled that of Mrs. Herbert Tyndall worn in 1930. Much to the surprise of Mrs. Ranck, Miss Jerry Barrick modeled Mrs. Ranck's wedding gown, although it, in the meantime, had been dyed and altered.

Miss Shirley Eby wore the dress of Mrs. Lloyd Vogel of the 1935 era; Mrs. Joseph Buchenauer wore her wedding dress of 1927; Ralph Shoemaker wore the gown of Mrs. Arthur Sprecher of 1938. Miss Joyce Berrier wore the dress of Mrs. Oliver Mateer who was the first bride to be married by Dr. Ranck in Mount Joy in 1939.

Miss Darla Kulp wore the dress of Mrs. Karl Haines from 1940 and Mrs. Lester Hostetter wore the gown of Mrs. Lee Eshleman of 1940. The gown of Mrs. Paul Gingrich of 1945 and later worn by her sister, Gloria (Mrs. Charles Maurer) in 1948 was modeled by Mrs. Maurer.

Mrs. Elwood Mateer modeled her gown of 1947; Mrs. David Risser modeled her gown of 1948; Mrs. James Kauffman modeled her gown of 1948; and the last model was Mrs. Jack Taylor, the former Miss Barbara Ranck, married by her father June 25, 1955. Mrs. Arthur Sprecher was narrator for the pageant; Mrs. Lloyd Vogel played the piano accompaniment; and Mrs. Clifford Schmid sang "I Love You Truly" following the showing of Mrs. Ranck's gown.

Gift Given
Following the pageant, Dr. and Mrs. Ranck were presented with a hundred dollar "money tree". The money was arranged by Mrs. John Herr to form calla lilies from the bills with silver coin centers. The arrangement also included silver dollar "flowers" against a background of greens. The tree was a gift from the Sunday School classes, organizations and individuals.

Other guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Will and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sprecher who celebrate their silver anniversary this year.

Picnic Supper First
A picnic supper was held at the Hostetter Pavilion at 6:00 p. m. which was followed by a game period for the various age groups at the park. Arthur Sprecher was in charge of the picnic arrangements and Mrs. Clinton Eby, in charge of the pageant.

Following the program, the Rancks cut the tiered wedding cake. Over 225 persons were in attendance and were served ice cream and cake at the close of the evening.

PREVENT FOREST FIRES!

Flame Weeding Boosts Farm Output

LA JUNTA, Colo.—Often called "Nature's mortgage" on farm property, weeds can reduce production up to 30%, according to agricultural experts.

Growing in irrigation and drainage ditches, they obstruct the flow of water and increase irrigation time and costs. Weeds along fence rows and other isolated areas contaminate nearby fields and can double the cost of cultivating and hoeing. They can also consume up to 35% of the food values in average farm soil, robbing crops of nourishment.

Mounted on a tractor which tows a mobile liquefied petroleum gas fuel tank, the new weed burner illustrated can direct a 6- to 12-foot blanket of flame to clear a mile of dense weed growth per hour. Smaller models mounted on pick-up trucks travel three to five miles per hour and use only 40 gallons of LP-Gas (butane-propane) to destroy an acre of weed growth along the average ditch bank. Roadside or plots with growth of lesser density can be controlled at lower cost figures.

With such plants as water grass or burdocks, growth can easily be controlled with three gas flaming applications per eight-month growing season. Research tests show, that after the third year, only one application is needed to maintain a desirable soil condition.

Because it is safe, economical to use and available in all sections of the country, LP-Gas makes an ideal weed-burner fuel.

LEGISLATIVE ROUND-UP

Harrisburg - (PNS) - What happens to those vegetable

By Pennsylvania News Service
Harrisburg — Pennsylvania's lawmakers this week hit a crucial week as the long-awaited test of the governor's proposed income tax comes to a head in the House of Representatives—a house technically dominated by Democrats 112-98, but on the income tax issue as this is written there is indeed a question as to ability to muster the required 106 votes needed for passage of the income tax bill.

Should the measure reach the Republican-dominated Senate the hassle-dassle can be expected to start all over again as administration forces drive for needed votes.

Elsewhere on the legislative front during the week, the House is now considering the Senate-passed Korean bonus bill, to which Senate Democrats unsuccessfully tried to tack on a rider calling for a graduated income tax to pay the bonus.

If passed by the 1957 session of the Legislature the question then becomes a matter for the voters to settle in a referendum that year.

Up for final consideration in the Senate this week is the badly battered FEPC bill that would prohibit job employment discrimination because of race, color, or creed — and under terms of a Senate amendment, because of age.

Stop-gap appropriations moved through the Legislature without too much of a slowdown—the only answer to underwriting the cost of state government pending adoption of a final permanent tax structure for the Keystone State.

Meanwhile the deadline has come and gone for action by the Senate on a bill that would provide annual sessions of the Legislature instead of the current biennial sessions. Passed by the 1953 session and now ready for consideration by the current session, the bill had to be approved last week to meet deadline for being placed on the ballot for the voters this fall.

On the new-bill front fewer and fewer bills are appearing, although these new ones have been introduced which would:

- Place both the department of Welfare and Health under civil service;
- Authorize county institution districts to sell surplus farm products and other personal property;
- Appropriate money for the purchase of large-type books and aids for partially sighted children in school;
- Require school districts of the first class to provide kindergartens;
- Transfer enforcement of the Narcotic Law from the Department of Health to a State Narcotics Commission;
- Authorize the use of long bows and arrows for capturing or killing carp;
- Require physicians and hospitals to report cases of treatment for wounds;
- Prohibit the carrying of any deadly weapon in any vehicle.

PP&L ANNUAL REPORT WINS ADDED HONORS

Pennsylvania Power & Light Company's 1954 annual report to shareholders has been honored with its ninth consecutive "Merit Award" in the 15th annual report survey conducted by Financial World, national business and investment magazine.

The latest award, 21st national citation won by the local utility's annual report in ten years, qualifies it for final judging in the operating utility category, one of 100 industrial classifications, as well as for the top "Oscar-of-Industry" trophy.

The award certificate cited PP&L's 1954 annual report "as among the most modern from the standpoint of content, typography and format of the 5,000 annual reports examined."

Earlier this year at the Edison Electric Institute convention in Los Angeles, the company's same report received the top place award among electric utilities of 400,000 customers and over.

STATE ASSISTS POULTRYMEN

Harrisburg (PNS) — Wet-nursing chickens is one of the everyday chores of Pennsylvania's Department of Agriculture—and a vitally important industrial chore at that.

Some scope of the size of the task can be seen from the fact that it annually involves the testing of better than two million blood samples (of chickens) sent to the department of poultrymen and farmers from all over the state.

As in the case of humans, the checks are for determining the presence in flocks of ailments, principally pullorum disease of poultry, but additionally many other diseases.

In the past few years Pennsylvania's poultry disease diagnostic service has been appreciably expanded so that it is now available in five of the principal poultry regions of the state. This is in addition to the central laboratory near Harrisburg.

These "branch" or regional laboratories are located at the Penna. State University, New Bolton near Kennett Square, Doylestown, Butler and Tunkhannock.

Poultrymen can take their dead or sick birds to these regional laboratories for diagnosis of the ailment—without any charge—in order to prevent further spread through their flocks

WASHINGTON AND SMALL BUSINESS
By C. WILSON HARDER

As tax collections show, burden of U. S. foreign policy undertaking falls heavy on American independent business.

In addition, there is a purely American psychological outlook on U. S. foreign policy among independent businessmen, which world meddling politicians apparently recognize and capitalize upon.

The average American independent businessman holds to two basic premises. One is that promises must be backed up. Other is legal maxim principal is responsible for acts of his agents.

Thus, Americans by and large have been quite chagrined, even mortified by the disclosures of Yalta and other conferences whereby lands and people have been bartered away to communistic nations in exchange for something else, with the U. S. committed to back up the secretly arrived at deals. And even though these agreements have been made without knowledge of the people, or even without Congressional permission, they were made by agents of the American people, and thus under old legal maxim of a principal's responsibility for acts of an agent, a strong sense of responsibility is felt on Main Street.

Therefore, many students of government feel it is of paramount importance that Sen. William E. Jenner has introduced a simple resolution known as Senate Res. No. 95 to stop this.

This resolution states "No official or employee of the Government of the United States, or members of its armed services, shall be held responsible for acts of national protection.

What Advertising Does . . .

- When someone starts advertising, Someone starts buying;
- When someone starts buying, Someone starts selling;
- When someone starts selling, Someone starts making;
- When someone starts making, Someone starts working;
- When someone starts working, Someone starts earning;
- When someone starts earning, Someone starts buying;

An endless chain, so to speak, and the merchant who doesn't advertise and advertise regularly is doing nothing if he isn't breaking links in this endless chain.
