THE BULLETIN, Mount Joy, Pa. Thursday, July 28 7

Mount Joy Rotary Tops District In Attendance

Mount Joy Rotary club topped the district in attendance for the month of June, Walter C. Sloan, attendance chairman, reported at Tuesday's meeting. Average attendance for June was 99.4 per cent.

The local club placed fifth in the district for the entire year. Two new members were taken into the club Tuesday. They are Dick Gerberich and Ken Smith. John M. Booth was in charge of the induction ceremonies.

Speaker of the day was Paul Rodenhauer, production manager for WGAL-TV of Lancaster. His subject was "Television—Past and Present."

WGAL-TV was a pioneer in telecasting, since Lancaster was the 27th city in the United States to have television, and WGAL was the 42nd station authorized by the FCC.

Mr. Rodenhauer gave an interesting account of the growth of WGAL-TV and information concerning the operation of a television station.

Rain Needed Soon As Farmers Face Drought Condition

By Pennsylvania News Service Pennsylvania's parched and drying farm crops continued to parch during the week as scattered showers in some sections of the state helped little if at all.

Rain is needed soon unless farmers of the Keystone State are to face another disastrous summer drought. Meanwhile elsewhere on the Pennsylvania farm front farmers during the week were mainly engaged in cutting second crop hay, cultivating corn and harvesting wheat and winter oats.

Corn fields are spotty but on the whole have fairly good color. Fields are showing tassels in the south and central portions of the state and nearly all have been cultivated for the last time.

Marketing of sweet corn is now under way in growing quantity and some tomatoes are beginning to appear on the stands in the southeast. Tomatoes look good generally but some fields are reported thin, with high temperatures affecting the set. Potatoes are generally good except in the north central counties where vines have started to wilt from the high temperatures combined with lack of adequate rainfall.

Digging of cobbles is under way in the southeast. Tobacco fields generally look very good. Apples, peaches and pears are sizing well.
