Three Cows Tested
By Holstein Group

Announcement has been received from the Holstein-Friesian Association of America of the completion of an official production record by a registered Holstein cow owned by J. Lester Charles, Landisville. Charlaway Lucifer Prociase produced 522 pounds of butterfat, 13,907 pounds of milk and averaged 18 quarts daily. Tested at the age of 7 years and one month, she was milked twice daily for 365 days.

Clovena Lucifer Rose, owned by Henry Hess of Mount Joy, produced 696 pounds of butterfat and 19,391 pounds of milk. With the testing starting at 5 years and 1 month, she produced 25 quarts daily and was milked twice daily for 365 days.

Carnation Lola Heilo Letta, owned by M. M. Wenger, of Rheems, produced 523 pounds of butterfat and 15,566 pounds of milk when she was milked twice daily for 365 days. She was 5 years and 7 months old when the testing started. Her average quarts daily were 20.

The University of Pennsylvania supervised the weighing and testing of the milk for this record and it is a part of the Herd Improvement Registry Department of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America in Brattleboro, Vermont. This program is designed to give an official production record on every cow in the herd every year so that wise selection for increased efficiency can be made.

SEED FARMERS URGED TO CLEAR OUT WEEDS

Harrisburg - PNS - Growers of certified seed in Pennsylvania were cautioned this week by the Dept. of Agriculture to step up their efforts to keep their crops clear of weeds, diseases and other crops if they hope to meet state specifications for the seed certification.

Early reports indicate that the percentage of rejection has been fairly high due to a large number of independent growers and commercial seedmen neglected to carry out a thorough roughing practice, Pennsylvania News Service learned this week.

It was pointed out to a PNS reporter that there are 4 main reasons for most rejections of seed. Most common is the appearance of other crops of varieties of the same crop showing in the field that is intended for certification.

Next in order are the presence of noxious weeds, other weeds, plant disease and insects. A spokesman for the department noted that the growing of certified seed is a painstaking job and requires careful elimination of other crop and noxious weeds throughout the growing season.

Agents of the Department of Agriculture are following up on control recommendations intended to improve the production of certified seed in Penna.

HURRICANES CHANGE CROP PROSPECTS

It took a couple of hurricanes—Connie and Diane—to perk up and batter down farm and garden crops throughout the Keystone State, crop weather surveys showed this week.

In the first place the long-awaited and much-needed rainfall was adequate—more so in some areas where streams inundated crops—to give renewed life to many a farm crop, while some were beyond help.

Rains came too late for some corn in eastern counties, for example—much of it is short and too badly damaged to yield well. In the southeast much corn was blown down by the strong winds. Some damaged corn has already been fed to livestock or ensiled.

Prospects for late cuttings of hay have improved materially with fields showing renewed growth. Pastures are starting to revive. In the northeast buckwheat is in good condition and is in bloom.

Potato and tobacco crops have a much improved prospect. Harvesting of early apples continues a pace in all areas but size is smaller than usual.

POINTERS GIVEN ON KEEPING CATTLE
LOSSES AT MINIMUM

Harrisburg - PNS - With the approach of fall months when cattle movement becomes fairly heavy once more in and about Penna. farms, a word of caution was issued by the State Dept. of Agriculture to help farmers prevent losses during such periods.

The department pointed out that every year during this heavy cattle movement losses are sustained through improper care and handling of animals to be shipped resulting, in what is known generally as cattle fever.

It was explained to a Penna. News Service reporter that it is almost certain that all or most shipped cattle will have been exposed to the organism that causes the fever—known as Pasteurella—which sometimes may be found in healthy cattle.

It was noticed that in its acute stages the disease frequently causes death of the animals, especially when the germ hits cattle that are tired weak mis-handled in shipping or poorly fed.

GIRL SCOUT MEETING IS SEPTEMBER 12

The first fall meeting of the Mount Joy-Florin Girl Scout Neighborhood group will be held Monday evening, Sept. 12, at the home of Mrs. James Spangler, Park Ave. The meeting will begin at 8:00 p. m. and will feature the showing of pictures and discussion of the trip taken by the Senior Girl Scouts of the borough.

Since the regular night for the neighborhood meeting is the first Monday of every other month, the meeting has been moved one week due to Labor Day.

ANNUAL WEIDMAN REUNION SCHEDULED

The annual Weidman reunion will be held Sunday, Sept. 4, at the Litz Springs Park. Regardless of the weather, the reunion will be held.

Dinner will be served at 12 noon and will feature a "Luck Lunch". Persons who will attend are asked to bring two things for the lunch and "plenty of them". They are also asked to bring their own silver, plates, and cups. Coffee will be provided.

HEISEY REUNION HELD

The twenty-eighth Heisey reunion was held Sunday at the Mount Pleasant Brethren in Christ Church, north of Mount Joy, with 150 persons attending. Plans were made for the erection of a bronze marker next spring to honor John Heisey who settled in Lebanon Township before 1748. New officers of the group were also elected.

Common symptoms are going off feed, eye and nose discharges, fever, scouring or profuse diarrhea, and loss of weight. Calves are especially susceptible. To prevent development of the fever, vaccination and careful handling are most helpful.

RAIN HELPS, BUT SOME CROPS PAST
HELP, SURVEY SHOWS

Recent rains throughout most sections of the state have very much helped Pennsylvania farm crops - what there is left of them - but on the other hand many a southeastern farmer is just beginning to crawl out from under the deluge from the hurricanes that all but washed away many plantings.

Surveys now clearly indicate that the Pennsylvania corn crop in the eastern and southern sections of the state in particular have passed the point of moisture assistance. Stalks are either wilted or battered.

The apple crop harvest is continuing but as it progresses it is evident that quantity rather than size and quality is the predominant factor.

The peach harvest has become increasingly active during the past week's heavy rains.

Once-browned and dried out pastures have begun to come to life with a green cover as dairy farmers once more turn their cattle loose to graze rather than ensilage feeding.

Hay prospects are improving and indications are that late cuttings may turn out fairly well. Late season tomatoes are beginning to appear in greater quantity as they ripen under a warm sun and sub-soil moisture.

Hurricanes come and go while bottle gas users continue to cook and water heat with dependable gas. Ward Bottle Gas, Ephrata. 34-2c

LET ME HELP YOU DO MORE WORK FASTER.
WITH FEWER HANDS...
ELECTRICALLY!

'You'll do more work faster with fewer hands . . . electrically!' That's your PP&L Farm Representative speaking . . . and he talks from broad experience in his job of telling Central Eastern Pennsylvania's progressive farmers of faster, easier, automatic ways of using Reddy Kilowatt, the electric farm-hand.

Reddy has proved that he can do all or part of hundreds of farm and farm home chores. If you're one of the farm families not yet using his services to the fullest extent, have a PP&L Farm Representative show you how electricity can increase your production and profits . . . with no increase in human help. And, for all our customers who already know what a help Reddy can be, remember he's always "on call" . . . in the person of the PP&L Farm Representative for your area. Take advantage of his background and training whenever you have a problem.
