fer, president of Millersville State Teachers College; Dr. Q. A. W. Rohrbach, president of Kutztown State Teachers College; Dr. Harry L. Kriner, president of Shippensburg State Teachers College; Dr. Charles S. Swope, president of West Chester State Teachers College; W. E. Alexander, president of the Lancaster County National Bank, were all named directors and Miss Anna E. Leaman, secretary to the board.

Scholarships are given in a seven county area, Lancaster, Lebanon, Berks, Cumberland, Dauphin, York, and Chester. Last year $36,000 was given by the company in scholarships.

Banquet Served
Mr. Schroll presided at the annual banquet and Dr. Mylin was toastmaster for the occasion. Following singing led by Mr. Mumma and prayer by Dr. Beamesderfer, a banquet was served to 185 SICO employees while dinner music consisting of violin and piano played in the background.

According to statistics, this was the largest number of employees to attend the annual affair and was also the greatest percentage to attend.

Mr. Seiler spoke to the group and explained the new Foundation to the employees. He also introduced the directors and officers of the foundation of which all were in attendance except Mrs. Schock; the directors and officers of the SICO Company; and the company attorneys, Fleming Bomar, Esq., of Irvin, Phillips and Barker, Washington, D. C.; James R. Morford, Esq., of Morford and Bennethum, Wilmington, Del.; and Louis S. May, Esq., Lancaster.

Service Pins Given

Dr. Mylin called the employees to receive service pins which were presented by Mr. Schroll and assisted by Mr. Mumma. William S. Sheaffer was given a service pin for his fifty-five years of employment; Harvey J. Barton, Columbia; and Jerry Leonard, Frank St., thirty years; William H. Ament and Mrs. Edna Kepple, N. Barbara St., twenty-five years; A Roy Breneman, Neffsville; Mrs. Ethelyn Van L. Brown, Lancaster; Robert E. Keener, West Donegal St.; Albert F. Keller, Columbia Rd.; Charles A. Lenkart, Lemoyne; Mark H. Mumma, West Main St.; Peter R. Shirk, Ephrata; Miss Inella H. Witmer, David St.; fifteen yrs.; Clarence Auker, Mt. Joy Rd.; James C. Bromwell, Wilmington; Vincent G. Simmons, Wilmington; and Ivan R. Wert, Jr. of York, ten years of service.

Following the presentation, the group stood in a moment of silence for two employees who passed away during the past year, Clarence Schock, former president of the company who died May 30, 1955; and John B. Nelson of the Wilmington Terminal, who died on June 27th, 1955.

Dr. Swope Speaks
Dr. Swope, who had only been named a director in the company since June, was the speaker of the evening. He gave a tribute to Clarence Schock which had been written by Dr. Biemsderfer in behalf of the board. Comments on Luther Burbank's experiments with plants were compared with life today by saying that everything that lives can get better if you put something into it. He also compared A. J. Cronin's persistent courage to SICO's in carrying on the company.

His speech was closed with the suggestion to everyone that he take time out to work, play, think, read, be friendly, dream, love and be loved, look around and laugh.

Nurse Speaks To Penna. Association

"Nurses of Pennsylvania are concentrating their efforts to help alleviate the serious problem of patient rehabilitation," says Martha C. Forejt, R. N. of Conneville, president of the Pennsylvania Nurses Association.

"In Pittsburgh at our 51st annual meeting, Oct. 18 through 21, more than 1,500 professional nurses will hear outstanding physicians and educators discuss many aspects of rehabilitation, including new theories and new practices," says Mrs. Forejt.

"Aware of their part in rehabilitation, nurses are constantly working to keep abreast of developments in this important field."

The twenty-seven districts of the professional nurses' organization will send delegates from every part of the state to the four-day series of meetings. Officers will be elected and plans made for the coming year's nursing activities in Pa. Highlight of the convention will be the annual banquet on Oct. 20 which will be attended by Gov. Leader and representatives of allied professional groups.

The 17,000 members of the nursing group compose the largest state nursing association in the country.
