

OWL LAFFS

BY A WISE OWL

Several years back a Mt. Joy R.D. man's barn had gone up in smoke, and his insurance agent was trying to explain that he couldn't collect cash for it. "Read the policy," the agent insisted. "All our company engages to do is build you another barn exactly like the one that's been destroyed."

The farmer, apoplectic with rage, thundered, "If that's the way you do business, cancel the policy on my wife before it's too late."

A friend of mine has a prescription for a hangover that he swears has never failed. "It's simplicity itself," he says. "Just squeeze the juice from a quart of Scotch."

You know, it's difficult to become a leader of men after you have been a follower of women for so long?

One of the fellows at the fire house asked Bill Enck who he'd like to be buried with.

"Bill quickly answered: 'My choice is Marilyn Monroe.'"

"But Marilyn Monroe isn't dead yet," pointed out the questioner.

"I know," was the answer. "Neither am I." - So what?

I don't believe I ever told it to anyone before. "I met my wife at a travel bureau. She was looking for a vacation and I was the last resort."

Our pressman, Jerry, was telling "Bud Berrier" that paper can be used to keep people warm.

Bud: "Don't I know it? The last report card I took home kept my father hot for a week"

"See here young fellow," said a local township justice of the peace. "I want you to know you can't commit perjury in this here court."

"But I didn't lie to you sir," said the defendant.

"Yer did too," cried the JP. "you just this minute told me ya only had one brother and ya sister here claims she's got two!" - - - - - No, it wasn't Henry!

If you think my wife isn't very dominating, why let me correct you. "She writes her diary a week ahead."

A Donegal High School Junior rushed home from school and told his Dad that he got his first part in a play. He said: "I play the part of a man who has been married 20 years."

His father not to pleased, remarked: "Well, my son, that's a start. Keep trying and one of these days you'll get a speaking part."

A dear little old lady from out west came to visit her son here in town and found a lad of five in sole possession of the house, playing with his toy train. "You don't know me," said the old lady, "but I'm your grandmother - on your father's side." Without looking up from his train, the lad replied, "I'll tell you right now: you're on the wrong side." - - - How smart can they get?

I fell on Detwiler Avenue said his garden was such a success this year, that his neighbor's chickens took first prize at the poultry show."

While playing golf at Lancaster, some time ago, Officer Neiss was complaining to his caddy that he thought it was a terrible course.

His face got red when the caddy said: "Please sir, we left the golf course over an hour ago."

Red Cross Sponsors Training Course

Representatives of church congregations in the Mount Joy and Elizabethtown area of Lancaster County attended a training course concerning the operation of emergency mass care centers at the Elizabethtown Lutheran Church, East High St., Elizabethtown, last night.

This training course and others in the county are being sponsored by the Lancaster Co. Chapter, American Red Cross, and the Lancaster County Civil Defense. Taught by Lancaster County women who have been trained and authorized as instructors, the class began at 7 p. m. and continued until 10 p. m.

In charge of the sessions were Mrs. Robert Hoffmaster of Mt. Joy and Mrs. Wayne Aungst of Elizabethtown. The women were authorized as instructors by Mrs. Gweneth Zarfoss, Coordinator of Emergency Welfare Service for the State Council of Civil Defense, as a result of a training session for instructors at the local Red Cross earlier this month.

The training course taught church representatives how to operate mass care centers in churches in the city, and county in the event of an enemy-caused disaster or a natural disaster such as a hurricane or flood. The church representatives at the Wednesday night session are now responsible for making emergency mass care center arrangements in their own churches. For the Wednesday night meeting church leaders had been asked to appoint a committee of at least five women and one man to undergo training.
