Pointers On Ordering Shrubby By Mail

Postmaster Elmer L. Zerphrey advised Mount Joy home gardener today that for the safest mail delivery of their shrubbery and plants during the current Fall planting season they should take certain steps to aid postal authorities.

"We have been informed by the Gardening Council of New York that this is the shipping season for nursery stock orders," Zerphrey said. "Much of the stock is perishable, and without the co-operation of the purchasers, and delivering agencies, best results cannot be expected."

Zerphrey said there were three steps that purchasers of nursery stock should take:

1. If away or on vacation, make arrangements to have a neighbor accept shipment. Keep moist and in a cool location until planting time. Otherwise, the plants may be damaged in storage at the Post Office or Express Station.

2. If a neighbor cannot accept delivery, contact Post Office, and leave instructions as to where the plants can be delivered. A cool basement, garage, or shaded porch is always better than a mail room for storage of dormant plants.

3. Best of all, if you are at home, have the ground well prepared, and make your planting as soon as possible after delivery. Early planting, liberal watering, and following the sender's instructions will insure best growth of all plant materials.
