CHRISTMAS RUSH REACHING PEAK AT POST OFFICE

Postmaster Elmer L. Zerphoy said today that the annual flood of out-going Christmas cards and gifts is reaching its peak and coupled with the tons of incoming Christmas mail it looks like this Christmas season will break all records. You can help ease the pressure by visiting the Post Office before 10:00 a. m. or between 1:30 and 3:30 p. m. to mail your Christmas packages. For distant points use air parcel post and be sure to put first-class postage on all of your Christmas cards. Use sturdy cartons, heavy wrapping paper and plenty of strong cord to insure safe arrival of your gift packages. Address all packages and cards accurately and clearly including postal zone numbers when possible. Be sure that stamps are firmly attached. Beginning December 15 service at stamp windows at the Post Office will be open from 7 a. m. until 6 p. m. including Saturdays. Let's all "Mail early for Christmas" to make it a Merrier Christmas.

Checking the progress on his "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign, Postmaster Zerphoy predicted today that the 1955 pre-holiday season will be a real record breaker as he noted the mounting flood of Christmas cards and gift packages.

"Last year we handled a total of 205,000 pieces of mail between Dec. 1 and the 25th. This year we have already received and sent 25,000 cards, letters and packages, and the real rush is just starting, as of Dec 10th.
