

OWL LAFFS

BY A WISE OWL

Last week one day Ruth Kaylor, notified her husband that she had an appointment at the Beauty Parlor - - - and "Les" being too busy, had a couple of his cohorts take her to the Beauty Parlor in his car. - - - After several hours, Ruth called "Les" and told him to send someone for her, that she was finished. - - - And "Les" did just that - - - but, he he told the fellow to go to the Doctor's Office for her instead of the Beauty Shoppe - - - and he did, and after waiting for over a half hour, he went into the Doc's office and discovered that Ruth wasn't and had not been there - - - in the meantime, Ruth was still waiting for her chauffeur, and became impatient, and walked home in the snow. - - - If you never heard fireworks at Eastertime you should have been in the vicinity of Kaylor's Restaurant!!!

The other evening a couple of fellows stopped at Pete's Tavern on North Jacob Street, and got him out of bed to have a couple of drinks. Pete being a little tired that evening, closed early and retired, but hearing the knock on the door he awakened, dressed, and opened up for the gents. - - - For quite some time after that Pete kept complaining that his one "feet" was cold, and when it was time to close and Pete was going up stairs, he discovered he had only put a shoe and stocking on the one foot - - - the other was bare!!!

"Fluss" Herr was telling the fellows over at the fire house one of his hunting experiences: He said: "One day I was wandering through the woods when all of a sudden I came face to face with a black bear - at least seven feet tall. My gun jammed; I was defenseless. There was only one thing to do - I whipped out a flask of water and hurled the contents in the bear's face. Fortunately, he turned and ran."

"Really?" said "Jetter" Grove, who hunts with the same camp. "Then that explains it. It happens I, too was in the same section that day. I was walking thru the woods when I came across a bear exactly like the one you just described. Since I already had shot one that season, I slapped his face a couple of times to scare him away. And I just couldn't figure out why my hand got so wet."

Throat specialists say smoking makes women's voices harsh. - - - If you don't agree, just try flicking your ashes on the rug.

Last week one day a friend of Joe Detwiler's, the West Ward barber, asked him for a five dollar loan. Joe started to reach for his wallet, then stopped.

"Can't do it," he said. "I forgot about my agreement with the bank down the street. "What agreement?" said his friend.

"Well, it's this way. I agreed not to make loans, and they agreed not to cut hair." - - - And it worked!

Earl Miller says: "The best exercise for reducing is to move the head slowly from side to side when offered a second helping."

And don't forget: horse-sense, friends, is the thing a horse has that keeps him from betting on people.

HARRISBURG ROUND-UP

By Pennsylvania News Service

Harrisburg - In his second monthly press conference for Pennsylvania's weekly newspapers Governor Leader during the past week expressed the belief that the general public in Pennsylvania would have little liking for the new three percent sales tax now in effect, asserted that his administration was moving full speed ahead on Pennsylvania's stream clearance program, called for enactment of the administration's highway program now tied up in the Legislature, indicated tourist travel would be highly encouraged during his tenure as Governor, and looked hopefully to the $5 million industrial development program now going through the Legislature as becoming a strong assist to hard-pressed areas.

The State Dept. of Revenue said this week that with the 1956 auto tag deadline passed during the past week end, better than 2,750,000 new registration tags have now been passed out, with chances good that ultimate registration figures will reach the 3,000,000 mark. In the closing days of deadline issuance, tags were being processed at a rate of about 100,000 more a day than previously.

A strong plea to Congress to provide funds for gypsy moth eradication was made during the past week by Penna. Secretary of Agriculture William L. Henning, who warned that unless steps are taken to combat the pest Pennsylvania is threatened with a statewide infestation. Already in Pennsylvania in isolated areas, it has been controlled fairly well so far - but neighboring states pose a serious threat.

The State Department of Revenue warned this week that business firms in Pennsylvania responsible for collection of the new three per cent sales tax must be registered with the

Another batch of 52,533 doses of salk polio vaccine have been sent throughout the state by the Department of Health for use in the polio vaccination program, raising to 285,167 the total number of doses moved during the past month.
