Your Church Symbolizes A Wholesome Philophopy — A Gracious And Commendable Way Of Life.

Your Church is The Greatest Force For Good

There is something inspiring, something majestic about a church that at once sets it apart from other buildings.

Your sense, as you enter its restful confines, that no other institution ever evolved by man, through Providence, holds so great a force for good.

Although the church is a human institution, insofar as membership and organization are concerned, and therefore not perfect, it is a very good place to frequent. Men do not go there to fight, to rob or to harm. Here you will be inspired, comforted and imbued with that most commendable of all virtues: Charity for all; malice toward none.

With the aim of fostering that which is good in family and community spirit this message is contributed to the religious life of the Community by the following:
