Carey W. Barber, district supervisor and featured speaker, declared, "Men have gone to many sources, including stargazing and spiritism, but have failed to consult God on world affairs."

Youth Caravan Visits Landisville
Landisville - Salunga - A team of Youth Caravaners were guests of the Zion Lutheran Church, Landisville, last week. The young people are traveling for the Luther League of America, the official youth auxiliary of the United Lutheran Church in America, with headquarters in Philadelphia. The caravan team is composed of Allean Korthof, Minneapolis, Minnesota; Tom Williams, of Marcelline, Missouri; Nelle Mauney, Spindale, North Carolina; and Diane Nygard, Sunnyside, Washington. The Caravan program is designed to assist congregational youth groups with their total program including topic presentations, devotional services, service projects, recreational and fellowship sessions.

TIME AND PLACE FOR REFLECTION

When one stands before a scenic wonder such as the Lower Falls at Yellowstone National Park he is struck with awe and with the grandeur and beauty of it all. If men, all men, could stand in the presence of such an inspiring sight for a few moments each day, relax and reflect upon the Creator's handiwork perhaps their minds and hearts would be purged of greed, of hate and the wars they bring would be as obsolete as witchcraft in a modern nation. Comparatively few of us have this opportunity, however, there are places where we can view the handiwork of the Creator each day and there are places where we may go to reflect. Your church is such a place. Use it often! Use it when services are in progress and other times of stress when the mind and the heart are troubled. Within the silence of your church is a good place for reflection.

With the aim of fostering that which is good in family and community spirit this message is contributed to the religious life of the Community by the following:
