"BUS STOP" STARTS THURS. AT GRETTA

Charles F. Coghlan is observing his 12th season as director and co-producer of Gretna Playhouse which will be showing the famous Broadway hit, "Bus Stop", starting Thursday for a week's run. Gene P. Otto co-produces.

Coghlan has had a great deal of experience directing road companies of Broadway successes. He also has been director of many winter and summer stock companies. A member of the famous Coghlan acting family, he enjoyed a career of stage and screen acting. He has been responsible for the direction of the many Gretna Playhouse hits and for introducing well-known actors to local audiences, including Charlton Heston, Mable Taliaferro and Jay Robinson. "Bus Stop" is his 143rd Gretna production.

The William Inge play ran for more than a year on Broadway and had a cast which included Kim Stanley, Elaine Stritch, Albert Salmi and Anthony Ross. Inge also wrote "Picnic" and "Come Back, Little Sheba."

At Gretna the leading roles will be played by Jackson Young, a high-spirited cowboy, and Teresa Du Haime, a girl from the Ozarks who sings in a cafe. Others in the cast are Margaret Croyden, restaurant owner; Gene Galvin, sheriff; Frank Hamerton, college professor; John Main, the cowboy's best friend; Mary Ruth Martin, waitress; George Curley, bus driver. The set designer is Robert DeMora.

Fifteen players and six chaperons made the trip to Baltimore to see the Baltimore team play Detroit. Chaperons and drivers were Mr. Kunkle, Charles Etsell, James Pennell, Bruce Pennell, Elmer Brown, and Michael Longenecker.

One of the highlights of the day was the meeting of George Kell, Baltimore third baseman. He talked to the local players personally prior to the start of the game. After the local group arrived in Baltimore, they ate their picnic lunch on the lawn of a high school adjacent to the ball park.

During the game, another highlight for the boys was the "consuming of food". Mr. Kunkle commented on the gracious hospitality showed them by the management of the Baltimore ball park.
