O Thou Eternal God, Master of All Good Workmen, for this new day with its new tasks and its new opportunities for faithful effort,

I thank Thee.
With the fled past and the uncertain future I can now do nothing; today alone Thou givest me to shape and mould, while yet I can, into an epitome of that complete life to which I aspire. (A Morning Prayer by Clarence Poe.)

TIME IS VALUABLE, DON'T WASTE IT!

Perhaps it would be well if each of us had an hourglass placed where we could see it throughout the day. For the hourglass seems to be the best reminder that time is fleeting—a much better reminder than the clock. It might be that this forceful reminder of the passing of time would spur us into doing the things we know should be done but keep putting off. We intend to visit a "shut-in", write to that boy overseas, reply to a letter that has given us comfort. Then there is the matter of attending church. We want to start going but just don't get around to it. We "love" to go to church but have just gotten out of the habit. There is the church where friendly members have invited us time and again and the pastor is "mighty fine."
If you can't get an hourglass perhaps the above picture would serve. Place it where you will be reminded to go to church—and then do something about it!

With the aim of fostering that which is good in family and community spirit this message is contributed to the religious life of the Community by the following:
