

The Mount Joy

BULLETIN

FIFTY-SIXTH YEAR, NO. 19

MOUNT JOY, PA., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1956

SEVEN CENTS PER COPY

Plans Being Completed For Transfer Of Bulletin

BY LARMON D. SMITH

Details were being completed this week for the transfer of ownership of the Mount Joy Bulletin to Richard A. Rainbolt, Indiana newspaperman, from Larmon D. Smith, editor and publisher of the Bulletin for the past three and one-half years.

Announcement of transfer of ownership of the Mount Joy Bulletin stirs mixed emotions.

It has been a privilege to serve in this community as editor and publisher. The folks have been kind, helpful, understanding and, on many occasions, tolerant of our shortcomings. For these reasons, and many others, the change is being made with some reluctance.

However, it is gratifying to know that the editorial reins will be in good hands. Richard A. Rainbolt, the new owner, is a capable newspaper man with a sound background based on many years' experience. For the past 10 years he has guided The Delphi Journal, a strong Indiana newspaper. Prior to that he was sports editor of The Kokomo (Ind.) Tribune, and served as a reporter at Bloomington and Bedford, Ind.

Mrs. Rainbolt also brings newspaper experience with her, having served as society editor on two Indiana newspapers prior to her marriage. Three lovely daughters, Nancy, 15, Martha, 13, and Elizabeth, four years old, complete the family, all of whom are anxious to become an active part of the community.

The Smith family expects to remain in Mount Joy for the present. To the Rainbolts, may we wish: Success and happiness, and may we comment as we have many times:

"Mount Joy is a good place to live and do business."

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE

A personal experience this week brings home forcefully one of the basic differences between your hometown newspaper and the outside newshawks who are interested in the communities they reach primarily for the circulation they can build in those communities.

The Lancaster newspapers scooped the Bulletin by publishing on Tuesday night and Wednesday morning this story regarding the change of ownership. They did this despite the fact that the deal had not been completed at that time and despite the fact that they were told final arrangements had not been completed.

There have been numerous stories that The Bulletin has kept under wraps until ALL the facts were available. Hometown newspapers just do things that way, they respect the rights of the individual—they aren't so anxious for a scoop that they'll jump the gun and print stories before they have actually happened.

Your hometown editor is far more interested in what is best for his community and the people in it than he is in a news scoop.

The New Era also chose to put words in my mouth on a subject that was not even discussed. Quoting The New Era: "... Its (The Bulletin) editorial policy is Republican, Smith said, and will not change under the new ownership."

Now, I'm proud to be labeled a Republican, and, in fact, am so registered and have written a number of editorials supporting President Eisenhower. However, it has long been my belief that a newspaper can best serve from an independent viewpoint and that an editor, when he supports candidates, should do so on the basis of their individual qualifications not on strict party lines. Also, it would be quite presumptuous for me to attempt to set the editorial policy of my successor.

Until Friday, October 26, 1956, Larmon D. Smith is editor and publisher of The Bulletin regardless of stories you may have read in the Lancaster newspapers.

RICHARD A. RAINBOLT

Mr. Rainbolt will take over his duties as editor and publisher immediately.

The new owner of The Bulletin is a native of southern Indiana, with rural urban background. He is a graduate of Indiana State University at Bloomington, with a degree in psychology and journalism. At the outset of his newspaper career he was a reporter on the Bloomington Telephone and the Bedford Times, southern Indiana dailies. For six years following that, he was sports editor of the Kokomo Tribune, metropolitan daily in northern Indiana. Ten years ago he purchased a half interest in the Delphi Journal, strong northern Indiana weekly. James and served as editor and publisher of that paper until coming to Mount Joy a short time ago to purchase The Bulletin.

Mr. Rainbolt has been active in community affairs, serving as president of the Delphi Rotary club, Chamber of Commerce director and treasurer, Republican party chairman, and officer in numerous civic organizations. He is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha, collegiate social fraternity, and has participated in activities of the Hoosier State Press Association and the Indiana Republican Editorial Association.

He also was a member of the county election board, secretary of the Delphi Recreation commission, and while serving as sports editor of the Kokomo Tribune was one of the organizers of the Indiana Sports Writers and Broadcasters Association. Mrs. Rainbolt also is a graduate of Indiana University with a degree in journalism, served as society editor of two southern Indiana dailies before her marriage and has contributed occasional feature stories to the Indianapolis Star Sunday magazine section. She is a member of Sigma Kappa collegiate social sorority, and Kappa Kappa, Indiana philanthropic and social organization, of which she was state public relations officer for two years.

The Rainbolt family also includes three daughters: Nancy, 15, in the 11th grade at Donegal high school; Martha, 13, in the eighth grade at Donegal, and Elizabeth Ann, four years old. The family belongs to the Presbyterian church. They plan to buy a home in Mount Joy as soon as a suitable one can be found.

NISSLEY'S OBSERVE 51ST ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Christian L. Nissley, 225 Marietta Avenue are celebrating their fifty-first wedding anniversary today (Oct. 25). The couple has four daughters; Kathryn, wife of Paul Erb, Mount Joy R2; Dorothy, wife of Linn Milligan, West Donegal Street; Marian, wife of John Toppin, South Market and Janet, wife of Lee Steison, of Dallas, Texas. They also have 12 grandchildren.

WINS TOY AUTO
Abram Zimmerman, Mount Joy R1, was the winner of the toy Corvette awarded by the Newcomer Motors, Inc. at the completion of the drop-in Sunday afternoon drop-in drop-in showing of the new Chevrolet.

FLORIN RESIDENT IS NINETY-THREE

William E. Derr, the oldest resident of Florin, observed his ninety-third birthday on Sunday, Oct. 21st. Mr. Derr, who resides with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Wirtel, Florin, is still in good health.

Born near Falmouth, he has spent most of his life farming sons; George, Lancaster, and in the Florin area. Later he worked in a Florin tobacco warehouse and retired about six years ago. In addition to his daughter, he has two sons; George, Lancaster, and in the Florin area. Later he worked in a Florin tobacco warehouse and retired about six years ago. In addition to his daughter, he has two sons; George, Lancaster, and in the Florin area. Later he worked in a Florin tobacco warehouse and retired about six years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Eby, 318 North ... were the guests of the drop-in Sunday afternoon drop-in drop-in showing of the new Chevrolet.

HALLOWEEN PARADE WEDNESDAY

Route To Exclude Main Street

Mount Joy's Halloween parade will be held Halloween night, next Wednesday with a route which does not include "muddy" Main Street. The route of the parade will be from Columbia Avenue to Delta Street to West Donegal Street to New Haven Street to Marietta Ave. to Poplar Street to the local elementary school.

The first division which includes children in kindergarten through fifth grade will form on Columbia Ave. at the intersection of South Barbara Street. The second division which includes children from sixth grade through high school age will form on South Barbara St. between Columbia Avenue and New Street. The third division which includes anyone not of school age and will form on New Street, just east of South Barbara Street.

The local Lions Club, sponsors of the parade, announce a change in the awarding of cash prizes for the first division. Instead of awarding only nine prizes in the first division, the club will give (40) one dollar prizes to outstanding entries in the first division for children of kindergarten through fifth grades.

In the second and third divisions, prizes of $5, $3, and $2 will be offered in each classification of most original, most comical and fanciest. In the fourth division a $10.00 prize and a $7.50 prize will be offered for the best float entries; $15 and $10 will be offered for non-parade musical groups; $10 and $5 for the fanciest or most original groups of three or more; for couples, $7.50 and $5.00 for the most comical and $7.50 and $5.00 for the fanciest.

Prizes will be awarded in the auditorium of the high school immediately following the parade. To Seek Light
Members of the parade committee will canvass the streets on which the parade will march and ask the residents to help with the lighting situation. Since the parade will not be held on Main Street, the cooperation of the residents along the line of march is necessary for extra lighting.

The members of the club will conduct their canvass on Monday night to ask for the needed lights.

The parade will form at 6:30 and move at 7:00 p.m.

Bands Named
The Donegal High School band will lead the parade. The Bainbridge Town band will lead the second division; the Mount Joy Elementary band, the third division; and the Elizabethtown high school band, the fourth division. John Weidman will be the marcher for the first division; William Batzel, the second division; Arthur Sprecher, the third division and Joseph Taylor, the fourth division. James Spangler is general chairman of the parade.

FARM SOLD
The Andrew Heckman property, a small farm north of Mount Joy has been sold. The purchaser was Raymond Herr, Mount Joy R2. The Auctioneer was Jacob Ruhl, of Manheim.

Physician On Call
Sunday
Dr. Newton Kendig

Miss Jean Mumma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Mumma, West Donegal Street and Gary Zeller, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Zeller, Pinkerton Road, were elected the 1956 Halloween queen and king.

Following a new policy adopted at the school, the annual Halloween king and queen are members of the junior class of Donegal High School. The two will reign over the Halloween event's next Wednesday in the community. They will ride in convertibles at the beginning of the parade.

Over 2,040 Items Given To Needlework Guild

Over 2,040 items were received at the annual in-gath-NEW CAR LOT of the Mount Joy A new used car lot is being built by Norman Heisey, Branch of the Needleworking Guild at East Main Street. Mr. Heisey the local Methodist Church, will have the lot on the south side of Main Street east of the former Jamesway building.

These garments were distributed to needy families in the vicinity, hospitals, orphanages and church homes Wednesday. This total is an increase over last year's number and is the largest amount ever received by the local branch.

A display of 127 garments given by the various Girl Scout troops was shown at the church with the other items on Tuesday. Many of the items were handmade by the Scouts. Louis May, of Lancaster, presented a memorial in tribute to the late Mrs. George Brown, II who was a charter member of the group.

Mrs. Nathaniel Knowles of Littlestown, Penna. was the guest speaker. She gave a report on the national convention which was held in Columbus, Ohio. A tea was served to the directors and members of the guild in conjunction with the program of ingathering. Officers of the group are Mrs. Simeon Horton, president; Mrs. Frank Young, Sr., vice president; Mrs. Samuel Balsbaugh, secretary; Mrs. William Brian, secretary; and Mrs. Melvin Weaver, treasurer.

The group planned a cupcake sale for Friday, November 2, to be held at the Roberts Electrical Store. Cupcakes will be made and sold at the store beginning at 10:30 a.m.

The Mount Joy branch was organized in 1920. The local money, service to others and branch is the only one near Lancaster which hasn't been a section of the city branch.

STUDENT OF MONTH—Marcie Portner and Glenn Funk, Linda Fellenbaum Mrs. Leroy Kaylor is being honored by the Mount Joy Salerno and Ben Groff, and Rotary Club as Student of the Month. Leroy is a member of Senior Class, Donegal High School.

Homemakers United Nations Group Reorganizes Contest Winners Are Named Purchase Projector

Mrs. John Hershey was elected president of the Mount Joy Homemaker in the United Nations con-Mount Joy Borough Elementary School at which is sponsored by the Home Association it was the home of Mrs. Charles Mount Joy Rotary Club. Following preliminary tests, meeting of the group. The contest winners were named the winners of the contest. Mrs. Charles Eby, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Earl Swarr, news reporter. During the first meeting the winners following the laundry supplies. Prior to Joseph Shaeffer, C. A. S. Hollinger and Miss Catharine Zeller. The Rev. E. M. Moyer was moderator for the panel. The eight finalists were Mrs. Donmuth, Kenneth Wittke, James Nissley, Mr. Kaylor and Mr. Applpy. For their discussion the seniors spoke on current events and the special program discussed was the Suez Canal situation. Mr. Zeller was named runner-up to the winners.

For their prize, the two will be taken to the United Nations in New York by the members of the sponsoring group in the near future.

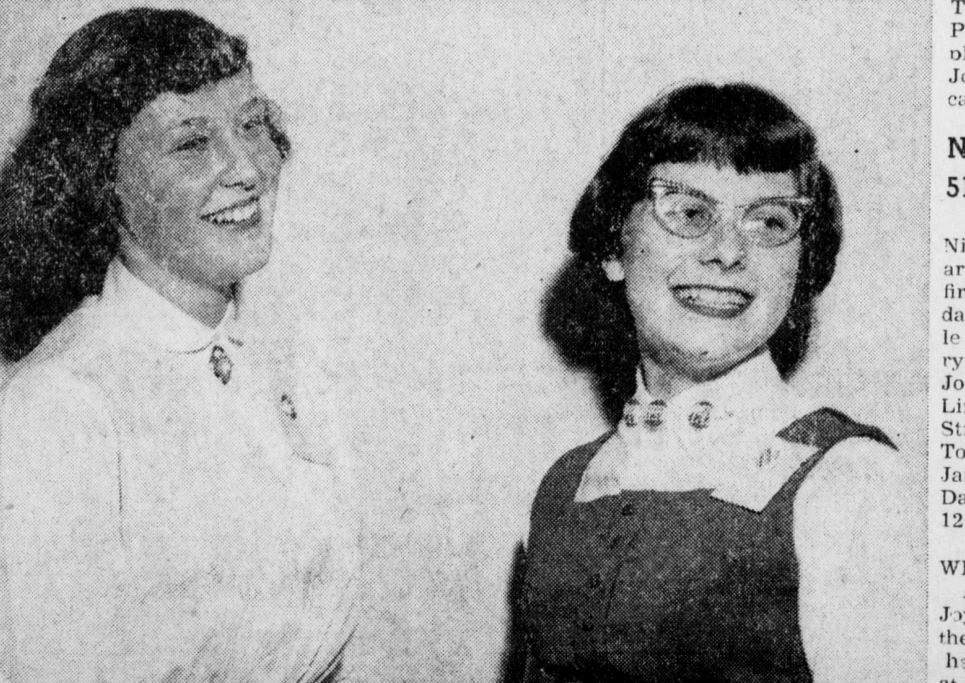

Young Folks Plan 'Trick, Treat' Drive

Why not celebrate Halloween differently this year? For the second year, Mount Joy-Florin Youth Council is sponsoring the "Trick or Treat" Halloween. This collection will be held Monday, Oct. 29. Instead of asking for apples, candy, etc., the young people will ask for a money donation for the United Nations International Childrens Relief Fund. There will be thousands of Halloween collectors all over the county collecting for this "Trick or Treat" campaign.

Local Girls Win Honors In Area Contest

A 16-year-old Donegal High School junior from Mt. Joy R. D. 1 was selected "Ike Girl" of the northwest district last Thursday night. Chosen was Miss Nancy Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larmon D. Smith. She is a blue-eyed brunette. Judging was held in Elizabethtown.

Runner-up was Miss Susan Fellenbaum, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis H. Fellenbaum, 27 Poplar Street, Mt. Joy. A graduate of Donegal High School, she's employed by Dr. H. K. Cooper, Lancaster dentist as a dental laboratory assistant. Judges for the contest were Verne Myrland, Mrs. Nancy used as a means of identification. The collection will start at 6:00 p.m. and will continue until 8:00 p.m.

Miss Susan Fellenbaum, left, runner-up, and Miss Mary Smith, right, winner, in northwest district 'Ike Girl' contest.

Jeff Coats Addresses Rotary Club

Mount Joy Rotarians Tuesday noon heard a stimulating talk by Jeff Coats, president of the Professional Sales Training Company of Akron, Pa. Subject of the address was "Learn How to Live and Selling Is Easy."

Mr. Coats pointed out that the secret of success lies in the development of proper attitudes. He stated that there are two kinds of education: the one which teaches how to make a living, and the other which teaches how to live. The speaker emphasized that the ability to make a living means little without knowing how to live.

As cardinal principles for learning how to live, Mr. Coats stressed man's need for faith, hope and confidence. He said that a man must come to know himself. He urged a minimum of one hour a day, preferably early in the morning, for meditation and prayer.

TEEN DANCE SATURDAY NIGHT

There will be another in the series of record hops Saturday night, October 27. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. Bring all your favorite records and come prepared for a good time. At the last teen dance, winners of spot dances were: Marcie Portner and Glenn Funk, Linda Fellenbaum Mrs. Leroy Kaylor is being honored by the Mount Joy Salerno and Ben Groff, and Rotary Club as Student of the Month. Leroy is a member of Senior Class, Donegal High School.