

Legion Gets Additional Hospital Equipment

Senior Play To Be Shown This Week

"Wedding Spells", a farce in three acts, written by James F. Stone, and published by the Dramatic Publishing Company of Chicago, will be produced by the Donegal senior class this Friday and Saturday evenings, 8:00 p. m. in the Donegal High School Auditorium.

The action begins when Steve, played by Ronal Gwalt, returns to his apartment in New York City, a married man, but without his wife, Charlie Cooney, Steve's best friend, played by Doug las Fish, will display humorous antics as he unveils his plan to find the missing bride. Reeves, the butler, played by Jacob Zeller, is astounded by these antics of Charlie, as well as Mrs. Pettigill, played by Barbara Thome, a widow, who is after a man—any man!

The mystery is provided by the strange actions of a little girl played by Judy Naugle, the perambulating grandfather's clock, the actions of Angela Wayne, played by Nancy Diller, Frances Brown, played by Ronni Reese, Niki Murphy, played by Sandy Reisinger, and Ruth Auburn, played by Elaine Showalter. The remainder of the cast includes JoAnne Stehman, Billy's Mother, Kenneth Wittie, a dumb cop, and Sigbee Sullivan, played by James Nisley.

The senior class of Donegal wishes to invite the readers of the Bulletin to come to Donegal to watch how Steve and Charlie squirm out of their predicaments and finally find the one girl Steve loves, his wife.

The play is under the direction of H. Martin Shenk and two student directors, Miss Mary Ann Felty and Kenneth Appley.

ATTENDING CONFERENCE

Three local bankers are attending a two-day conference in York. E. M. Bomberger and Glenn Y. Forney of the First National Bank and Trust Company and Carl S. Krall of the Union National Bank are attending the Pennsylvania Bankers Association Lending Conference at the Hotel Yorktowne yesterday and today. LOCAL GIRL WINS MEDAL IN 4-H AWARDS PROGRAM

One local girl was among six Lancaster County 4-H Club members who have been awarded medals as county winners of the National 4-H Awards Program in Pennsylvania it was announced. Miss Miriam Roland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Roland, Mount Joy R1, was named the winner of the Recreation and Rural Arts medal. She and the other five are now eligible for state awards and state winners will compete for national awards in the program.

Not only is Miss Roland this year's winner, but she was named in last year's achievement program in the same category. The purpose of the National Awards Program is to develop leadership and help achieve the broad 4-H objectives of character and effective citizenship as well as teaching the skills and knowledge of the specific project in which the award is earned.

ATTEND CONFERENCE

Barbara Thome, Kenneth Appley, Paula Weien and Joseph Grable, students at Donegal High, attended a Teenage Safety Conference, Tuesday, at Millersville State Teachers College. The four were accompanied by Marshall Gemberling and Ragner Hallgren, faculty members. Barbara was chosen to take part in a panel discussion on how to encourage better student interest in safety education. Mr. Hallgren was adviser for the panel.

We Give Thanks

For freedom, for plenty, for all the blessings of home and family, we say a prayer of gratitude on this Thanksgiving Day. As we celebrate with the traditional feast, we are grateful, too, for many other American traditions . . . and for the privilege of all to work, plan and save for a bountiful future.
